IMPENDING LOSS OF DOLLAR RULE ROILS PRESIDENT

House Expected to Back Up Senate.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 27.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt, speaking from his home in Hyde Park, N. Y., struck back today at the senate which has taken action to wrest from him his power over the dollar.

While the President vented his wrath in a press conference, administration supporters were making an effort to save some vestige at least of his monetary power. It was believed in many quarters that the President's money dictatorship will end at midnight Friday, the close of the fiscal year.

Battle Brought to Head.

A major battle in congress between staunch New Dealers on one side and conservative Democrats and Republicans on the other was brought to a head yesterday by the senate's sudden decision to abolish Mr. Roosevelt's power to further devalue the dollar from 59.06 per cent down to 50 per cent of its former value.

The fight took on added political significance by further widening the schism between anti-administration Democrats and their pro-administration party brethren.

[The United States treasury also took surprising action yesterday by cutting the price paid for foreign silver from 43 to 40 cents an ounce. Details in market section.]

In his conference at Hyde Park, the President, in clipped syllables, denied flatly that he had any intention of exercising his fading power to devalue the dollar but insisted the right should be lodged with him because it might prove important during a national or international crisis. He set at 10 to 1 the betting odds against further devaluation.

Shows Fear of Defeat.

The President asserted that the senate action was not final by any means. He referred to approval by the house of extention of his monetary powers which, in the face of senate disapproval, forces the measure into conference. His manner indicated, however, that he has little hope the conference will bring a return of the power he covets.

He accused the coalition of silver bloc New Dealers, conservative Democrats, and Republicans of returning the control of international exchange to Wall street from the treasury. Control is going back to the hands of bankers, he said, who profited in 1930 and 1931 by international currency manipulation which cost Americans hundreds of millions of dollars.

In presenting a long history of dollar devaluation, Mr. Roosevelt cited dates and facts which he apparently had reviewed for the press conference.

What President Said.

White House rules forbid direct quotation of the President's discourse on dollar devaluation, because ordinarily he speaks extemporaneously. However, the essence of what he said, leaving out repetitions, was:

The easiest way to put it is to go back in history. In 1931 there was great commotion and flurry in foreign exchange—the relationship of American currency to foreign currencies. The United States was terrifically hit at the time because there was an inflexible law governing its currency. Millions and millions of dollars were lost.

France and then Britain devalued their currencies. International speculators were able to turn the situation to their own advantage. The result was that international exchange jumped up and down like a jack-in-the-box.

Private speculators were the only ones making money and the internal economy of nations was being upset. Wall street was in control. The treasury had no control over the money of this country.

Effort to Adjust Currency.

In 1933 the New Deal made an effort to adjust currency to the changes that had taken place in other nations. The first step was to pay more for gold—the price was put up from $21 to $35 an ounce. The difficulty was that nations began bidding against each other for gold and an agreement was necessary to keep gold at the $35 level, which brought the 100 cent dollar to 59 cents.

To do that two other steps were necessary—to give the United States

POLICE STORM BARRICADE AND RESCUE WOMAN

3 Foiled in Break at Michigan City.

Indiana officials last night started an investigation to fix the responsibility for an attempted escape made yesterday by three convicts in the Michigan City state prison.

Warden Dowd.

The convicts seized a woman welfare worker as a hostage. They barricaded themselves in the office of the prison physician, held a knife to the woman's throat, and demanded their freedom, guns, and an automobile as the price of her life. Two hours later state police rushed the room, shot down the convicts, and rescued the woman.

Seven persons were wounded. One was the hostage, Mrs. Ruth Joiner, 25 years old, of Crawfordsville, Ind. The others were the rebellious convicts, a prison official, a guard, and a convict who made a futile effort to save Mrs. Joiner.

Hostage Shot in Shoulder.

She was the most seriously wounded—being shot in the right shoulder and chest—but it was expected that she would recover.

Warden Alfred E. Dowd said last night that he was determined to find out how two of the convicts who seized Mrs. Joiner had evaded supervision and entered the prison hospital when they were assigned to duties in other buildings. He also wanted to know how they obtained the knife and kept it hidden.

The kidnaping occurred at 11:45 a. m. A few minutes earlier eight visitors had entered the hospital from the main entrance at the west end of the building [see diagram on page 2]. This portal leads from the main street of the prison yard. Five of the visitors were women and three were men. All were connected with the welfare department, which has charge of parole matters in Indiana.

Knife Concealed Under Shirt.

None of the party paid any attention to two convicts who followed them from the prison street. The two were Richard Sweet, a kidnaper serving a life term, and Alphonse Skusewich, sentenced to life imprisonment for murder. Concealed under Sweet's shirt was the knife.

Some of the welfare workers stopped in a room on the right of the hospital corridor. Two, Mrs. Joiner and Mrs. Nina F. Jones of Crawfordsville, walked a little farther east. They were looking at an exhibit of X-ray pictures on the wall of the corridor when the loitering convicts seized them.

The women screamed. Mrs. Joiner, who weighs only 90 pounds, fought to get away. So did Mrs. Jones. From a room on the east side of the corridor ran two other convicts. One was Earl Niverson, serving a long term as a robber, an accomplice of Sweet and Skusewich. The other was Leroy Hunt, who joined the fight to assist the women.

Guard Slashed by Convict.

A little farther down the east-west corridor was a guard, Joseph Piotrowski. He dashed in, without a weapon, in an attempt to subdue Sweet. He succeeded in saving Mrs. Jones, although he was slashed on the neck and hands. But Skusewich and Niverson overpowered Mrs. Joiner and Hunt.

With their prisoners, the three desperados went down a side corridor leading north until they came to an alcove. A left turn put them in front of an alcove with a door leading into the office of the physician, Dr. Patrick Weeks. This office was empty.

The convicts went in and barricaded the alcove door. They also piled

LAW ENDS STATE AID FOR PENNSYLVANIANS WHO BALK AT JOBS

Harrisburg, Pa., June 27.—(AP)—A Pennsylvania law signed today by Arthur H. James, Republican governor, requires all able-bodied persons on relief to work for their state financial aid if jobs on local projects are available. The measure is effective immediately. Refusal to work, without sufficient reason, the law says, will mean removal from the relief rolls.

VOTE MEASURE FOR EXPELLING ALL ALIEN REDS

Washington, D. C., June 27.—(AP)—The house judiciary committee today approved new alien control legislation. Representative Emanuel Celler [D., N. Y.], chairman, said it might bar all immigration from Russia and lead to the expulsion of communist aliens already here.

One provision bars from the United States any alien who has been an anarchist, advocates overthrow of the United States government by force, or is associated with an organization which supports such a theory.

"This might mean that every person who applies from Russia is proscribed because all would be communist party members or would have to swear allegiance to the communist form of government," Celler said.

President Approves Bill to Train 95,000 Aviators

Washington, D. C., June 27.—(AP)—Legislation authorizing a start this fall on the training of 95,000 youthful air pilots for peace or war was approved today by President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y. The bill authorizes an outlay of $5,675,000 to teach flying to 15,000 young men in the next twelve months, and $7,000,000 annually to train 20,000 in each of the subsequent four years. Actual appropriations have not yet been voted, however.

Planes and flight training will be provided by the civilian aeronautics authority, the only expense to students being a $40 laboratory fee.

Odum, Ga., June 27.—(AP)—Twins Arlie and Charlie Fiveash were halted on a trafic charge. One was given a ticket. Both came to court. Said Arlie, "I got the ticket." Said Charlie, "But I was driving." The officers said they couldn't swear how it was. Said the judge, "Case dismissed."

98 Red Planes Shot Down, Jap Army Reports

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, June 27.—Tamsk, the most formidable soviet military air base in Outer Mongolia, was in flames this afternoon following a bombing raid by Japanese air planes, an army announcement said. Tamsk is located sixty-two miles south of Lake Bor on the Manchukuo-Outer Mongolia border.

The bombing of Tamsk followed on the heels of an aerial battle between an undisclosed number of Japanese planes and 200 soviet planes over the Lake Bor region. The fight lasted thirty minutes.

Report 98 Planes Shot Down.

The Japanese reported they shot down ninety-eight soviet planes. The battle was described here as the greatest in history. Japanese losses were not announced, the army merely admitting that three planes had not returned to their base.

The army announced that thirty soviet bombers on the ground were destroyed as were military establishments before the main soviet force rose to battle.

It charged that since June 18 soviet flyers have been bombing Manchukuan towns. The Japanese said that on June 22 they accepted the challenge, repulsing 145 soviet planes which flew thirty miles inside the Manchukuan border.

A Japanese dispatch from Hsinking, Manchukuo, said sixteen soviet planes were shot down late Monday in a battle between a Japanese air patrol and forty soviet planes about twenty-five miles southeast of Lake Bor.

Despite the Japanese aerial invasion of soviet dominated Mongolian territory Tokio officials do not expect it to develop into a war with Russia.

Soviet Version of Battle.

MOSCOW, June 27.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's version of a Japanese air raid on Mongolian territory near Tamsk was given in a communique by Tass, the official news agency, tonight. The statement said seven Japanese planes were shot down and six soviet-Mongolian planes were missing.

The communique said the Japanese-Manchukuo air force numbered about eighty fighters and thirty bombers. It added that two small houses in Bayin-Tumen were damaged by the bombardment and five persons were injured.

A PATROLMAN TAKES EVERYTHING IN STRIDE—EVEN CRYING BABIES

Kansas City, Mo., June 27.—(AP)—Early this morning Ed Cassidy and three other patrolmen were called to a rooming house where an intoxicated prowler was terrorizing residents with a revolver.

A woman, with two crying baby boys, said she had recognized the prowler. She volunteered to accompany the officers. She handed her babies to Cassidy, saying:

"You look after them until I get back."

A half hour later, after a fruitless search, the officers and the mother returned. They found Cassidy rocking back and forth in a chair, softly crooning "Rock-a-Bye Baby." One baby was asleep, the other's eyes were closing.

Newest nickname for Patrolman Cassidy—"Sandman."

3 BABY BUNNIES FIND HOME WITH DOG NAMED BOB

Three baby rabbits dined on milk from a medicine dropper yesterday and beamed upon their foster pop—an English springer spaniel named Bob. He had found them somewhere and brought them home one by one to the daughters of Fred Bennett, director of the Evanston police bureau of identification at 1506 Florence avenue, Evanston.

The girls, Virginia, 12 years old, and Phyllis, 16, have named them Cottontail I., Cottontail II., and Cottontail III. But there's no telling which is which, for they all look exactly alike.

Joseph Schreiber, ranch foreman, said in 20 years of ranching he never before had known of calf triplets.

$500,000 Note Fraud Against 3 Banks Bared

Search Chicago Hotels

Dr. James Monroe Smith, fugitive ex-president of Louisiana State university, was sought in Chicago last night. Louisiana state police told Chicago police Smith, wanted on a charge of embezzling a fortune in state funds, left Memphis for Chicago Monday morning on an Illinois Central train. He was accompanied by Mrs. Smith. The Smiths are reported traveling under the name of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Southern, and Smith is said to have $40,000 in cash in his wallet.

The message from the Louisiana police arrived too late for police to meet Smith's train, which arrived here Monday night. Sergts. Jerome Looney and James Condon of the hotel detail began a search of Chicago hotels, with hotel men coöperating in the search. Smith was also sought at brokerage houses, since Louisiana authorities say the trading firms have a fascination for him.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Baton Rouge, La., June 27.—Dr. James Monroe Smith, fugitive ex-president of Louisiana State university, was traced to Memphis, Tenn., tonight as Louisiana was rocked by a scandal involving more than $600,000 in university funds. He is wanted on a charge of embezzling $100,000 of state funds.

Authorities here were informed that Smith had fled to Memphis Sunday, spent the night in a hotel there under an assumed name, and had taken a train north Monday morning.

One theory was that he went to Chicago, where, authorities say, he had large trading accounts on the Chicago Board of Trade.

$350,000 Losses in Wheat.

The disappearance of Smith was followed by state officials' announcement that he was one of the nation's major traders in wheat. At one time, according to the amazing story now unfolding, he owned 3½ million bushels. Brokers say he has recently suffered losses aggregating $350,000.

Smith is said by Louisiana's Attorney General David M. Ellison to have financed his market operations with funds obtained from $500,000 in state bonds and notes that the university president issued without authorization. In addition, $118,000 in good bonds which should have been in the university's possession are missing.

When Smith and his wife fled Sunday afternoon Smith was believed to have been carrying $40,000 in cash.

Relative Tells of Flight.

The story of his flight was revealed for the first time tonight by the nephew of Smith's wife, J. Emory Adams.

Smith resigned Sunday just before the news of his fantastic dealings with university funds was made public by Gov. Richard W. Leche, who resigned and was succeeded as governor by Earl K. Long yesterday. Since no charge was immediately filed against him, Smith was under no restraint.

Adams said that he and another man took the Smiths by automobile the 400 miles to Memphis. The nephew denied that he knew where the Smiths went after that.

But officials learned the story of the hotel and the train departure from other sources. One story was that the Smiths had boarded an Illinois Central train.

A Former U. of C. Student.

Smith, a one time University of Chicago graduate student, was made

SUPERHIGHWAYS WIN FULL HOUSE COMMITTEE O. K.

Bills Put in Position to Pass Tomorrow.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—The house roads and bridges committee this afternoon voted, 21 to 12, in favor of passing Chicago's superhighway legislation. The bills will be on second reading, the amending stage, in the house tomorrow and probably will be advanced to third reading, the passage stage, for Thursday's calendar.

The committee voted unanimously to eliminate state money from provisions of the proposed legislation. This had been anticipated.

After adoption of agreed amendments the bills will authorize Chicago and Cook county each to issue $30,000,000 in notes, to be retired with their shares of gasoline tax revenues during the next twenty years.

Backers Agree on Change.

As the measures were passed by the senate on June 6, the state would have been authorized to issue $60,000,000 in such notes, half to be spent on Chicago's superhighways and half to be used in building secondary roads downstate. Backers have agreed to eliminate this feature.

A surprise amendment was introduced by Representative Everett R. Peters [R., St. Joseph], and received committee approval by a narrow vote—16 to 15. It would require Chicago and Cook county to file detailed plans of routes and rights of way with the state department of public works by March 1, 1940. This proposal provoked heated arguments.

The committee's recommendation that the amended bills be passed was a surprise in itself. The most optimistic proponents had expected only that the committee—consisting of eight downstate and eight Cook county representatives—would recall the measures from a subcommittee, where they had been buried last week, and that the bills would be returned to the floor of the house without recommendation.

G. O. P. Gets Behind Bills.

A Republican conference last midmight decided that the life saving measures should not be smothered in a committee controled by this party, since to do so might react against the Republicans in the 1940 political campaigns. Speaker Hugh W. Cross [R., Jerseyville] and Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago] supported this conclusion.

The announced purpose of the Peters amendment was to make the Chicago and Cook county administrations designate their construction program before the primaries next April.

"Otherwise," said Peters, "the Democratic politicians will withhold their program until after the fall elections, and will electioneer all next year with promises of superhighways everywhere anyone wants one."

Opposes Limits on Engineers.

Representative Arthur M. Kaindl [D., Chicago] protested that to force Chicago and Cook county to commit themselves to a definite construction program would restrict engineers from changing routes to avoid unexpected difficulties in right of way acquisition or to meet unforeseen changes in trafic demands.

"Road building in Chicago," added Representative Peter C. Granata [R., Chicago], "is not like it is downstate. The location of the superhighway routes won't be influenced by politics. The locations wouldn't influence votes one way or another."

When the downstaters rounded up a vote of 16 to 15 to approve the Peters amendment, Granata made a surprise motion that the committee recommend passage of the bills with the amendments.

Tomorrow, with the bills on second reading, the entire house will vote on the amendments. The only contested roll call is expected to be on the Peters proposal.

As for the vote, probably Thursday, on passage of the bills after they are amended, the proponents are optimistic since leaders of both parties, Chicagoans and downstaters, agree that the improvements are needed to reduce the massacre on Chicago streets.

STORM PRISON OFFICE; RESCUE WOMAN HOSTAGE

steel cabinets against a door leading to the room, on the north, of the doctor's clerk. Hunt was compelled to sit on the floor. Mrs. Joiner was placed in a chair. Then, with the knife pointed at her throat, she was compelled to telephone to Warden Dowd.

Woman's Life Threatened.

"They tell me," she said, "that they will kill me and themselves unless you give them guns, a car, and freedom."

"That's right," shouted Sweet. "It's her life or a pass for us. I'll be here the rest of my life and I'd just as soon go now—feet first unless you let us out."

The warden and his secretary, Ed Wetzel, played for time. They said they had to get the governor's approval for a deal to give the three convicts their freedom. They said they were calling the governor. The three convicts then demanded a machine gun. The warden delayed longer, telling them he was having one set up.

Meanwhile state police had been summoned. Fifty troopers converged on the prison. The warden went to the hospital. At the door of the doctor's office he demanded to see Mrs. Joiner in order to make sure she was unharmed.

He was allowed to view her through the partly open door. The knife still was at her throat.

"That woman," said Dowd, "is the mother of a little girl. Think of her."

"Think of her safety yourself," replied Sweet. "We're going to carry this thing through."

Soon the police were ready. They obtained stepladders and placed them under the windows of the doctor's office, which face the prison street. The signal to attack was given.

Gas Blinds Desperadoes.

Tear gas bombs were hurled into the room. Troopers climbed the ladders and poured rifle fire at the convicts. Guards hurled themselves against the corridor door.

Wetzel was the first to break in. A bullet ricocheted from the floor and struck his left leg. Mrs. Joiner was wounded twice. Hunt was shot in the back and Skusewich in the right forearm. Sweet and Niverson suffered slight scalp wounds.

The three desperadoes, blinded by the gas, marched out with hands aloft. Mrs. Joiner was unconscious and was taken to St. Anthony's hospital in Michigan City. Physicians said it might be necessary to amputate her right arm.

The three convicts were placed in solitary confinement.

"Sweet should have been at work in the receiving room of the prison," said Warden Dowd. "Skusewich should have been in the dining room. They had no business where they were, and I'll find out why and how they got there."

Plot Pre-Arranged, Says Warden.

Dowd added that he had striven to discourage women visitors, but had to bow to the wishes of the state welfare department. If any more come, he said, he probably would try to keep them out.

"This was a pre-arranged plot," he declared, "and we're going to get to the bottom of it. But it's always dangerous for women to come in here."

Sweet is 26 years old and was sentenced from Parke county in 1935. Skusewich is 20. He is serving two life terms for murder and two others of ten to 25 years for robbery. He and Niverson, in for a 10 to 25 year term for robbery, are from South Bend, Ind.

San Diego, Cal., June 27.—(AP)—Fifteen navy flying boats, long range patrol bombers, took off late today on a massed flight to Honolulu, 2,570 miles westward. Aboard were 105 officers and men. They expected to reach Honolulu within nineteen hours.

Diagram Story of Prison Revolt

Events in yesterday's outbreak at the Michigan City prison in Indiana, when three convicts attempted to escape by kidnaping a woman welfare worker, are described below, the numbers being keyed to the diagram above to show the chronology of the action:

1. Door leading from prison main street where party of eight welfare workers—five women and three men—entered hospital followed by two convicts, Richard Sweet and Alphonse Skusewich.
2. Where several members of party stopped in room off main corridor to look at exhibits.
3. Where Mrs. Ruth Joiner and Mrs. Nina F. Jones were seized by Convicts Sweet, Skusewich, and Earl Niverson while examining X-ray pictures on wall.
4. X-ray room where Convicts Niverson and Leroy Hunt had been loitering just before kidnaping. [When Mrs. Joiner and Mrs. Jones were seized at [3] Hunt and Guard Joseph Piotrowski ran to their aid. Mrs. Jones was rescued.]
5. Alcove with steel door leading to doctor's office through which Sweet, Skusewich, and Niverson forced Mrs. Joiner and Hunt.
6. Chair in doctor's office where Mrs. Joiner was forced to sit with convict's knife at throat.
7. Door to clerk's office which was barricaded by convicts with heavy steel cabinets.
8. Windows through which state police, standing on stepladders, fired rifle shots, subduing convicts and permitting guards to rush in from alcove, saving Mrs. Joiner.

As the guards rushed from the alcove to the rescue, Ed Wetzel, warden's secretary, who was in the alcove, was wounded by ricocheting bullet.

Suit to Make Schools Pay for Unused Land Dismissed

Judge Benjamin P. Epstein yesterday dismissed a petition to reinstate a condemnation order and force the school board to pay $370,000 to the owners of 113 parcels of property in an area bounded by Mozart street, Albion avenue, Richmond street, and Pratt boulevard. The land was ordered condemned in 1931 as the proposed site of a school. A few months later the school board had the order vacated.

BARS PICKETING OF MILK STORES BY DRIVERS' UNION

Drastic Ruling Forbids All Interference.

A drastic injunction prohibiting stranger picketing and other forms of interference with the sale of milk by the Lake Valley Farm Products, Inc., was issued yesterday against the Milk Wagon Drivers' union and seven of its officials by Judge John J. Lupe in Superior court.

Meanwhile, a suit for a similar injunction against the Furniture Woodworkers and Finishers union, local No. 18-B, was filed in Circuit court by Attorney Stephen Love, acting in behalf of Anton Szumny & Sons, furniture manufacturers, 2130 West Fulton street.

Orders Picketing Stopped.

The Lake Valley company has offices at 5332 South Western avenue and 1310 Wrightwood avenue.

Judge Lupe ordered the Milk Wagon Drivers' union to cease all picketing of the company's offices or outlets and to stop trying to discourage or divert customers from buying the Lake Valley milk. He said that he based his order on a recent decision of the Illinois Supreme court.

The case decided by the Supreme court involved the picketing of Ross W. Swing's beauty shop at 5558 North avenue during May, June, and July, 1937. In this case employés declined to join a union and picketing of the shop ensued.

Third Petition Filed.

The Supreme court ruled that a union may not picket a concern or shop when there is no dispute between the employer and his employés. The suit filed on behalf of the Szumny company was the third such petition filed here since the Supreme court handed down its decision.

The Lake Valley suit charged that the defendants had entered into a conspiracy to secure a monopoly of the business of distributing milk in the city. The bill stated that the company's pasteurizing plant at 330 South Western avenue was bombed twice by unknown persons in 1935.

The Szumny bill was directed against the drivers' union, the American Federation of Labor, and Buster Saunders, named as the organizer and secretary of the union.

A PENSIONER FINDS IT HARD TO PROVE HE'S NOT IN GRAVE

Robert T. Williams.

Robert T. Williams, 71 years old, is positive that he is alive. But he is having a difficult time convincing officials of the state old age pension board of that fact. Their records show that he died in the County hospital on May 8 and was buried in Mount Hope cemetery. So why should he continue to get a pension?

Williams resides in the McCoy hotel, at 949 Madison street. In the months he has lived there his mail often became mixed with that of another Robert Williams, this one without the initial T, who was 68. When the younger Williams died in the County hospital on May 8 a letter addressed to Robert T. was found in his pocket. It was from Robert T.'s sister in Winston Salem, N. C.

The sister was notified that her brother had died. She forwarded burial expenses. The funeral was held, and the pension board crossed Robert T. from its lists.

STILL OWNER HELD TO JURY.

Peter Nowak, 30 years old, was held to the federal grand jury yesterday on $1,500 bond by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a plea of guilty to possessing a 1,000 gallon illicit still on his farm near Beecher, in Will county. Nowak's two brothers, Joseph, 23 years old, and Michael, 21, were dismissed.

CITE FIVE POLICE, FIRE HEROES FOR DEEDS OF VALOR

All Are to Get Medals at Police, Fire Show.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

From a field of seventy-eight men who had been cited for bravery, the Chicago civil service commission yesterday named the five police and fire department heroes who will receive Lambert Tree and Carter H. Harrison gold medals for the years 1936-'38.

The medals will be presented by Mayor Edward J. Kelly at the second annual Police and Fire Thrill show in Soldiers' field on Sunday afternoon, July 16. These coveted golden discs are awarded, not for teamwork, but for individual and outstanding bravery.

Cited for Bravery.

The five winners

POLICEMAN WILLIAM WARD, attached to the Deering station. Awarded the Tree medal for shooting to death on March 23, 1937, Louis Ebert, a masked and armed ex-convict who crept up to Ward's squad car in the darkness near 57th street and Keeler avenue. Ebert was later identified as the murderer of Mrs. Mary Irwin, who was slain in a robbery a few days before, and as a kidnaper and rapist.

William Ward.

POLICEMAN JOHN B. ASCHER, attached to the detective bureau. Awarded the Harrison medal for shooting to death Edward Henderson and Charles Price, who approached him in the darkness masked as he was driving his car into the garage at the rear of his home, 150 North Leamington avenue, on April 14, 1938. A third man was captured nearby. Henderson and Price later were identified as having shot Anton Iberle in a tavern holdup at 2920 North Halsted street.

John B. Asher.

Rescues Woman from Blaze.

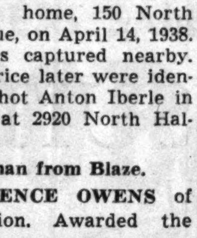
CHIEF LAWRENCE OWENS of the 16th battalion. Awarded the Tree medal for rescuing a woman from the third floor of a blazing flat building at 4315 Forestville avenue on March 21, 1936, when he was captain of Engine company, No. 45.



Lawrence Owens.

The woman, crazed by fear, fought Capt. Owen in the flaming room and all the way down the long swaying ladder which reached up three floors through the smoke and heat.

FIREMAN LEO S. KELLY of Hook and Ladder company, No. 28. Awarded the Tree medal for rescuing an invalid from a third floor flat during a 2-11 fire at 1440 Milwaukee avenue on Nov. 15, 1938. The woman, Mrs. Leona Gutowski, 56 years old, had been forgotten when other occupants of the building fled.

FIREMAN FRANK A. KUNZ of Engine company No. 51. Awarded the Harrison medal for rescuing an unconscious man from a flat building at 6328-30 Egleston avenue on Aug. 25, 1937. On learning that some one was still on the second floor, Kunz searched through the smoke and flame. Unconscious in a bathtub he found Frank Stevens, 52 years old, and carried him to safety.

Frank A. Kunz.

Rescues a Forgotten Invalid.

All the policemen and firemen who had been cited for bravery appeared yesterday and Monday before the civil service commissioners at the city hall and in their own words recounted what had happened. And the striking thing was the modesty of these men who guard Chicago against crime and fire.

Often it was only through questioning by Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan or Police Commissioner James P. Allman that the real daring of their feats was revealed. Fireman Kelly was typical of them as he described his rescue of the invalid woman.

Tells Story Briefly.

After describing the building and location of the fire, he finished his story laconically:

"So I brought her down. We put tannic acid on her burns, then put her into the chief's car and they took her away. That's about all, I guess."

Commissioner Corrigan began his questions. He developed swiftly that the woman had been bedfast fourteen years, powerless to help herself; that flames were raging about the window and that escape by the door had been cut off.

The fireman admitted that he had wrapped the bedclothes around the invalid to protect her from the flames and the outside cold and that he, himself, had been burned in making the rescue. Finally, he had scaled a shaking ladder through blinding smoke to perform his feat alone.

Part of Daily Jobs.

These men's reluctance to reveal the thrilling details of their heroic work lies not in a fear that they will be accused of bragging. It is simply that these deeds are part of their daily jobs—a part, incidentally, that the public sees little of.

It is this thrilling side therefore that will be presented dramatically in the great spectacle in Soldiers' field. Their ladder rescues through rolling smoke clouds and the blaze and thunder of gunfire will show Chicagoans the weapons, the methods, and, above all, the men who are the city's guardians.

Meanwhile, drills are proceeding for the thrill show, which is sponsored by the fire and police departments, the Chicago park district, and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

ROADSIDE MILK DEALERS CHARGE MONOPOLY PLOT

Assail P. M. A. Mart Plan at Federal Hearing.

The proposal to place the Chicago milk industry under federal regulation was attacked yesterday as a move by the Pure Milk association, a dairy farmers' coöperative, to ruin independent milk dealers.

The charge was made at the public hearing, in the Stevens hotel, on Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's third attempt to place Chicago under government regulation which, in the past, has meant higher prices to consumers.

Roadside Dealers Alarmed.

W. A. Leopold, attorney for the Suburban Milk Dealers, Inc., an organization of 250 roadside milk dealers in the suburbs, said the proposed agreement would enable the Pure Milk association to seize control of independent dairies.

Dr. R. W. Bartlett, University of Illinois dairy marketing economist, said the dealers should give conkeep production level and termed the agreement "very sensible."

Mrs. Sarah L. Kamin, a director of the Chicago Consumers' league, asserted that the milk industry may be made a public utility under government supervision unless more consideration is given consumers. She said the dealers should give consumers the benefit of seasonal fluctuations in price.

City Approves Gallon Bottles.

It was learned yesterday that the Chicago board of health has no objection to the sale of milk in one gallon glass jars or bottles such as those used by standard companies in the suburbs. Suburban stores sell a gallon of milk in these containers cheaper than the price for four quarts.

At the request of interested citizens tests to determine if the large containers meet Chicago sanitary requirements were conducted. It is said that they met all tests. The city legal department also reported that the large containers do not violate the Chicago milk ordinance.

Several large milk companies are ready to offer milk in gallon containers if a consumer demand develops, a survey showed.

RAIDERS CHARGE LOOP REALTY CONCERN WITH FHA FRAUD; ARREST 2

The L. B. Harris real estate company at 111 West Monroe street was raided yesterday by federal authorities with search warrants charging that false statements had been filed in connection with Federal Housing authority loans to customers of the concern.

Joseph Goldman, 33 years old, 2251 Rosemont avenue, an architect and consultant, was arrested and books and records seized. The raiders, Chief Deputy United States Marshal Joseph Tobin, Ross Chamberlain, investigator for the FHA, and three deputies, also had warrants for L. B. Harris, a partner in the firm, and Maurice Lippman, head of a lumber company at 3058 Chicago avenue.

Goldman and Lippman, who was arrested a short while after the raid, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. They were charged with having obtained a loan from the National Security bank of Chicago by causing a false statement to be made by William and Helen Oltmann concerning modernization of the Oltmann property at Round lake beach. Part of the money obtained, the government alleged, was used for purposes other than modernization.

Both men were taken to the county jail when they failed to meet bond of $3,000 and the hearing was continued to July 7. Conviction on such a charge, government officials said, carries a maximum penalty of three years' imprisonment or $3,000 fine or both.

SEIZE CHICAGOAN IN JUDGE WILSON VOTE FRAUD QUIZ

Leo Nemerovsky, 35 years old, 1931 Humboldt boulevard, an insurance agent, was arrested yesterday and turned over to the police of Joliet. He will be arraigned in that city today on a charge of conspiracy to obtain fraudulent votes for Circuit Judge Edwin L. Wilson in the June 5 election. Wilson was defeated for reëlection. Injunctions he issued to protect slot machines were an issue in the campaign.

Nemerovsky denied any responsibility for votes illegally cast for Judge Wilson. He said his arrest may be due to the fact that he furnished bond for others arrested on the same charge. Police Chief Nicholas Fornango of Joliet said nine men under arrest admitted voting from five to ten times for Judge Wilson at $1 per vote. The police chief said Nemerovsky hired some of the men.

NONSTOP FLYERS UP 150 HOURS, GO ON FOR RECORD

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—(AP)—Wilbur Parrish and Hunter Moody, endurance flyers, showed no sign of weakening tonight in their nonstop flight. They are trying to break the record of 218 hours for light planes.

"We get a little grouchy sometimes and we're glad when we can get a chance to sleep," Parrish told the ground crew by radio, "but we're more alert then we thought we'd be at this time. We'll go beyond that record."

In their seventh day in the air the two Decatur airmen passed their 150 hour mark tonight.

HORNER REGIME WORST WASTER, ASSEMBLY TOLD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—Five house Republicans today charged that:

1. The Horner Democratic state administration is without parallel in the history of Illinois for corruption and graft.

2. Time will prove the administration the worst in the state's history.

These accusations are in a report filed by Representative Clinton Searle of Rock Island and four others who were members of a house committee authorized to investigate charges of waste, graft, and inefficiency in the state government.

Economy Drive Blocked.

This committee, with Searle as chairman, was created on Feb. 14 and was discharged a month later through a combination of Democrats and Republicans. A senate-house economy committee then was authorized and Searle and the rest of the house committee were made members. After a few weeks this group also was discharged, under Democratic auspices, and all efforts toward economy ended.

The original house committee, however, was not content to let its work be blanketed. For weeks the members have been working on a report. Signing it with Searle are David I. Swanson, Chicago; Sam O. Dale, Fairfield; John A. Bingham, Galena, and Frederick W. Rennick, Buda.

Thirty-eight subjects for investigation were brought to the attention of the committee, the report states. The accusations listed range from padded pay rolls to nepotism, from the shakedown of contractors for campaign funds to assessment of civil service employés.

Spoils Dividers Fall Out.

"Revelation of many matters presented for investigation," the report declares, "was the direct result of wrongdoers falling out among themselves over division of the spoils."

Among the charges of nepotism recited in the report was the one placed against State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis by Thomas E. Cavanagh of Springfield, who declared that if all of the treasurer's relatives on the pay roll during 1937 were gathered in Springfield at one time, a bus would be needed to contain them. Lewis then was speaker of the house. Members of the Lewis family drew a total of $31,839.85 that year, Cavanagh charged.

Reference was made to charges laid before the joint committee to the effect that seventy-one downstate Democratic county chairmen in 1937 were on the state pay rolls. In 1938, it was stated, that figure was raised to seventy-nine.

"Charges also were made," the report states, "that many did no work whatever for salary received."

Middle Man Evil Assailed.

After pointing out that previous administrations had refused to let middlemen reap a harvest on state purchases and had bought from mills and manufacturers, the report states:

"We are forced to conclude that the middle man has become an octupus in the present Democratic administration.

"Middle men in the present Democratic administration cover the fields of sugar, woolens, denims, manufactured clothing and other articles.

"Old clothing, picked up out of basements throughout the United States, it is charged, is sold to the state by merchant friends of the present administration for clothing of wards in the charitable and penal institutions.

"Likewise, woolens and denims, mill end discards that have failed to pass inspection as No. 1 products, are bought by the state from friends of the present administration and are used to clothe wards in charitable and penal institutions."

JOY WASEMAN.

Nashville, Tenn., June 27.—(AP)—What kind of sitdown is this? For five weeks now pretty Joy Waseman, 21 years old, has been keeping regular hours in the waiting room of the state capitol's executive offices: In at 10 a. m., out for lunch, off when the governor's staff quits. She just reads magazines, writes letters, gets no pay. In fact, she is quite unemployed. Explains Joy:

"When I worked in the county campaign headquarters for Gov. Cooper, I was told that I would get a job when he was elected. I'm going to sit here until I get one."

BILL IS PASSED FOR ANNEXATION OF NO MAN'S LAND

Senate Puts Measure Up to Horner.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—Illinois' senate today passed a bill to permit annexation of the so-called No Man's Land between Wilmette and Kenilworth. The house had passed the measure and it now goes to Gov. Henry Horner to be signed. He is expected to approve. Five other important measures received action from the senate.

Wilmette Annexation Favored.

Comprising only twenty-two acres, the land between Wilmette and Kenilworth has long caused complaints by north shore residents. It has no police or fire department and no local ordinance has any force in it.

Senator Arthur J. Bidwill [R., River Forest] said he had a petition signed by most of the property owners favoring annexation to Wilmette. There are only forty-two residents there, he said.

The vote on the bill was 44 to 0. It was introduced in the house by Representative Charles H. Weber [D., Chicago].

Action on 5 Important Bills.

The five other senate actions were:

1. Passed a bill which would halt the showing of double feature movies by providing that no performance can be longer than two hours and fifteen minutes. In this amended form the bil' will be sent back to the house for concurrence.

2. Killed the Little TVA bill providing for state hydroelectric plants at locks along the Illinois waterway.

3. Defeated the so-called brewery bill which would have permitted the sale of bottled beer in more than 700 local option dry districts.

4. Concurred with house passage of a bill designed to help limit the number of taverns in Chicago. It provides that state licenses may be transferred when taverns change ownership.

5. Sent to the governor for his approval a bill to give the Chicago sanitary district its first pegged tax levies—$5,500,000 for each of the four years beginning in 1940.

House appropriation bills to spend $203,000,000 for state operating expenses and debt payments during the next two years were also hurried through the senate.

NEGROES CHARGE JIM CROWISM IN FEDERAL HOUSING

Only 35 Families Assisted, Leaders Assert.

Negro leaders of the city charged yesterday that officials of the Chicago Housing authority have discriminated against their race in selecting tenants for Chicago's three big government built housing projects. They pointed out that of the 2,414 dwelling units in the projects, only thirty-five are occupied by colored families.

These thirty-five families are grouped in the Jane Addams houses on the west side. There are no colored families in the Julia Lathrop homes on the north side or the Trumbull park homes in South Chicago.

Secretary Explains Policy.

Miss Elizabeth Wood, executive secretary of the Chicago Housing authority, which operates the projects under lease from the government, explained that tenants were selected in accordance with the racial makeup of the neighborhood in which each project is located. Because colored families were living in homes on the site of the Jane Addams project before it was built, a percentage of colored families have received housing in the project, she said.

No colored families were living on the sites of the Julia Lathrop and Trumbull park homes before they were constructed. Therefore, none is housed in these projects, she said. Miss Wood explained that this is in line with the established policy of the authority.

Leaders Assail System.

Negro leaders spoke bitterly of this policy, which they assert has drawn a color line banning all but a small percentage of colored families from the new homes. The statements of three of the leaders follow:

Horace Cayton, director of a Negro research project for the University of Chicago—"Negro families have applied to the housing authority for permission to live in the projects and have not been accepted. It is my feeling that the authority should make a statement of its policy in regard to Negroes, and that it should demonstrate by making public its records that there has been no discrimination. I understand that, even in the Jane Addams houses, Negroes are confined to one wing."

Pastor Airs His Views.

The Rev. A. L. Scott, pastor of the Lincoln Memorial Congregational church—"It is elementary knowledge that Negroes are not wanted in these projects. When they apply for admittance, they are approached and addressed in such a way that they soon leave, knowing they are not wanted. The housing condition among Chicago's Negro population is one of the most crying disgraces in the city. They are not given the opportunity to live decently."

F. T. Lane, civic director of the Chicago Urban league—"Negroes have applied for admittance to the projects, but have not been admitted. I know personally of two families which made application long before the projects were actually opened for use. These families were not admitted."

DIES AFTER HEART ATTACK.

Henry Woodlee, 33 years old, of 6850 Yale avenue, was stricken by heart disease yesterday and died while police were taking him to County hospital.

PWA SCHOOL JOB STILL TIED UP BY UNCALLED STRIKE

Contractor Left on His Own in Seeking Settlement.

Stones were left unturned yesterday at the $3,150,000 new vocational school under construction at 87th street and Chappel avenue. Work was almost at a standstill on this undertaking for which the Public Works administration is paying 45 per cent of the cost.

An undeclared strike was in progress. Iron workers wouldn't set iron, so the stone masons couldn't set stone.

The stone contractor, William R. Goss intended to use stone quarried and trimmed in Indiana for the project. He has been stopped by the Building Trades council, which advised all contractors on the school job to give a 100 per cent preference to material made or prepared in Chicago. The iron workers quit because of the Indiana work on the stone.

It's Up to the Contractor.

If Contractor Goss knew, when he bid, that he might expect trouble and expected help from government agencies or from School Architect John C. Christensen, he must have been disappointed yesterday. The officials concerned with the big building project apparently are letting Goss work out his own salvation. They have a precedent, they say, in the case of the Link Belt company on a Sanitary District building job.

The Link Belt company contracted to furnish sludge disposal mechanisms called flights. They were made from California redwood and it was considered more convenient and economical to have the redwood drilled and mortised in California than to have the work done here.

Members of the Chicago millwrights' union objected to these flights being used. They contended that the preparatory work should have been done in Chicago.

"We settled," said B. K. Hartman of the Link Belt company. "We placed the names of thirty or more millwrights on our pay roll for a week. They did not work. We notified the PWA we did this to settle a labor dispute. Apparently the PWA approved because we heard no more about it."

PWA Aid Tells Attitude.

"I know about the Link Belt case," said G. L. Rounds, assistant regional director of the PWA. "There was nothing we could do about it.

"No strike has been called against the Goss company. Until one is called there is little for us to do. We've got to put people to work. If there is any interference in putting mechanics to work on the school job we will act."

Goss said he had been given a legal opinion that a strike is in progress, even though one had not been called. He said he was trying to negotiate with an official of the Stone Cutters' International union in Indianapolis. He had yet to meet any officials of the stone cutters' union here, he said.

When Nathan, president of a railroad supplies manufacturing firm, arrived he was met by Miss Logan, wearing a heart shaped ring of three diamonds on her engagement finger, and a full length silver fox fur coat.

"We are going to sail for Honolulu in two weeks, and may be married before leaving, or on the high seas, or at Honolulu," Nathan explained.

HOUSE EXTENDS BENEFITS OF ANY TAX CUTS TO ALL

Preadjudication Bill Now Goes Back to Senate.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—The tax preadjudication measure, which provides that all Chicago taxpayers will be guaranteed equal benefits from any tax reductions, passed the house of representatives today.

The Daley-Schnackenberg bill, requiring court review of tax levy ordinances of Chicago's six major taxing bodies before bills are sent to taxpayers, was approved, 126 to 0. Before being presented to Gov. Henry Horner for his signature the measure must go back to the senate for concurrence in amendments—a step that seemed assured tonight.

A similar effort to protect small taxpayers was made by the general assembly two years ago, but was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court because of a technical defect in the bill. This error has been corrected in the current measure.

Protects the "Little Fellow."

"This bill," Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago] explained today, "provides a method whereby the small taxpayer will get the benefits of any cuts in taxes, the same as the large taxpayer who can afford to hire a lawyer and protest his bill.

"If the bill becomes a law, the city of Chicago, the sanitary district, the board of education, the county, the park district, and the forest preserve district will file their tax levy ordinances with the county clerk as soon as they are passed.

"The clerk, in turn, will file petitions with the county court to determine the validity of these ordinances, and if the court finds illegal portions, those parts will be eliminated from the ordinances and corrected tax bills sent to the taxpayers."

Clear Galleries for Relief Vote.

Earlier in the day, the house, acting behind guarded doors and with the galleries cleared of spectators, advanced the $72,000,000 biennial relief program without amendment.

Consideration of the program was postponed last night because of the presence of several hundred members of the Worker's Alliance, an organization of reliefers. Today state police kept the reliefers—and all other persons—from attending the session.

As sent to third reading, the bills provide that no more than $4,000,000 of the total may be spent in any one month. The reliefers wanted the monthly limit raised to $6,000,000 but the house defeated an amendment to this end which was proposed by Paul Powell [D., Vienna].

Adamowski Reviews Pressure.

Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, the Democratic floor leader, referred to the pressure brought upon him and other members, in a speech opposing the Powell amendment.

"These people," he said, motioning toward the door outside which the reliefers were congregated, "have been picketing my home in Chicago and telling me that if I didn't vote for $6,000,000 a month, they would defeat me next year.

"Last night they filled the galleries. Right now they fill the corridors, seeking to enter and intimidate this house. I have told them that we will do everything within reason for them, but beyond that we will not go. These bills should be advanced to third reading in the form in which they passed the senate."

While debate on the measure was in progress Speaker Hugh W. Cross received a critical note from Harry W. Deck, executive director of Labor's Non-Partisan league, accusing Cross of "Hitler" tactics in keeping the reliefers from the galleries.

"I resent your action in transforming the house into a star chamber," Deck wrote.

The speaker told reporters that he conferred with house leaders on the matter of clearing the galleries and that all agreed any possible disturbance should be avoided. Two years ago, on a similar occasion, the galleries were so disorderly that proceedings hardly could be carried on.

HOUSE COMMITTEE REJECTS LEWIS' PLEA FOR REAVILL'S SEAT

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—The house elections committee today voted not to seat former Representative F. W. Lewis [D., Robinson], who was contesting the election of the late Fred A. Reavill [R., Flat Rock], who died several months ago.

By a vote of 13 to 7 Republican committeemen defeated Democratic efforts to place Lewis in Reavill's seat for the last week of the regular session. Lewis supporters said that they would attempt to override the committee's action when its report is made to the house tomorrow.

A subcommittee's inquiry tended to show, said Leroy M. Green [R., Rockford], the chairman, that Lewis was elected by forty votes. This was not conclusively established, however, because some of the ballots from the 48th district had been destroyed. Green was the only Republican who voted to seat Lewis.

The committee did not pass on the contest filed against Representative William G. Thon by Stanley J. Coffey. It is not likely to meet again and Thon thus appears assured of holding his seat. Both Thon and Coffey are Chicago Republicans.

TWO ROOMMATES FIGHT A DUEL; 1 KILLED, 1 HURT

One man was killed and another critically wounded last night in what appeared to have been a knife duel between elderly bachelor roommates. The dead man was Demetrious G. Papapostolu, 57 years old. The injured man is George Bourdes, 51. They lived at 1137 South Mozart street, where the fight took place.

Bourdes is a foreman at a paper napkin plant at 1011 South California avenue. Andrew Bourdes, brother of George, and the third roomer in the flat, is the secretary and treasurer of the company. Papapostolu worked there.

Neighbors saw George Bourdes run out of the flat. Police found Papapostolu dead in his rear bedroom. Bourdes said Papapostolu attacked him with a knife while he was asleep and that he wrested the knife from his friend in self-defense. Police, however, found two blood-stained knives, each with a blade a foot long, in the room. Andrew Bourdes was not at home at the time.

Senate Votes $200,000 for Bang's Disease Control

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—The senate today concurred with the house in voting $200,000 for the fight against Bang's disease in cattle. The bill instructs the state department of agriculture to coöperate with federal authorities in the control and suppression of the scourge of cattle raisers. The state department would test cattle, any infected animal would be destroyed, and payment made to the owner if funds are available.

F. HARDINGE SR., 71, IS DIVORCED FROM WIFE, 35

Franklyn Hardinge Sr., retired oil burner manufacturer, who is 71 years old, obtained a divorce before Judge Rudolph Desort yesterday from his wife, Catherine, 35, whom he married in 1929. Hardinge, represented by Attorney Milton Gordon, charged Mrs. Hardinge was indifferent to him and deserted him in May, 1937. He is now living at the home of Mrs. Hardinge's sister, Mrs. Albert Endres, 10063 Avenue F. Mrs. Hardinge was in court with her attorney, Andrew Mitchell. It was announced that he would have custody of their daughter, Deette Susan, 8 years old, during the school year and Mrs. Hardinge would have the girl at her home in Nashville, Tenn., in the summer vacation period, when Hardinge will pay $10 a week for her support.

Dump Contracts Extended; Incinerator Cost Studied

Contracts for all city dumps, except three where courts have enjoined dumping, were extended for one month by the city council yesterday. The extension, a temporary one, was decided on because the finance committee is investigating cost of incinerators or other means of disposing of refuse.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE DROPPED.

A manslaughter charge against Julius Perlman, 17 years old, 5717 Dorchester avenue, was dismissed yesterday by Judge J. M. Braude. The charge was brought after the death on June 8 of Charles Weller, 18, of 1426 East 56th street, with whom Perlman had been fighting.

SUBTERRANEAN TRANSIT (5)

By CALEB

FORTY per cent relief of present Elevated rush-hour traffic congestion was pointed out, in a preceding discussion, as the Chicago subway's direct contribution to the transit problem's solution. Advisedly, however, the present two routes—State street and Dearborn—have been called the "initial system"; and city planners see the need for further extensions in the future.

One of these would connect, by subway, Lake Street at Milwaukee with the Lake Street "L" west of Halsted. A second, proceeding along Congress Street, would connect the temporary terminal south of Van Buren with the metropolitan main "L" near Halsted Street—when, according to planners and engineers, "the only service operated over the union loop would be north-south side trains not operated through the State Street subway" . . .

Also included in plans presented in the 1937 engineers' report to the city council, would be street car subways from west of the Chicago River to Grant Park on Washington and Jackson—"freeing all east and west streets in the Loop . . . and greatly increasing roadway capacity."

Interestingly, traffic studies over the years 1926 to 1938 indicate a reduction in total passengers carried to the Loop by street car, bus, and rapid transit—but total passengers actually reaching the Loop as "more or less constant." This verifies increased use of motoring and taxicabs.

Present elevated, street car and bus maximum passenger movement to the central business district is less than 90,000 to a thirty-minute period. Use of the new subway facilities, with existing rapid transit tracks on Wells and Van Buren, will increase that capacity to 96,000 per half-hour—providing more capacity on rapid transit lines alone than the present maximum traffic on all local carriers.

In the words of Charles E. De Leuw, Chicago's consulting engineer on transportation problems: "After thirty years of talking subways, we at last are actually building them. This has already had a beneficial effect in hastening an agreement on unification," and "the city will be able to complete its negotiations for a new franchise . . . and embark on a tremendous program of modernization and extension of all local transit facilities." Such a program, estimated ultimately to cost 181 million dollars, will, when completed, assure the Chicago of Tomorrow transportation second to that of no other city.

CHURCH ADVISES PLANE FACTORIES BE MOVED INLAND

Points Out Dangers of Attack on Coasts.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 27.—[Special.]—The vulnerable location of the nation's airplane factories on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts was called to the attention of the house today by Representative Ralph E. Church [R., Ill.].

In approving the expenditure for national defense of billions of dollars, including hundreds of millions for the construction of new planes, congress has neglected to note, Church said, that most of the planes will be manufactured in factories particularly vulnerable to attack from foreign powers.

Suggest Branches in Interior.

The Illinois congressman advised the owners of the airplane plants to locate branch plants in the interior of the country. The government should give these owners every possible encouragement to do so and it should also encourage the few small airplane industries to move inland, he declared.

The site for an aviation research laboratory should be selected in the interior, Church said, asserting that the mere location of research facilities inland would itself give encouragement to the development of aviation industries in the interior.

"All our principal aviation industries are now located on the east and west coasts," Church told members. "It is axiomatic that these industries are vital to the successful conduct of war against any aggressor. They are today, and even more ten or fifteen years from now, 'key facilities essential to insure sustained resistance and ultimate victory.'"

Reads List of Manufacturers.

Church read a list of airplane manufacturers and the location of their factories. Only four relatively small establishments are in the interior in comparison with sixteen large plants on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, he noted.

"It can hardly be disputed," he said, "that if any nation should attack us, it will concentrate its attack on our airdromes and airplane factories. As long as they are concentrated on the coasts, they are a ready prey. An important element in military strategy is surprise. It has always been an important element and there is no one who can dispute the fact that coastal towns and factories are susceptible to surprise.

"There is no question but that this concentration of our aviation industries on the coasts make us vulnerable to an enemy. On that fact every student of military strategy and tactics is agreed.

Oceans Not Sure Defense.

"It is true that the Pacific and Atlantic oceans make it extremely difficult for any foreign nation to launch attack upon us. At the present time I do not believe any nation or group of nations would hazard such an attack. At the same time, we do not know what the situation will be ten or fifteen years from now.

"We do not know what new advancement will be made in the range and speed of bombing planes, what nations may chance to obtain airbases in South America, or what alliance of nations may attack us on both the east and west coast at the same time, with planes flown from aircraft carriers. Those are the possibilities and contingencies we must take into consideration and be prepared for national defense program.

"An impregnable national defense involves long range planning, guarding against every aggression possibility and correcting every point of vulnerability. We are undertaking all this not in preparation for a war but rather in preparation against all possible attacks."

Discusses Recent Contract.

Recently, Church said, the war department awarded a $15,000,000 contract to the Douglas Aircraft company of Santa Monica, Cal., for building several of the latest type of bombing ships.

"Bombers have hitherto had to rely on an escort of pursuit planes to protect them from the enemy aircraft much as a battleship must rely on its auxiliary craft as it seeks out a naval objective," he continued. "It is my information, however, that this new type of plane combines the speed of the attack plane with the carrying ability of the bomber.

"I call attention to this war department contract award because it emphasizes two significant facts: [1] An altogether new type of plane is to be made, thus emphasizing the rapid strides being made in aircraft as an instrument of aggression and defense; [2] the company which is to make the plane is located in the coastal state California, thus emphasizing the vulnerability to enemy attack of the very industries so vital to sustained resistance in modern warfare from armed aggression."

Seeking Alimony

MRS. EVELYN ROSSITER.

New York, June 27.—[Special.]—Mrs. Evelyn Rowe Rossiter, a pretty red haired dancer, appeared in Supreme court with a request for alimony from her husband, Philip Rossiter. Her divorce decree becomes final July 12. When she obtained her preliminary decree in April no mention of alimony was reported. Since that time it was revealed that Rossiter is heir to a fortune made selling shoes to the government during the world war.

INDICT 53 IN HUGE CEMETERY FRAUD; 19 FROM CHICAGO

Nineteen Chicagoans were among fifty-three persons named yesterday in federal mail fraud indictments returned at Cincinnati, O. The group is accused of a nation-wide conspiracy to defraud the public of $1,000,000 by the fraudulent sale of lots in the Arlington Memorial Park cemetery near Cincinnati.

A. A. Imus, chief postal inspector in Chicago, said those indicted are charged with representing that $160 lots would be worth $500 in a short time. Actually, Imus said, the lots were of little value.

On March 3 seventeen men and a woman were indicted here for an alleged $250,000 cemetery swindle, operated through the First Commonwealth Trustees, 10 South La Salle street. Eleven others were indicted here on March 31 on similar fraud charges involving the Randhill Memorial Park company, Inc., at the same address. Five of the Chicagoans indicted yesterday had been named in the earlier cases.

WOMAN OFFICIAL OF BAHAI FOUND FATALLY BEATEN

Hollywood, Cal., June 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Campbell, 56 years old, secretary of the Los Angeles spiritual assembly of the Bahai, was found beaten to death with a hammer in her room today.

Police Capt. D. D. Patton said Mrs. Campbell's body was lying on an unmade bed, her night clothing was disarranged, and there was evidence she had been raped. A small claw hammer lay near her head and there were two bloody hand marks on her thighs.

Patton immediately ordered Campbell McDonald, 23 years old, son of Mrs. Campbell by her divorced husband, and a woman identified only as Mary Ellen, taken into custody for questioning. Mrs. Mary Dupre, manager of the rooming house, said the two had visited Mrs. Campbell on Sunday, but she had not seen them since. Mrs. Campbell had been dead for at least two days.

WOMAN, 80, DIES AFTER FALL.

Mrs. Mary Filkin, 80 years old, a widow, 21 Cedar street, died in County hospital yesterday of complications after she fell June 22 and fractured a hip.

HUNT FUGITIVE LOUISIANA UNIV. PRESIDENT HERE

$500,000 Note Fraud on Banks Revealed.

president of the university in 1930 by the late Senator Huey Long because, as Long expressed it, "Smith had a skin as thick as an elephant's." Long was the brother of Earl K. Long, who succeeded Gov. Leche yesterday.

The story of Smith's market speculations came from Charles Fenner, a partner in the New Orleans brokerage firm of Fenner & Beane.

Fenner said that Smith maintained as many as twelve accounts under the name of J. Monroe, his first initial and middle name.

Smith had told the broker that he was representing a syndicate which was trying to hedge against inflation.

System Is Recalled.

Attorney General Ellison revealed the manner in which Smith obtained the money he is accused of taking in a communication to Dr. Paul M. Hebert, named this afternoon to succeed Smith as president. Hebert was chosen after President E. S. Richardson of Louisiana Polytechnic institute had declined the post.

Ellison notified the new president that Dr. Smith had obtained $300,000 from the National Bank of Commerce in New Orleans on a note dated May 2, $100,000 from the City National Bank of Baton Rouge on a note dated June 9, and $100,000 from the Hibernia National Bank of New Orleans on a note dated June 17.

These notes were executed, said the attorney general, "without the approval of the state bond and tax board, as required by act No. 6 of the second extraordinary session of 1935. You are advised that the notes are therefore null and void and cannot legally be paid by the Louisiana State university."

Worthless Bonds Put Up.

Officials said there were indications that Smith obtained the money on his note by posting the unauthorized bonds as collateral.

The attorney general said the bonds were worthless and that the banks would have to stand the loss. But bank officials said that Smith had been empowered by state officials to issue bonds and that it would be the state which would lose.

One story was that the $500,000 in bonds had once been authorized by the state and then had been ordered canceled. According to this story, Smith ignored the order to cancel them and turned them over to the banks.

The banks were at one time skeptical of the bonds' validity and requested an opinion on the validity. Smith was said to have forestalled the rendering of an opinion by giving notes that were accepted as valid.

Smith, who is 50 years old, is a native Louisianian, 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighing 190 pounds. He received one bachelor's degree at Valparaiso university in 1913 and another at Louisiana State university in 1921. In 1922 he did graduate work at the University of Chicago.

He received the degree of master of arts from Columbia Teachers' college in 1925 and became a doctor of philosophy at Columbia university in 1927. While completing his education he was dean of the college of education at the Southwestern Louisiana institute at Lafayette, La., a post he held from 1920 to 1930.

Smith has had a stormy career at the university. His censorship of the student paper to protect Long from its attacks brought him campus criticism in 1934.

FAMOUS PHYSICISTS MEET AT U. OF C. FOR COSMIC RAY STUDY

World famous physicists opened a symposium yesterday at the University of Chicago with studies of the latest discoveries about cosmic rays. Host to the visiting scientists was Dr. Arthur H. Compton, one of four Nobel prize winners attending the meetings.

Among yesterday's lecturers were Dr. J. Clay of the University of Amsterdam, who told of a method of measuring the electrical conductivity of the rays, and Dr. S. A. Korff of the Bartol Research Foundation, Philadelphia, who reported on the production of neutrons by the cosmic ray showers.

Other Nobel prize winners at the meetings are Dr. Werner K. Heisenberg of the University of Leipsic; Dr. Victor H. Hess, Austrian discoverer of the rays who is now at Fordham university; and Dr. Carl D. Anderson of the California Institute of Technology. Dr. Robert A. Milliken could not attend but his paper will be read today. Dr. Compton also will report on his latest conclusions as to the origin of the rays.

WIFE CHARGES CRUELTY; SUES STUART LOGAN

Stuart Logan, investment broker, was sued for divorce yesterday by his wife, Mrs. Lolo Bilgere Logan, 45 years old, of 209 Lake Shore drive. Mrs. Logan charged cruelty in her suit, which was filed in Superior court by Attorneys William C. Boyden and Arthur M. Wood.

The Logans were married April 14, 1928, and separated last Dec. 30. Mrs. Logan charged that on two occasions—Sept. 15, 1936, and Dec. 30, 1938—her husband struck and bruised her.

Logan is 50 years old. His first wife, Mrs. Gladys Goodrich Logan, died in 1922. He is the son of Mrs. Frank G. Logan, wealthy art patron.

FREE 5 ELECTION OFFICIALS IN 24TH WARD VOTE QUIZ

Charges of contempt against five election officials in the 17th precinct of the 24th ward, made in connection with irregularities in the primary of April 12, 1938, were dismissed yesterday by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki.

The defendants were Mrs. Martha Miller, 3310 West 13th street, and Mrs. Elizabeth Weise, 1227 South Homan avenue, Republican judges; Morris Neckeles, 1245 South Homan avenue, Democratic judge; Mrs. Goldie Poncher, 1245 South Christiana avenue, Republican clerk, and Mrs. Charlotte Velie, 1249 South Christiana avenue, Democratic clerk.

They were charged with giving unlawful assistance to voters, permitting unqualified persons to vote, using dummy tally sheets, and making illegal erasures. Each denied the charges. Judge Jarecki ruled the charges were not sustained by the evidence.

PUZZLED HOUSE DEBATES WAR AND NEUTRALITY ACT

Curb Demanded in Power of President.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 27.—[Special.]—Uneasy over European reports indicating the approach of another war crisis, the house today debated in serious mood the administration proposal to revise the neutrality policy of the United States.

Somewhat perplexed, members heard the new neutrality act denounced as a war making law and defended as an insurance against war. There was every indication that the measure will be amended drastically before passage. Leaders hoped for a showdown vote tomorrow.

Under the existing neutrality act, the President is ordered, when he finds that a state of war exists between foreign states, to proclaim that fact. A mandatory embargo upon the export of arms, ammunition, or implements of war from the United States to any belligerent named in the proclamation thereupon goes into effect.

Roosevelt Ignores Embargo.

The President has avoided this embargo against Japan and China, for example, by choosing not to find that such a state of war exists. Both nations have bought and shipped munitions from the United States freely ever since the undeclared war was started two years ago.

The new act provides that when the President finds that a state of war exists between foreign states, he shall issue a neutrality proclamation naming the states involved. But no embargo would be invoked and the belligents could buy arms and ammunition here if they have the means and the ships for the purchase and transportation of the war materials.

The new act, according to its critics in debate today, gives a great advantage to Great Britain because she controls the seas.

Travel on Foreign Ships Barred.

Other sections of the new act are essentially the same as in the present law. Travel by citizens on the vessels of belligerent nations is forbidden although the limitations upon the President's power to regulate such travel have been removed. Regulations for the transfer of title to arms and ammunitions remain the same. Solicitation of funds in this country for any belligerent nation is again forbidden.

As in the present law, a national munitions control board, consisting of the secretaries of state, treasury, war, navy, and commerce, is set up to supervise the arms trade in this country and to license exports of war materials.

Democratic sponsors of the bill announced to the house that several new sections, which have been criticized severely would be removed from the bill by amendment when the debate is concluded tomorrow. Most important of these was the provision giving the President power to quarantine any nation by proclaiming its territory a combat area into which neither American citizens nor ships could enter.

IDENTIFY CAPTIVE TAXICAB BANDIT AS A PAROLEE

A taxicab bandit, seized on a train yesterday after a five hour hunt by state, county, and north suburban police, was identified at the detective bureau as Jerry Connors, 18 years old, of Milwaukee, a parolee from a Wisconsin reformatory.

Jerry Connors.

Connors hired the cab of Frank Spierer, 5050 Sheridan road, at State and Randolph streets and told Spierer to drive to Morton Grove. Half a mile north of Lincoln avenue on Harms road Connors pressed a gun to the driver's back and robbed him of his watch and $8.50 and told him to keep going.

Spierer crashed his cab into a barbecue stand at Winnetka avenue and Skokie road. The bandit fled. Honoré Levernier, an oil station attendant, seized a revolver and chased him. A radio alarm was broadcast and 30 policemen and citizens joined the pursuit.

State police took Connors off a Chicago bound North Shore train which they flagged down at Golf road. He had boarded the train at Glen View. He was recognized by his muddy shoes and torn clothing.

Nab 2 Window Breakers in Loop Jewel Robbery

Roland Northy, 20 years old, 949 Madison street and Richard Majewski, 25, of 551 Madison street, were arrested early yesterday a few minutes after they had smashed a window of the Marks Brothers Jewelry store at 218 South State street and stolen five wrist watches.

GALLANT WORDS, TEARS SLOW UP DIVORCE BATTLE

Mrs. Bosch Tells Court of Hoarded Gold.

Joseph M. Bosch gallantly told the court he thought of marrying Mrs. Elsie Bosch the first time he saw her. Mrs. Bosch beamed as she told how grand he had been and wept when she recalled that he had said she must never leave him.

And so they didn't get far yesterday in their battle over a divorce. But they did tell some entertaining stories about hoarded gold, and the struggle to live on $450 a month, and how Bosch would start drinking and drink for two days before showing it. On the third day, he said, he'd always get ill.

Charges Cruelty in Suit.

Mrs. Bosch, a stately blonde woman 41 years old, is asking a divorce on the ground of cruelty. She says her husband, an investment banker and heir to a brewing fortune, is worth half a million dollars. He doesn't think he's worth a cent more than $366,000, if you don't count the money he inherited.

Bosch was grand, Mrs. Bosch told Judge Oscar F. Nelson of Superior court, during the brief period in which they were divorced, from October in 1933 to January in 1934. She wept when she quoted Bosch as saying:

"Don't leave me, my love. You're all I've got in the world. Just give me another chance. One more chance."

Tells of $20,000 Hoard.

Mrs. Bosch testified during questioning by her attorney, Ferre C. Watkins, that her husband took her to the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company in 1935 or 1936. He took her to a safety deposit box, she said, and showed her bags of gold, maybe four, maybe six. He told her there was $20,000 in the hoard, she said, and assured her:

"No matter what happens we'll always have this."

Mrs. Bosch, who lives at 5555 Sheridan road, told of her losing struggle to support herself and her small son on the $450 a month her husband has been giving her since their separation.

Bosch, who is 45 years old and lives at the Stevens hotel, freely admitted her accusation that he drank too much. His attorney is Royal W. Irwin.

DEATH LEAP CALLED SUICIDE.

A verdict of suicide while suffering from derangement was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday at an inquest over Mrs. Mary Clithero, 63 years old. Mrs. Clithero on May 27 jumped from the first floor window of a nursing home at 426 West 61st place. She died Monday. Mrs. Clithero lived at 6732 Perry avenue.

JURORS CONVICT GUNMAN OF 1932 HOLDUP SLAYING

After deliberating only 90 minutes, a jury before Judge William J. Lindsay last night found Robert Wilson, 27 years old, guilty of the murder of a Brookfield druggist in 1932. The penalty was fixed at twenty-five years in the penitentiary. Wilson lived at 5488 Hyde Park boulevard. His victim was William J. Stinson, who was killed during a robbery attempt.

Judge Lindsay will hear a motion for a new trial on Friday and at that time will dispose of the case of Otto Gehrke, 27, of 2758 Roosevelt road, who pleaded guilty to a charge of aiding Wilson.

Wilson was arrested after Gehrke had confessed his part in the shooting, saying he hadn't slept well since the crime. Gehrke is married and the father of three small children.

JAPS IN TIENTSIN RELAX PRESSURE ON BRITISH AREA

Hopes Mount for Ending of Long Blockade.

TIENTSIN, June 28 [Wednesday]. —(AP)—British hopes for a quick settlement of the Tientsin crisis mounted today as the Japanese blockade of the British concession here entered its third week.

Optimism was stimulated by reports from Tokio that negotiations were in progress there for an agreement and by indications that the Japanese military here was relenting in its strict search of Britons passing the barricades.

Americans, however, charged that Japanese interference with trafic on the Hai river, Tientsin's avenue to the sea, was hampering American trade. Agents for the American States Steamship company's flour laden steamer Michigan said the vessel had been compelled to lie off the coast for five days at a cost of $700 a day.

American rug manufacturers here also said the blockade was causing them heavy losses because of delays in shipping their goods and because the Japanese virtually had been commandeering North China's wool supply for months.

Seek to Avoid Incidents.

Both British and Japanese, apparently anxious to avoid new tension in expectation that discussions in Tokio will end the episode within a few days, reported they had taken steps aimed at lessening the possibility of new provocation.

British Consul-General E. G. Jamieson said he had urged all Britons at Tientsin to stay on one side or the other of the barriers unless it was absolutely necessary to cross them.

Lieut.-Gen. Masaharu Honma, Japanese army commander here, said he had issued special fresh instructions to guards at the barriers to avoid inflicting indignities on foreigners and had replaced patrols that showed over-eagerness. A number of Britons have been stripped and searched.

The British steamer Ariadne Moller docked late yesterday at the British concession with its food supplies exhausted and its water tanks almost empty. Its fifteen foreign and 200 Chinese passengers had been without food for two days. The ship's officers blamed Japanese examinations for the vessel's plight.

Warn Foreign Shipping.

SHANGHAI, June 27. — (AP) — The Japanese navy warned America and other powers today to remove their vessels from Foochow and Wenchow, Chinese ports against which Japan is aiming new offensives.

Naval officials set Thursday noon as a deadline, declaring the ports would be closed to foreign shipping and indicating that the harbors would be mined.

British authorities here responded with a warning that Japan would be held responsible for any interference with British shipping or peril to British lives and property. France announced it could not accept the Japanese warning. Observers pointing out that a similar Japanese warning in the cases of Swatow was rejected promptly by America, expected that country to take parallel action.

Capture of Wenchow and Foochow, between Shanghai and Hongkong, would give the Japanese possession of the last two important Chinese ports. Within the last week they have closed Ningpo and taken Swatow.

[Reports in Tokio said Japanese marines already had taken several islands at the mouths of both Wenchow and Foochow harbors in preparation for attacks on those cities.]

Japan Claims Big Aerial Victory

The Japanese army yesterday reported the destruction of a soviet aviation base at Tamsk in Outer Mongolia and an aerial battle between Japanese planes and 200 soviet planes over the Lake Bor region on the Manchukuo-Outer Mongolia border. Captions indicate the fighting which has followed friction between Japan and soviet Russia in the Far East.

RIOT FOR BREAD IN MOSCOW; FOOD SHORTAGE GROWS

Strikers Damage Plants; Thousands Exiled.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, June 27.—Bread riots and strikes, in which acts of sabotage inflicted great damage on factories in the industrial districts surrounding Moscow, have been suppressed ruthlessly by a special motorized division of the soviet Russian secret police. The division was named after Felix Djerjinski, organizer and first commissar of the secret police.

Confirmation of the disorders, which threatened to develop into widespread uprisings, is contained in the latest issue of Krasnaia Zvezda, the red army newspaper.

Stalin Decorates Division.

It reported that Dictator Stalin has awarded the Order of Lenin to the division. He decorated fifty-four officers and soldiers for what he termed the splendid discipline and bravery with which they carried out their battle orders and other special duties for the government during the recent period of rioting caused by a shortage of food.

The Djerjinski division, which also is known as Dictator Stalin's own division, consists of 20,000 specially armed and trained men. They are equipped for action in street fighting. The division provides Stalin's Kremlin bodyguard and also guards him on his rare public appearances.

The division is the most important military force in Moscow, taking precedence over the cavalry division, named for Stalin, and the proletarian infantry division, which comprises the regular garrison.

Many Casualties Reported.

The secret police force was said to have suffered many casualties in this latest campaign, which resulted in thousands of workers being exiled to distant regions.

The population of the Moscow industrial district and the city itself is becoming more and more alarmed at the seriousness of the famine which has developed along the lower Volga, in Transcaucasia, and in Turkestan. The enormous damage already done to the winter grain crop has been followed by dust storms from the deserts of Asia, which penetrated European Russia as far as a line drawn between Rostov, Kursk, and Kharkov. It has further blasted hopes of a good grain harvest and affected the sugar beet crop.

MAY LOSE PWA GRANT.

Byron, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—City officials have been notified by the regional PWA office in Chicago that Saturday marks the deadline for completion of the Byron sewage treatment plant. The city will lose a federal grant of $17,000 unless immediate steps are taken to complete the project.

NAZIS HINT THEY WILL GET WHAT THEY WANT SOON

Boast Reich Is Stronger than Other Nations.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 27.—On the eve of the twentieth anniversary of the signing of the Versailles treaty and of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand at Sarajevo, the Frankfurter Zeitung, mouthpiece of the foreign office, indicated that Germany is determined to solve the problems which she considers vital at all costs and in a not too distant future.

"We have learned to prefer deeds to words," the paper said. "Our weapons are stronger than those of any other nation. We do not wish to use them and we probably will not need to use them. Their existence suffices. England errs when she thinks she can change Germany's demands by a display of power."

Calls Germany the Victor.

Commenting on Versailles, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering's mouthpiece, the Essener National Zeitung, said that Germany can emerge as the real victor from the world war. It said:

"After periods of misleading prosperity, America shows no visible signs of having participated successfully in the world war. England sees herself on the defensive to a degree inconceivable before 1914. France was bled white and is only able to maintain her position as a great power with the help of her colored millions and by adjusting her policy closely to that of Great Britain."

Points to Rise in Power.

On the other hand the Nazi press pointed to Germany's rise to power. The Germans declare that ever since the Czech crisis their strategical position has improved despite the armaments of the western powers. Newspapers stressed the "removal of the last remnants of the Czech fortress," the annexation of Albania by Italy, Germany's axis partner, and the fortifications on Germany's western and eastern frontiers.

The fortified zones, the Nazis said, enable the reich to concentrate its forces at one point without risking an invasion of German territory.

Minister of the Interior Wilhelm Frick wrote in the official Voelkischer Beobachter: "Versailles is dead, but its spirit is still alive. It is the same spirit that refuses Germany the return of her colonies and denies Danzig the right of self-determination."

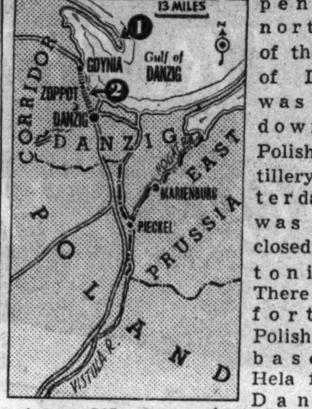
GERMAN PLANE SHOT DOWN NEAR DANZIG BY POLISH ARTILLERY

[Copyright: 1939: By the New York Times.]

WARSAW, Poland, June 27. — A German plane flying over the Hela peninsula, northwest of the Gulf of Danzig, was shot down by Polish artillery yesterday, it was disclosed here tonight. There is a fortified Polish naval base at Hela facing Danzig across the bay.



Arrow [1] shows where Nazi plane was shot down and [2] section of road closed by Poland.

A warning round was fired by the Poles when they sighted the plane. A second round was fired when it continued its flight. This brought it down. The pilot was rescued by a German warship.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, June 27.—(AP)—Poland closed the frontier road between Zoppot, Danzig, and Gdynia, Polish port near the Free City, from 2 a. m. to noon today. The Danzig newspaper Vorposten said Poland was building tank obstructions and other items of military character on the road.

EUROPE ON BRINK OF GRAVE PERIL, DALADIER WARNS

Declares Crisis Is Worst in Twenty Years.

PARIS, June 27.—(AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier adjourned the French parliament for its summer vacation tonight with the warning that the gravest international crisis in twenty years faced France, with 3,000,000 soldiers across its frontiers.

He said the troop concentrations were more important than ever before and did not include semi-military units.

The premier apparently referred to the troops of Germany, Italy, and Spain and by semi-military units meant the German Hitler guard and Hitler Trooper organizations and the Fascist militia of Italy.

Chamber Adjourns in Uproar.

The sudden adjournment, which took most deputies by surprise, created an uproar in the chamber, which had expected the session to continue through this week and possibly next since several important questions were pending.

Daladier later read the same decree in the senate.

"We are in the hands of events and it is possible that the parliamentary vacation will be more brief than those who are protesting against closing the session think," he said.

Some deputies said this referred to the constitutional requirement that parliament must act on any declaration of war.

"What we ask you," he said, "is to leave the government the liberty of movement that is essential at the present moment.

"On our frontiers there are 3,000,000 men without counting semi-military units. And in the interior they are working frantically in factories while we receive announcements of concentration of troops more important than ever before along our frontiers in the guise of maneuvers."

The huge figure is made up of $1,243,746,686 for the war department, $976,220,241 for the navy, and $641,593,799 for military and coast guard purposes. It does not include veterans pensions or support of veterans hospitals.

His companions' cries brought members of the yacht club, who with coast guardsmen dived for fifteen minutes before recovering the body.

COUNCIL ORDERS MEASURE TO CURB MENACE OF RATS

The city council yesterday instructed Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes to draft an ordinance which would make buildings secure against rats and thus curb the growing menace from these rodents. The measure is to be patterned after a model ratproofing ordinance prepared by the federal department of agriculture.

Ald. Joseph C. Ross [40th], chairman of the health committee, who introduced the resolution, said that a mere rat extermination project would not be sufficient. The proposed ordinance would make it unlawful to construct buildings not secure against rats and would contain provisions requiring the ratproofing of old buildings.

Ald. Roy E. Olin [8th] introduced an order directing the health and public works departments to seek a WPA project for eliminating weeds in connection with the approaching hay fever season. It was passed.

QUESTION:

WHAT'S BEHIND THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S STEADY CIRCULATION GAINS FOR THE PAST SIX YEARS?

In May the total daily net paid circulation of the Chicago Tribune gained 58,000 over May, 1938. It was the sixth consecutive May that Tribune total daily circulation increased over the May of the preceding year. The total circulation added since 1933 is more than 140,000.

ANSWER:

THE TRIBUNE'S CONSTANT STRIVING TO MAKE EACH DAY'S ISSUE BETTER THAN THE ONE OF THE DAY BEFORE!

A FEW RECENT EXAMPLES OF THE EDITORIAL ENTERPRISE WHICH MAKES EACH FRESH CONTACT WITH THE TRIBUNE AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE IN THE DAILY LIVES OF READERS

ENTERPRISE!—NATIONAL— Because they best told the story, the Tribune's picture diagrams of May 24, showing the operation of the navy's diving bell used to rescue the survivors of the Squalus, were picked up by the AP and used by more than 300 newspapers. The Tribune's exclusive telephone interview with Lieut. John C. Nichols, first officer brought ashore, was the best account of the sub disaster printed anywhere.

ENTERPRISE!—FOREIGN— Hours before Foreign Secretaries von Ribbentrop and Ciano signed the 10-year alliance between Germany and Italy, the Tribune on May 22 published the details of the pact, obtained in advance by Sigrid Schultz, chief of the Tribune Berlin Bureau.

FIRST WIREPHOTO COLOR PHOTOS— Thirteen hours after a Tribune cameraman had photographed in color the welcoming of King George VI. by President Roosevelt in Washington on June 8, Tribune presses more than 700 miles away were turning out the June 9 issue containing page-wide reproductions in color. It was the first time any newspaper delivered to readers a color photo of a far distant event in the same editions in which the event figured as spot news. It was the first time Associated Press Wirephoto facilities were utilized by any newspaper to present a spot news photo in color.

SINCE 1933, the Chicago Tribune has increased its total net paid daily circulation by more than 140,000! City and suburban daily circulation has gone up more than 110,000!

The addition of this important slice of Chicago's buying power is the result of the Tribune's continuing policy of making each individual issue a better newspaper than the last one! Building a better newspaper builds a bigger circulation. Month after month new thousands of readers turn to the Tribune because they get in it the news and entertainment and buying information they want.

For local retailers and national manufacturers alike, Chicago is a rich and productive selling area. And experience year after year has proved to these business men that they can best reach and sell Chicago's largest constant audience through the Tribune. As a result, they spend more for advertising in the Tribune than in any other Chicago newspaper.

In Chicago and suburbs, the Tribune reaches over 725,000 families—practically as many as any two other newspapers combined! It is the only newspaper reaching a majority of all families in metropolitan Chicago.

No matter what you have to sell, you get more for your money today . . . and establish a more solid foundation for business expansion . . . when you build your advertising program for Chicago around the Tribune.

The Tribune's rate per 100,000 circulation for general advertising has always been one of the lowest in the country. The May gain reduced it so that it is now less than 13c.

CITY OFFICIALS OBJECT TO 8 CT. CAR FARE PLAN

The local transportation committee of the city council will meet this morning to consider the transit lines' proposed new franchise for a unified transportation system in Chicago. The proposal was sent to Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the transportation committee, late Monday. It would increase street car fares from 7 to 8 cents, provide for a 10 cent fare on subways, elevated lines, and express buses and levy a 2 cent charge for transferring from street cars to lines with a 10 cent fare.

Mayor Kelly and members of the transportation committee said they were opposed to any increase in street car fares.

Challenge Need for 8c Fare.

"We intend to do everything we can to protect the interests of the car riders and the city," Mayor Kelly said. "So far the companies have not shown us why an 8 cent street car fare is needed.

"The city is opposed to several other provisions in the proposal. The valuation of $220,000,000 on the present properties of the surface and elevated lines appears excessive. We also disagree with the proposed terms of the compensation to be paid to the city in return for a franchise. Many of the key questions are still up in the air."

The transit lines propose to pay the city 3 per cent of the unified system's gross revenues. This sum, however, would be payable only after all other expenses have been paid. The mayor objects to this.

PWA Pleased by Progress.

Philip Treacy, attorney for the Public Works administration, yesterday called the proposed ordinance a forward step. He spoke at a hearing before Federal District Judge James H. Wilkerson at which he said he had recommended to Secretary of the Interior Ickes, that the July 1 deadline for city approval of the unified traction ordinance be extended. The PWA set this date in making its subway grant last fall.

Judge Wilkerson directed the three negotiators for the transit companies to resume conferences with the city in an attempt to reach an agreement. Negotiations were suspended early this month to give the companies an opportunity to draft their proposal for a franchise.

Walter A. Shaw, chairman of the negotiating committee, was instructed to report back to the court on July 24. The other two negotiators are Guy A. Richardson, president of the surface lines, and Col. A. A. Sprague, trustees for the elevated lines.

City to Ask Many Changes.

Ald. Quinn told the city council at its meeting yesterday that many proposals made by the companies would have to be changed drastically before he would vote for passage of the ordinance. He advocated continuance of the seven cent street car fare, reduction of the proposed valuation of the properties, and a change in the method of compensation to give the city "more assurance that it actually would be compensated."

"I am convinced," Ald. Quinn said, "that the unified system can operate successfully with a 7 cent street car fare."

The proposed valuation of $220,000,000, Ald. Quinn pointed out, is $25,000,000 higher than the valuation recommended in the Shaw plan. This plan was presented to the federal court last fall by Shaw, who is also the courts' traction adviser.

Meanwhile proposals for twenty-five surface lines extensions, eight new express bus routes, and the substitution of buses for street car on twenty-five existing routes were studied. City officials indicated these plans fell short of the city's expectations.

Plan New Equipment

Below are pictures of the types of new equipment which the transit lines would purchase under their proposal for a new franchise.

Hunt Spurred by Thefts from Wisconsin Lodge.

Hayward, Wis., June 27.—[Special.]—Bloodhounds and an eager posse containing several hundred heavily armed men were hot on the trail of Ray Olson, wanton killer of two deputies, tonight after the fugitive left clews to his whereabouts by a new series of depredations.

The slayer was believed to be surrounded in an area about six miles square in the vicinity of the Indian's cabin east of here, where he shot to death two volunteer deputies who tried to arrest him on June 17 for automobile theft.

A reward of $1,000, offered by the Sawyer county board for the north woods killer, dead or alive, spurred searchers who have been tramping the swamp and timber lands since the slayings.

Steals Car, Loots Lodge.

Coming out of his hiding place, after the manhunters had lost his trail for several days, Olson this morning stole an automobile and looted a lodge at Lake Namakagon. The car was found abandoned later in the day.

Sherif George Seehuetter said Olson stole a car belonging to Hulbert Prevo, proprietor of a lodge on the east side of Moose lake, about two miles from a swamp where possemen previously had believed they had him surrounded.

The slayer first had made an attempt to steal another car at the lodge, but in breaking a steering wheel lock he disabled the wheel. Then he took the other car, crossing ignition wires to start it.

Woman Sees Robbery.

Speeding down around the south end of Moose lake, the fugitive crossed Moose lake dam and drove along a fire lane toward Cable. A few miles from that town he broke into an inn on Lake Namakagon.

Mrs. Gail Reynolds, who lives in a cabin near the inn, saw a bearded man climb through a window of the lodge about 5:30 a. m. She gave an alarm and the robber broke through another window and fled. Investigation showed he had taken a stock of groceries and had looted the cash register of small change.

ST. CHARLES AXMAN GETS 1-14 YEARS FOR ATTACK ON WOMAN

Vivian Denton, 17 year old parolee from the St. Charles Training School for Boys, was sentenced yesterday to one to fourteen years in Joliet penitentiary for a hatchet attack on an aged farm woman near St. Charles.

Denton pleaded guilty in the Kane county Circuit court at Geneva to a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. He appeared indifferent as Judge Frank W. Shepherd passed sentence.

Denton attacked Mrs. Meta Christiansen, 77 years old, four hours after he had been paroled April 14 to her husband, Chris, a farmer near St. Charles. The attack occurred after Christiansen had driven to town and left the two at the farm. Denton told Mrs. Christiansen he would not work. She threatened to telephone school authorities. He attacked her with a hatchet and fled. He was captured two days later in Chicago.

Mrs. Christiansen was released from the hospital last Monday, but it was said her eyesight has been permanently impaired by the hatchet blows.

HIGHLAND PARK WIFE FILES SUIT FOR A DIVORCE

Mrs. Kathryn Stevens Stafford, 360 Park avenue, Highland Park, filed suit in the Circuit court at Waukegan yesterday for a divorce from Webster Stafford. She is the daughter of the late R. W. Stevens, who was an official of the Illinois Life Insurance company.

The Staffords were married in 1921. The bill related that they separated Dec. 22, 1937. Mrs. Stafford charged her husband deserted her and also that he struck her several times. At the request of her attorneys, Edwards & Bloch, Judge Ralph J. Dady issued an injunction forbidding Stafford to molest his wife or their children, Raymond, 14 years old, and Ann, 11.

PAINTERS' UNION HEAD SEIZED FOR TOTING ARSENAL

Geo. Henneman.

George Henneman, who got James Dungan's job as head of the painters' union when Dungan was slain Aug. 8, 1938, was arrested again last night. The charge, carrying concealed weapons, was no novelty. But the number and variety of weapons were. He had a .32 caliber automatic pistol in his pocket and a .38 caliber revolver, a pair of rubber gloves, a roll of 2 inch adhesive tape, and a blackjack in his car.

Henneman, who has been in and out of jails and courts a number of times for carrying weapons and as a suspect in the murder of his wife in 1936, was parked double in front of 5428 Wentworth avenue last night. Detective Robert Gibbons saw this and recognized Henneman. He went back to speak to him.

Henneman stepped out of his car and went into a saloon. While Henneman was demanding a drink, Gibbons came up behind him and took away the smaller gun Henneman was carrying. Then Gibbons searched the car and took the union boss downtown, where he refused any explanation.

CHARLES STREET ESTATE TOTAL IS PUT AT $230,192

An accounting filed yesterday showed assets of $230,192 in the estate of Charles R. Street, Chicago insurance executive named by the government as having handled the payoff in the Missouri insurance case which led to the sentencing to prison of Tom J. Pendergast, Democratic boss of Kansas City.

Street died in February, 1938. The government, as an outgrowth of the Missouri scandal, has filed a jeopardy assessment against the assets of the estate while it attempts to collect $220,892 in added income tax.

The City National Bank and Trust company, executors, in a petition to the board of tax appeals in Washington last January, denied that Street had paid $347,000 in connection with the Missouri fire insurance rate litigation.

Boss Pendergast and his henchman, R. Emmett O'Malley, former Missouri state superintendent of insurance, were sentenced to Leavenworth penitentiary May 22 for income tax evasion. It was charged they received $377,500 in 1935 and 1936 as a payoff to engineer a compromise of the litigation.

Chestertown, Md., June 27.—[Special.]—Richard Richardson, 21 years old, an amateur speedboat pilot of Angola Ind., and Miss Jean Cooper were killed this afternoon when Richardson's speedboat sidewiped a pier at the Chester River Yacht and Country club. Five other young women also were passengers in the speedboat but escaped injury.

Bandits Pick Wrong Time to Rob Collector; Miss $200

Three impatient bandits took $75 from Marvin Doyle yesterday as he was going into a Western Union Telegraph office at 1111 Broadway to collect the office receipts for the company. Had they waited until he was coming out, they would have got $200 more.

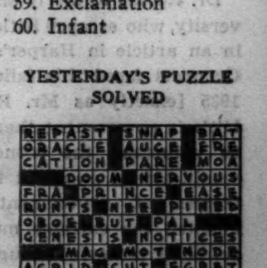
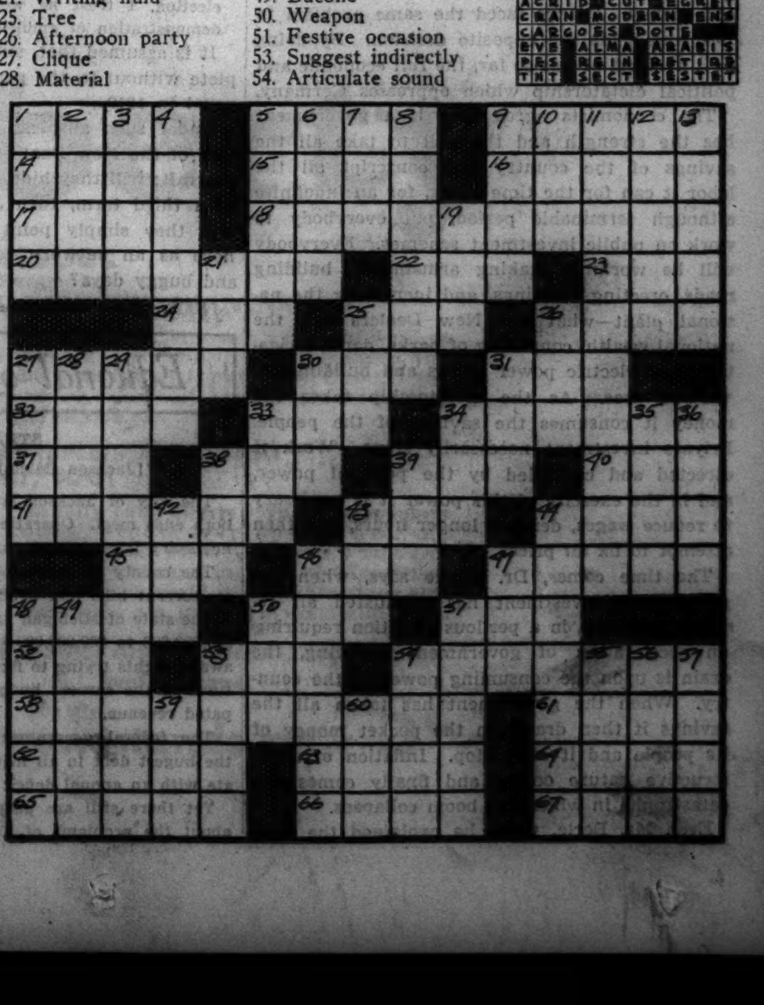
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





RELAXED! FREE!

You've hit your inner stride
. . . . when you regain healthy per-i-stal-sis

Kinks smooth out . . . you swing along with joy and ease . . . once you hit your inner stride!

Inner stride takes its pace from a contracting . . . expanding . . . contracting motion in the intestines known as per-i-stal-sis. It's a motion you don't even notice till it slows down. Then you have that heavy, constipated sensation.

To clear the way for normal elimination, you probably need a quick, thorough flushing-out. That's when to get Eno!

What fluid-action does

Eno has fluid-action. It also exerts a mild stimulation. By attracting moisture to the intestines from other parts of the body, it flushes away accumulated waste gently, thoroughly. What quick, welcome relief!

Now you're ready to get back on schedule! You can hit your inner stride again!

Do you need "alkalizing?"

Because Eno also helps neutralize excess stomach acids, millions use it for this purpose. They like its sparkling, tangy taste. So will you.

Try Eno, when you're off-stride. Notice the new freedom when peristalsis is rhythmic, easy. Buy Eno today, at any drug store.

AMERICA MUST CHOOSE ITS ROAD.

Revolutionary economists approve Mr. Roosevelt's new spending program. Economists who do not believe that free enterprise is dying a natural death do not approve. But whether they approve or do not approve, they agree as to the consequences. They are trying to tell the American people what they think has happened and what they think will happen. The revolutionary economists concede what the others assert.

The unanimity is remarkable, and people must, therefore, conclude that the decision to be made shortly by congress and to be carried later into political campaigns with a general popular vote as the determining factor will say whether the country is to succumb to the form of government prevailing in the European states, which have a controled national life, or will remain a free country in which citizens work for their living without being under the governmental department head, supervisor, and work boss.

It may be very difficult for any economist, public speaker, or public writer to develop the national consciousness to a recognition of the question to be decided. It is difficult because the mind tends to reject the theories which are so strange to the experience and expectations of the people. Many of the words necessarily used in presenting the question have been repeated so often, in so many different contexts, that they have ceased to have a meaning just at the time when they have become full of it.

People have heard so much of socialism and communism, of dictatorship and its elements of forced labor and managed industry that, although these conditions prevail over the larger regions of Europe, the American may be inclined to think the effort is to scare him with hobgoblins when he is told that certain economic influences have been released in the United States which in themselves tend almost irresistibly to add his country to the world's area of controled populations.

The American may think that something in the free air he now breathes will protect him from forces which have prevailed elsewhere. There he may be mistaken. If he is, he will be unable later to accuse the revolutionaries of intentionally deceiving him, because they are no longer doing so. They are giving him sufficient explanation so that, although it is by no means comprehensive, it is nevertheless enough to enlighten him.

When Mr. Roosevelt presented congress with his new spending program he revealed two things. One was that the period of governmental spending as pump priming had ended. The other, and necessary sequence, that what has been regarded as emergency policy was to become permanent. That is, the government no longer, even in theory, undertakes to prime the pump but to run it. Every one knows that pump priming has failed. If it had done what its proponents said it would, the idle men and the idle dollars would be at work. They are not, and Mr. Roosevelt and his revolutionary economists say that private enterprise and private enterprising have failed. So they take the next step.

Dr. Röpke, formerly an economist at Bonn university, who escaped Hitler and is now in Geneva, in an article in Harper's Monthly says that the Germans faced this failure of pump priming in 1935 [exactly as Mr. Roosevelt now faces it]. Hitler's government then had either to stop and to withstand the economic disturbance which would attend an about face or to proceed to extremes of government control. The Nazis adopted the extreme measures. They could do so, being powerful enough to conscript both labor and money. France faced the same problem in 1938 and made the opposite decision. By doing so it avoided, or has so far, the full economic and political dictatorship which oppresses Germany.

The economists agree that if a government has the strength and the will to take all the savings of the country and conscript all the labor it can for the time being, for an indefinite although terminable period, put everybody to work on public investment schemes. Everybody will be working, making armaments, building roads, erecting buildings, and increasing the national plant—what our New Dealers call the national wealth, consisting of parks, dams, irrigation, and electric power works and buildings of various uses. As the dictatorship takes the money it consumes the savings of the people. Private investment necessarily stops. Work is directed and controled by the political power, and in the exercise of this power it is necessary to reduce wages, demand longer hours, and then attempt to fix all prices.

The time comes, Dr. Röpke says, when the government investment has exhausted all reserves and then, in a perilous situation requiring an acceleration of government spending, the drain is upon the consuming power of the country. When the government has taken all the savings it then draws on the pocket money of its people and it can't stop. Inflation of a destructive nature occurs and finally comes the catastrophe in which the boom collapses.

Even Mr. Berle, when he explained the new capital outlay program to the national economic committee, said it represented so fundamental a change in the course of American life that it should be taken for other reasons "than relief of a series of temporary emergencies." Mr. Roosevelt asked congress to tack his bill to the WPA appropriation which must be made this week. That plan was abandoned. It had to be because the congressmen were alarmed.

Mr. Roosevelt and his advisers acknowledge that there have been six full years of failure, but they do not propose to accept the results and stop. They will go from the stage of pump priming to the next stage, just as the Nazis did, of permanent government spending with the understanding that government ownership and operation follows the outlay of government money. The government administrator follows the government dollar. The government accepts responsibility for the American economic system. Without authority that responsibility would the sooner collapse. The government must order and the citizen obey. On these twin necessities the all-powerful state is created.

Our communists join the revolutionary economists in approving.

NEW YORK AND ITS JUDGES.

Evidently New Yorkers expect little of their judges. If the standards of judicial conduct which prevail elsewhere were operative in New York a public investigation of the recent action ot Judge George Donnellan in General Sessions would be under way and his impeachment would at least have been threatened.

Judge Donnellan had before him nine of the principal electrical contractors in New York. They had been indicted on a number of counts for collusive bidding on contracts. The proceedings were instigated largely through the efforts of an independent contractor, Isaac Penner, who charged that at the heart of the conspiracy was the electrical workers' union. The union officials seem to have escaped indictment for reasons which are far from clear.

Judge Donnellan permitted the nine contractors to plead guilty to a minor count in the indictment, alleging a mere misdemeanor. Mr. Penner predicted, in letters sent to the judge himself and to the newspapers, that the defendants would be let off with suspended sentences and $500 fines. Judge Donnellan worked himself into a fine state of indignation and dared Mr. Penner to take the stand and repeat his charge. With great courage Mr. Penner accepted the challenge, repeated his statements, and assumed full responsibility for them. He seized the occasion also to charge a group of union officials in the courtroom with being the real racketeers and, in addition, to denounce Mayor La Guardia as "a monkey on the stick for labor."

Thereupon the judge did exactly what Mr. Penner predicted he would do. Fines of $500 and suspended sentences were ordered.

The judge's conduct was, to say the least, extraordinary and calculated to arouse suspicion in any reasonable mind. Mr. Penner, to be sure, may have made a lucky guess regarding the sentence, but in the absence of evidence to the contrary it seems more reasonable to assume that he had been correctly informed about the prospective sentence and, if that was the fact, there is a strong presumption of a prior understanding to which the judge was a party. To that circumstance must be added the judge's outrageous behavior toward Mr. Penner, who had displayed citizenship of a high order, and the failure to order a grand jury investigation of Mr. Penner's charges against the union officials.

Public opinion in New York and its vicinity is not alert to judicial abuses. That, no doubt, goes far to explain the degradation of the New York judiciary as exemplified in the recent conviction of Judge Manton, the resignation of Judge Thomas, and the numerous other judicial scandals which have followed Mr. Dewey's investigations.

WITH JEFFERSON LOOKING ON.

It is the invariable custom at national conventions of the Democratic party to hang on the walls of the convention hall immense crayon portraits of the fathers, patriarchs, and past leaders of the party.

These historic heroes, embalmed on canvas, are supposed to furnish the perspiring delegates with inspiration and high resolve. There on the walls above the assembly one sees, every four years, Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson, and, of late, Franklin Roosevelt. But in this Valhalla hangs, foremost and highest of all, Thomas Jefferson, the paternal ancestor of Democracy.

The New Dealers got by that embarrassment. But, in view of the continuing trend and the present third term ballyhoo, how will that founding father's countenance look to New Deal delegates when they realize that among Jefferson's last and most earnest warnings to the people of this nation was the following, written in 1826:

> The example of four Presidents voluntarily retiring at the end of their eighth year and the progress of public opinion that the principle is salutary have given it in practice the form of precedent and usage; insomuch that, should a President consent to be a candidate for a third election, I trust he would be rejected on this demonstration of ambitious views.

It is assumed that, since no convention is complete without it, the picture will be exhibited as usual in 1940.

Under such auspices will the resounding orators of the New Deal blush as they gaze on the portrait; will they hide this authoritative opinion of a third term, turn Jefferson to the wall, or will they simply point to their original party hero as an outworn remnant of bygone horse and buggy days?

STRANGE.

[Jackson (Mich.) Citizen Patriot.]

The city of Jackson is pinching pennies to make both ends meet. Operations have been curtailed, and necessary improvements are postponed.

The county of Jackson owes approximately $50,000 on current bills and debts to city and state.

The state of Michigan has a holdover deficit of from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000; and state officials are lying awake nights trying to figure a way to bring expenditures of the current budget into balance with anticipated revenue.

The federal government at Washington confronts the hugest debt in all history, and continues to operate with an annual deficit in staggering figures.

Yet there still are people here who are worrying about the problems of Europe!

Sheep Shearers in the Ozarks.

PART I.

That metallic clatter and clanking, that screeching of brakes in the lane shortly after breakfast, meant just one thing: The Sheep Shearers had come. The Jedge ran out to call the sheep, which were utterly bewildered at being brought back to the corrals so soon after being put out to pasture. Roy, the hired man, ran to help the two browned, overalled men untie a weird machine from the back of their antique car! I ran to look over the larder. The chicken, dressed the previous night for today's dinner, was promptly hung back in the well. Chicken is too common in the Ozarks to be set before guests. The Jedge, his sheep in the corrals, was dispatched to town for meat loaf and bakery buns, "boughten" food that would show our proper respect.

The shearing was a triumph of Ozark ingenuity. One of the shearers turned the crank of the machine that operated in some mysterious manner the shears wielded by his partner. Roy took each fleece as it came from the sheep, and with the aid of a home made hinged box and yards of string, tied it into a neat, four square bundle. I went up to the barn to see the work, but the perspiring shearers, stripped to their bib overalls, were so painfully embarrassed at being seen shirtless that poor Mildred, a bell sheep that was being defleeced at the moment, got a nick in her pink tummy. I departed in haste.

Dinner was served promptly at noon. Meat loaf, gravy, string beans, and mashed potatoes disappeared like magic. Bakery buns melted away. Bowls of crisp radishes and green onions were quickly depleted. The salad didn't fare so well. The garden lettuce was all right, but our guests eyed the cucumber with suspicion. Cucumbers are always served here swimming in vinegar along with slices of onion! French dressing was refused . . . only "furriners from the city," they implied, would eat that red stuff. One shearer tried an experimental spoonful of mayonnaise, but took only one bite. However, a steaming casserole, prepared in an inspired moment to make up for the lack of the mountaineers' beloved white gravy on the table, went over big. Each took two generous helpings, and I DO mean generous. At the second helping one shearer remarked: "Dang good, f'r city vittles!" Then I brought on the pie, made with fresh gooseberries and served piping hot with sirupy pinkish juice oozing from the jade green filling. This was finished, along with more coffee.

I thought the meal was ended, but the Jedge saw an eye directed at that casserole of "city vittles." Instantly he caught it up and said: "Here, boys, finish this! I'll have to eat it tomorrow if you don't."

There was not even a murmur of dissent. The "boys" quickly divided the remaining food in the casserole and ate it as the delectable conclusion of their meal. It was cheese-and-macaroni.

By Way of Report.

That dark eyed, tousle haired, unshaven man without a necktie you might have seen walking toward the loop yesterday with a wide eyed girl in a cotton frock on his arm was Francis Lederer and his wife Margo on their way to a Seventh Heaven rehearsal at the Civic theater. They rehearse every morning from 11 to 1 and every afternoon from 2 to 5. Margo is Mexican and her husband a Czech, and he has learned Spanish, but she finds learning his language difficult. They cook in both languages, however, and insisted on an apartment with a kitchen when they moved into the Ambassador.

After his appearance in Seventh Heaven Lederer will go to New York to replace Laurence Olivier as Katharine Cornell's leading man in No Time for Comedy. Producer Guthrie McClintick will be in Chicago next week to start rehearsing Lederer in the new rôle.

SOUTH SEA ISLANDS AID JAPAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONGKONG.—"The idea that the Japanese controled South Sea islands are mandated territory must be dispelled as soon as possible—for the islands form Japan's life line in the south in name and reality," said Capt. Yuzuru Okuma, when he returned to Tokio after serving as the Japanese naval resident officer in the South Seas for the past eighteen months.

Fully protected by the Japanese authorities, the natives of the islands are well aware of the real aspects of the Chinese-Japanese war, he said. Many of the natives, he added, have volunteered for service in China.

Changes in the names of the island to make them conform to Japanese styles were forecast by Capt. Okuma, who stated that studies to this end were already being made.

There are altogether about 1,400 islands and reefs controled by Japan south and west of the Philippines and north and east of New Guinea. All of them are said to be of great importance to Japanese national defense, economic development in the southern Pacific and in the development of the resources of tropical climates for the Japanese economic structure.

Declaring that the islands' importance increased as the war in China continued, Capt. Okuma pointed out that recently it was discovered that among other things which could be grown successfully on some of the islands were oranges, botanical fibres and perfumery material. There are also phosphate, bauxite and gold mines at Palao, Ponape, Yap, and other islands. The prospect for nickel mining is also said to be bright.

Living conditions on the islands, said Capt. Okuma, are good.

DISCOURAGE INSECTS IN VACATIONLAND.

A "change of scene" may be a vacation. Rural dwellers find a trip to a large city invigorating and the urban dweller is drawn just as naturally to the country. When the shack or cottage is opened for the summer not only is a different environment provided but a variation in duties as well. One of these diversions will be the war on insects, which must start at once in order to prevent the addition of flies, mosquitoes, ants, bees, wasps, spiders, hornets, and even snakes to the family circle.

Every one understands the importance of screens which are tight fitting and in good repair. But with the constant opening and closing of doors some of these pests may be invited to enter and make themselves at home. Once these visitors are admitted sprays and swatters may be resorted to; but it should be kept in mind that the eradication of breeding places is more essential. The greatest care must be used in the preparation and serving of food, as flies are known to carry filth and germs on their hairy legs. It may even be advisable to keep the baby's crib screened with mosquito netting.

If a person must be out of doors in the evening—when mosquitoes love to frolic about—a repellent may be rubbed on the face, hands, and legs to discourage bites. A good mixture consists of: ½ ounce of oil of citronella, ¼ ounce of spirits of camphor, ¼ ounce of cedarwood oil, and 2 ounces of liquid albolene.

In chigger, or red bug territory, dusting powdered sulphur on the legs and into the shoes and stockings is recommended. After a trip through the woods the skin and the clothing should be inspected to detect the presence of these invaders.

While many insects—such as dragon flies, ants, and the ordinary spider—are beneficial because they eat more pernicious vermin, it must be remembered that some spiders are dangerous. The bite of the female black widow, identified by the red patch on her abdomen, may produce symptoms resembling appendicitis. Facing such a catastrophe medical care must be secured as promptly as possible.

Bee stings are another source of trouble although every one does not react alike to their attacks. The venom may not only cause a local irritation but may affect the system as a whole, causing—in some cases—symptoms of shock. The stinger should be removed by lifting or scraping with a dull knife. If one attempts to grasp it with the fingers more poison will be squeezed into the lesion.

After any insect bite the skin should be cleansed thoroughly with soap and water and covered for several hours with gauze soaked in ammonia or a strong solution of baking soda. In severe swelling, ice bags or cold compresses may be employed. Tincture of camphor, alcohol, or calamine lotion will prove soothing. Scratching should be curbed, as bacteria are thus brought to the area by contaminated fingers. If systemic symptoms—such as fainting, collapse, or shortness of breath—appear, call a physician. In the meanwhile, if the patient is able to swallow, give a cup of strong coffee or a teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia, and keep him warm.

Rattlesnakes, water moccasins, and copperheads are venomous. If a person is bitten on the leg or arm, a tourniquet [tight bandage] should be applied above the wound, but it should not be too tight or kept on too long. This compression hinders the return flow of venous blood to the heart. The punctured area should be slashed with a razor blade or a sharp knife and the blood and virus sucked from the tissues. Medical aid should be obtained, as it may be advisable to administer antivenin.

We need not spoil our holiday by anticipating all the possible casualties that may occur, but we can use common sense. Some member of the family should be acquainted with the elementary rules of first aid. In addition, the location of the nearest physician or hospital should be ascertained; and some means of communication with the outside world—either by telephone or vehicle—should be available. We can then settle back and enjoy ourselves.

[Tomorrow the ravages of a special pest—the woodtick—will be described.]

HOW TO BE LONG WINDED.

P. F. writes: How can one develop a greater wind resistance? When I run a short distance I become breathless.

REPLY.

It is assumed that you have had a careful physical examination and that there is no trouble with the heart or the circulation. Begin by walking rapidly 25 to 50 yards. Keep the mouth closed, breathe through the nose, and swing the arms—flexed at the elbows—across the chest. The distance may be increased gradually and, later, short sprints may be attempted.

THRUSH IS CONTAGIOUS.

D. C. B. writes: Is thrush contagious? What is the treatment?

REPLY.

Yes. The condition is usually seen in children who are below par. This is the reason that nursing bottles and nipples are sterilized thoroughly by boiling. A dilute solution of alum or boric acid may be employed as a mouth wash. None of the material should be swallowed.

ESCROW FUNDS.

Chicago, June 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Would you advise me what procedure is necessary to secure a release of funds deposited in escrow in a bank now closed?

2. Is not the president or other official responsible for these funds? C. A.

1. If by funds you mean noncash assets which were to be held in kind and redelivered on demand, and if the assets are still in the possession of the receiver, you would clearly be in a position to reclaim them.

If on the other hand you mean that money was paid into the bank on the bank's promising to repay an equivalent sum at a later date, then you would take the same dividend as other creditors.

2. Not on the bare facts stated.

ANTI-THIRD TERM REASONS.

Olney, Ill., June 23.—Inasmuch as Mr. Ickes has submitted his reasons for wanting to draft his great and good friend, Mr. Roosevelt, for a third term, it appears in order that I might express my reasons why I don't want to see Mr. Roosevelt elected. Here they are:

1. Harold Ickes.
2. Henry Hopkins.
3. Henry [Corn] Wallace.
4. The bill to pack the Supreme court and the subsequent appointment of Black, Reed, Frankfurter, and Douglas.
5. Corcoran and Cohen and the rest of the "brain trusters."
6. The yearly increase of the national debt and failure to balance the budget.
7. Failure of Mr. Roosevelt to keep his campaign promises, and his failure to tell the people when he is a candidate what he proposes to do when elected.
8. Playing politics with relief, WPA, and other alphabetical agencies.
9. Sticking out the national chin in European affairs.
10. Encouragement of John L. Lewis and his C. I. O., and the decisions of the national labor relations board.
11. Stirring up class hatreds rather than pursuing his "good neighbor" policy at home.
12. The vast horde of pay rollers and others feeding at the public trough by reason of New Deal legislation.
13. The 11,000,000 yet unemployed after the waste of billions of dollars of taxpayers' money.
14. Mr. Roosevelt's record for the last six years.

DONOVAN D. MCCARTY.

CHICAGO'S POLISH SEIZURE.

Chicago, June 24. — A letter in the Voice of the People signed by Karl Weiss frightened me with the news that the Poles had seized Crawford avenue.

Where in the world were our defensive forces, our army and navy, not to mention the air force, while the strong arm of Poland stretched across 4,000 miles of land and sea and stole Crawford avenue right from under our noses?

I decided to investigate. Forcing my way westward I was surprised not to hear a gruff "Halt, who goes there" from a sentry. Reaching Crawford, to my surprise, I found in its place Pulaski road and I decided the report of the seizure was true. So I concluded to walk along Pulaski road and witness with my own eyes how my fellow Americans are being oppressed and persecuted. To my surprise, I found English was still being spoken, that business conducted by gentile and Jew seemed to be going on as usual. No smashed windows and no destitute people without a roof over their head

Then, "do my eyes deceive me? No, I can't be mistaken. It is Old Glory majestically waving in the breeze atop a tall building."

"Thank God," I cried, "Crawford avenue, or Pulaski road, is still a part of the United States of America."

A. J. PIERZYNSKI.

CLEVELAND AVENUE STILL THERE.

Chicago, June 25.—In today's Voice of the People a telegraph operator bemoans the loss of Cleveland avenue. If he'll take a trip on a Lincoln avenue car he'll find it's still there. Garfield avenue is gone because there is a street on the south side by that name. The new city ordinance prohibits two streets with similar names. HELEN ZUNKER.

A WORD TO THE POLES.

Chicago, June 22.—If the Polish people of Chicago were aware of the intense resentment aroused against them by the unfair political tactics of their leaders they would themselves denounce the attempt to grab Crawford avenue. Let them remember their own feelings about Hitler's attempt to grab part of the Polish corridor. WILLIS J. BLAKE.

WOULD REMOVE ONE TAX.

Houston, Tex., June 21.—At a time when statesmen generally are competing in the invention of new taxes, it should be of general interest that one of them, the dean of congress, proposes to abolish permanently the most destructive of all taxes.

The allusion is to Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, who has introduced and is now working for submission of a joint resolution for an amendment to the federal constitution, as follows:

"Section 1. The homestead of any head of a family, male or female, or of any citizen having one or more persons dependent on him or her for support, shall be exempted from taxation up to $5,000 of its value when occupied by its owner or by his or her dependents as a homestead; excepting only the tax required to pay state, county, municipal, and district bonded debt applicable to such homesteads and outstanding at the date of ratification of this article.

"Section 2. The congress and the states shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

Addressing a senate judiciary subcommittee in behalf of his resolution, Senator Sheppard said:

"We have already exempted schools and churches from taxation. The next logical step would be an exemption for homesteads, thus aiding to preserve the three fundamentals of civilization—the school, the church, the home.

"By gradually substituting freehold homestead ownership for migratory tenancy we will help to reëstablish our country as a land of permanent property owners, immune against the doctrines of despair which have lately led other great peoples to surrender their liberties into the hands of despotic rulers."

Submission and ratification of this amendment would give owners of state, county, municipal and district bonds an added guaranty of payment of interest and principal in full. The desire of homestead owners to gain entire tax exemption would hasten the redemption of such bonds. It would exercise a wholesome check upon further issuance of such bonds. FRANK PUTNAM.

LOTTERIES.

Chicago, June 22.—The bill legalizing state lotteries should be passed. If it fails of passage or is vetoed, I suggest that its proponents in the legislature immediately introduce a bill making it a penitentiary offense for any person to buy, sell, or possess any ticket on the Irish sweepstakes.

I defy the opponents of this bill to explain why a lottery operated by Americans for Americans is illegal while $12,000,000 worth of foreign lottery tickets are sold openly in this country.

ABNER DIETERS.

ON THE NOISY FOURTH.

Chicago, June 24.—Commissioner Allman and the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers are to be greatly commended for their efforts to decrease accidents by regulating the sale of fireworks for the usual celebrations July 4.

There is another phase of this holiday which is seldom considered. Toward the end of June birds and animals find the world a terrifying place of unexpected explosions and noise, all the more frightening because none of the lesser creatures can understand the change. Those who keep animals as pets are urged to keep both cats and dogs indoors as soon as the holiday noise commences and to show the animals additional kindness until conditions return to normal July 5. Many animals are known to fear thunderstorms and to cower in agonized fear during this great national celebration.

E. C. DOW,
Chicago Humane Education society.

A "LIFT" IN THE RAIN.

Chicago, June 22.—Mr. Average Motorist, you ought to be ashamed. To whiz past crowds of people in the drenching rain of Wednesday, when street car service was at a standstill, and not offer even a partial lift, I say for shame! Of course there are exceptions. One gentleman was kind enough to open his doors and take five of us to his destination, for which we were all profuse in our thanks.

I drive a car and don't believe in giving lifts under normal conditions, but had I driven yesterday and arrived at home without having given some one a break, I'd feel guilty as all get out. For goodness' sake, take pity on the folks stranded on safety islands or on curbs and save them an utterly ruined day, plus a trip to the cleaners. T. P. C.

HIS PROBLEM IN FINANCE.

Chicago, June 26.—Can any one tell me how to live on 74 cents for eight days? Being a working person, I must have carfare at least to go to and from work. I can show where my pay went since the middle of this month and how I netted exactly the above mentioned sum. I've just been told by court to be ready next week to pay a small sum to my wife's counsel over divorce proceedings. My monthly earnings come to about $175. My expenditures, not including carfare and food, amount to about $137. This includes payments on loans, alimony, rent, gas, and electricity. I would appreciate any advice as to how I might save something out of the 74 cents until July 1. ANOTHER FOR ALIMONY ROW.

ASK FOR MORE OF THE SAME.

Chicago, June 23.—For your editorial, "Pulaski vs. Crawford," I must congratulate you. It is worded and timed just right. Please let's have some more of this real American view. AMERICAN.

The FLAG is more than dyed bunting let's SALUTE it!

"I pledge allegiance to The Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands; one Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all"

One of the formalities, during the mid-year graduation exercises in a New York City high school, was the Salute to the Flag by the graduating classes.

Out of the class of about 600, a large number—at least 100—failed to participate in this ceremony.

There was no disorder—merely an embarrassing pause. The school authorities did not appear to be surprised. Are they accustomed to such expressions of "intellectual freedom" by their students?

And there was no newspaper mention of the incident. It was too commonplace to get a notice. As teachers know, and as thousands of high-school and college students know, it simply represented "advanced thinking," the "liberal viewpoint," now found in many schools in New York City and elsewhere.

Any public protest on this touchy subject would, of course, cause hysterics among the intelligentsia. Through talents developed by free schools under the Flag ; ; ; using to the utmost the publicity opportunities provided by a free press under the Flag ; ; ; the young non-saluters and their adult champions would proclaim, under the Flag, their inalienable right not to salute the Flag.

You can name the leaders—organizations and individuals—who would be out there martyrizing themselves in front of the flash bulbs and microphones.

You can hear them: "forces of reaction"... "Fascist elements" ; ; ; "economic royalists" ... "one-third of the nation" ; ; ; "horse and buggy" ; ; ; etc., etc.

Name your poison—it has been dished out pretty freely under the Flag—why shouldn't the Flag get spattered, too? If you were an impressionable youth, with youth's longing to be "modern"—why not a sit-down strike when the Flag goes by?

BUT WAIT. What is the news from Europe? What from Asia? Let's listen to the evening broadcast ; ; ;

Can that be the sound of people wailing . . . of people struggling to break through frontiers to reach . . . the Flag?

For pity's sake, turn the dial...Whose voice is this? Ah, it's that great European intellectual leader, recently landed on our shores. What is he saying . ; ; "Nowhere do people enjoy the intellectual and social and economic and political freedom found under the American Flag" . . . Our Flag?

TURN THE DIAL AGAIN. LIBERTY MAGAZINE SPEAKING:

The strongest force for freedom in the world today is the American Flag—with the enormous tradition and sentiment behind it in the minds of more than one hundred million Americans.

The Flag—stronger than foreign experiments—stronger than the theories of isolated groups at home . . .

This is freedom's greatest security. This is freedom's greatest symbol—and it's a whale of a lot more than dyed bunting. Willingly, gladly, proudly—LET'S SALUTE IT!

WOMEN GIGGLE AT BUCKNER'S BLUSH ON STAND

Broker Hints at Love for Loretta Young.

New York, June 27.—[Special.]—William P. Buckner Jr., Broadway playboy broker, testified in federal court today that he went to Hollywood last August and soon lost all interest in the $8,500,000 Philippine railway bond issue that he had been trying to have the Philippine government redeem.

Buckner blushed and appeared content to let it be assumed that Loretta Young, film beauty, was the reason for his change of heart. It has been reported, though not confirmed, that the two are or were engaged.

Three women are on the jury hearing the case before Judge Henry W. Goddard. They tittered and women among the spectators giggled at the apparent reference to Miss Young. Buckner then blushed more furiously than ever.

Explains His New Interest.

Buckner said he went to Hollywood to obtain funds to aid in his attempt to improve the rating of the bonds, discussed the matter with a night club operator, and then approached no others.

"I was interested in something else," he said. "I did not care about Philippine railway bonds."

"Why not?" asked Minton.

"Something changed my interest; that's all."

James Liddle, theatrical producer, a government witness, testified recently that he invested $10,000 with Buckner and received a letter from C. Wesley Turner, one of Buckner's co-defendants.

Other Affairs Dropped.

Turner wrote Liddle that he was having to do most of the work of interviewing such Hollywood personalities as Herbert Marshall and Frank Morgan, because Buckner was devoting all his time to sun bathing, cocktail parties, automobile riding, and the company of Loretta Young.

"He [Buckner] spends all his time with her and I don't know whether he is going to marry her or not," Turner wrote.

Buckner, nephew of an insurance executive, earlier had recounted fruitless visits he had with Paul V. McNutt, United States high commissioner to the Philippines, and with Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine commonwealth, when he was in Manila late in 1938 working for redemption of the Philippine railway bonds.

He and four others are on trial charged with mail fraud and conspiracy to rig the market price of the bonds.

One Visit with McNutt.

Saying his mind was chaotic about the whole bond situation when he flew to Manila, Buckner testified that former Senator Harry B. Hawes [D., Mo.] introduced him to McNutt, and added:

"McNutt said he couldn't help me at all. He referred to his own political situation."

He saw McNutt but once, he said.

Buckner said he was introduced to President Quezon by a newspaper editor. He did not discuss the bonds with Quezon, he added.

MOTORIST GETS 30 DAYS FOR FLEEING CRASH

Judge Thomas A. Green in Safety court yesterday sentenced Cornelius Porter, 42 years old, 1045 Chicago avenue, to the house of correction for 30 days on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. Porter was convicted of fleeing after the car he was driving struck another automobile June 25 at Howard and Clark streets. Judge Green said that he was sentencing him to the house of correction instead of the county jail because prisoners in the house of correction must do hard labor while there is little work for county jail inmates.

Rochelle, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—Fred Cooley, 40 years old, of Rochelle, was placed in an "iron lung" at Lincoln hospital today following an automobile accident. His neck was broken when his car struck a telephone pole and overturned on route 51 nine miles north of here.

BE CAREFUL! STAY SOBER JULY 4TH, DRIVERS WARNED

Lower Death Toll This Year Predicted.

Take it easy. Don't take chances. Don't drink. And be alive on the 5th. The Chicago Motor and Illinois Automobile clubs gave this advice yesterday to Fourth of July motorists.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the motor club, predicted that because July 4 is on Tuesday this year the toll of deaths and injuries would be lower than that for the three day holiday week-end last year, in which seven were killed and 152 were injured in the Chicago area.

Child Killed by Truck.

Dolores Pratt, 7½ years old, 4520 Harrison street, was killed last night when she was struck at Kilbourn avenue and Harrison street by an automobile driven by Mrs. Clara Puzes, 36, of 4702 North St. Louis avenue.

Alex Levin, 57 years old, 4715 North Washtenaw avenue, died in St. Elizabeth hospital of a skull fracture suffered earlier in the day. Levin walked into the side of a truck in front of 1357 North Western avenue. William Scheck, 2421 North Western avenue, the truck driver, was not held.

Dies from Crash Injuries.

William Juern, 8600 Callie avenue, Morton Grove, died in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, of injuries incurred June 17 when his car was in a collision at Harlem and Milwaukee avenues.

William Wade, 7 years old, colored, 4615 Indiana avenue, was killed last night in front of 4618 Indiana avenue by an automobile driven by Joe Clark, also colored, 2934 Ellis avenue. Clark was held for the inquest.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 393 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 306 had been killed in Chicago, where 9,976 were injured in the same period.

Many Guests at Resorts for Long Week-end

BY JUDITH CASS.

GUEST rooms and cottages—the latter becomes more popular every season both with hosts and guests—at all the resorts irly near Chicago will be filled to verflowing this coming long week-nd.

The four day week-end will be rticularly gay at Harbor Point in orthern Michigan, where the junior Edward Harts are giving a dinner rty Saturday night; the Kenneth rpenters a party on Sunday, and e junior Joseph E. Otises their usu- beach picnic and fireworks show Monday night.

The Otises will have a wedding at eir attractive Harbor Springs farm ter in the summer, for the daugh- r of the family, Miss Nancy, plans have a Labor day wedding. Her gagement to Frank B. Johnston . was announced recently.

A community picnic and fireworks splay will be the highlight of the eek-end festivities at Fish Creek the Door Peninsula in Wisconsin. will be on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Rogers and eir children are leaving tomorrow r their summer home at Fish Creek. eir week-end guests will be the get Cadys and Prentiss Andrews. r. and Mrs. John W. Root and the thanial Lanes will share a guest ttage at the hotel for the long eek-end.

illiam Wallers Will ave Family Party.

The William Wallers will have a mplete family party at their Har- r Point home over the week-end ice Lieut. William Waller III. and s bride will be going there from lfridge Field.

Lieut. Waller's cousin, Robert T. heeler, and his wife, who are in the st now, will spend the week-end iling their yacht from Belmont Har- r to the Point. Later this summer e Wheelers will take his sister and other-in-law, the Henry L. McIn- res, on a cruise.

The McIntyres and their baby will with his mother, Mrs. Joseph S. cIntyre at her Roaring Brook home er the week-end. Mrs. McIntyre's other, Mrs. Robert C. Wheeler, has home at the Point.

old Week-end Reunion Wausaukee Club.

The Independence day week-end ll mark the gathering of many of e old-timers, and new members, , of the Wausaukee club in Wis- nsin. Mrs. Melvin A. Traylor and r son Mel Jr., already are in their bin, where they will be joined on iday by the former Nancy Traylor ift, now Mrs. Marcy T. Weeks.

Mrs. Traylor and Mrs. Weeks will end most of the summer there, but ung Mr. Traylor will be leaving em in August, for he goes then on ornithological expedition to Mex- and Yucatan. E. Wyllys [Bill] drews IV. will be with the same pedition.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Slade and eir charming sub-deb daughter, irley, will go north on Friday to end the summer in their Wausau- e house.

The Leslie Gordons, who bought a bin at the Wausaukee club last ar, are in it this summer and have th them for a fortnight's visit his other, Mrs. Thomas W. Ritchie. s. Ritchie will go west after she ncludes her visit with the Gordons.

Mr. and Mrs. Telfer MacArthur and eir daughter, Miss Dorothy Mac- thur, are going to their cabin at e Wausaukee club for the long liday week-end. They do not spend whole summer there any more ice they built a house in Liberty- le. The Allyn Warrens again have ken the MacArthur cabin in Wis- nsin during the warm weather onths.

The Edwin C. Austins and their ughters, Barbara, Patricia and isabeth, will be in their Glencoe

Smart New Turban for Summer

A smart new summer turban is unusually cool and trim because of the crisp printed cotton material. It is swathed high over the headline and has twin streamers with fringed edges that can be worn down the back or as an ascot scarf tucked in the neckline of a suit jacket.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

One beauty specialist has created a beauty kit that is a challenge to all others on the score of good looks, size, price, and practicality. No one knows better than we do how many kits there are on the market, and how few practical ones are among those offered. This one strikes us as being exceptionally good.

It is a very smart bag, triangular in shape, made of fabricoid in patent leather or alligator grain. Colors are black or rose-brown, the latter a most attractive shade that will harmonize with just about all other colors. The lining is impervious to grease or water and is washable; the color of this is a pretty apricot.

What we like most about this little kit is that the beauty aids it contains are all snugly ensconced in a removable compartment that can be lifted out and set anywhere. You can put it on your lap, on the dressing table ledge in a train, or balance it most anywhere you find yourself when away from your own boudoir.

This tray is fitted with plaskon jars containing cleansing cream, soothing cream, makeup film, and face powder. There are also two bottles, one filled with a mild tonic and the other with a smoothing lotion that can be used on your hands. These stand upright on the tray, of course, so there is no danger of spills or leakage.

On this same tray, by some miracle of efficient arrangement, you will also find compact rouge, lipstick, mirror, and a comb. Even with all this, there is room in the bag for such personal gadgets as nail file, hair pins, or whatever the user might fancy in the way of small first aid implements.

It's really a remarkable beauty bag. One that will never be excess baggage but actually a small, lightweight kit that will be useful to women of all ages.

Betty Browning Is Honored by National Press Women

Miss Betty Browning, club editor of THE TRIBUNE, was awarded a citation by the National Association of Press Women, which ended a three day convention in New York last night. The citation reads "Constructive interest in the activities of women in the Chicago area, and throughout the nation. Her activity and her knowledge of things that concern women have made her department a vital part of the life of her community."

Parasols to Add Fascination to Summer Frills

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Wonder if the present generation of shoppers will have to take lessons in parasol routine. How to furl, unfurl, and raise them with long forgotten grace and rhythm. For decorative silk parasols, flattering sunshades are back again. Even though it took Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain to cross the seas and start the fun, it's definitly a new and exciting accessory fashion.

You'll find a most absorbing collection of these charmers featuring unusual beauties with long, slim handles in either a pale beige or with the chalk white painted handles and ribs. The striped affairs are quite blinding. The solid colors in emerald green, ruby red, and pastels are also something that will cause no end of approving comment.

And they will be seen almost everywhere with the exception of the early morning train to the office. It doesn't take any particular gift of prophecy to know that this summer's grandstand crowds will blossom with the new loot.

All the fluttery chiffons, the ruffled cottons in pastel tints, and all the summer sheers will be even more picturesque with one of the newest sunshades over the headlines.

They're romantic, colorful, and as feminine as a lipstick. If you can't bring yourself to choose one of the ruffled affairs, you can find the same jewel-like colors in the untrimmed models for less money. None of them are prohibitively expensive, and what they'll do for a general midsummer sag of spirit is something to cheer for.

The esthetic souls that have avoided the goldfish bowl variety of cellophane umbrellas will no doubt accept these delightfully feminine creations instantly with no complaints.

Fashion photograph . . . navy blue and white printed cotton is used for this cool summer turban for street wear. The material is like an India print, fine, smooth and crisp. Enough of the fringed ends are available for a neck scarf effect when tucked in the neckline of a jacket. Or the ends can be worn as back streamers.

Crippled Evanston Youth Heads Junior B'nai B'rith

Port Jervis, N. Y., June 27.—[Special.]—Joseph Borenstein, 20, Northwestern university freshman, a sufferer from infantile paralysis who gets around on crutches, was elected grand president of Junior B'nai B'rith today. The organization is the biggest Jewish boys' organization in the United States and Canada. The sixteenth annual convention closed today.

New York, June 27.—(AP)—Miss Bianca Duncan Noel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Noel of New York, was married today in St. James Episcopal church to Robert Taft, son of Senator and Mrs. Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati and grandson of Mrs. William Howard Taft and the late President.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Our Town.

Hollywood, Cal., June 27.—Last year the movie directors favored he-men lovers. . . . Witness Fredric March K. O.'ing Carole Lombard in "Nothing Sacred"; Herbert Marshall splattering a pie on the face of Barbara Stanwyck; Tyrone Power wrestling Alice Faye to the rugs in "In Old Chicago," and John Garfield slapping a girl in "They Made Me a Criminal" after she got fresh.

This year the trend has switched and the girls are getting even. . . . In "Dodge City" Ann Sheridan flattened Alan Hale with a punch and also took a sock at Jim Cagney in "Angels with Dirty Faces." . . . In "Gone with the Wind" Vivian Leigh lets Gable have a slap across the mouth. . . . In "Each Dawn I Die" Jane Bryan lets go with a right hand peg at George Raft. . . . And in "Dust Be My Destiny" Priscilla Lane slaps John Garfield for talking out of turn. . . . I remember way back when Rudolph Valentino actually clinched with a heroine without getting floored by a right hand uppercut.

Mike Curtiz directing a scene: "Listen, all you extras. In this you are supposed to be poor and hungry, like European pheasants" . . . what a man. . . . The column I wrote about him last week annoyed him: "Why do you kid me because I speak in broken handwriting?"

Columbia is giving Joan Blondell's good looking legs a heavy advertising play. . . . Add local miracle men: Felix Young, who took over the Trocadero when his best friends urged against it, and made it into a big money maker.

No more fascinating backstage stories than those to be found within the covers of "From Ragtime to Swingtime," Isidore Witmark's recollections of Tin Pan alley as told to Isaac Goldberg. . . . James Gibbons Huneker, famous music critic and nephew of Cardinal Gibbons, despite his Celtic background always insisted that nobody could write good music unless he had a strain of Hebraic blood in his veins.

He told this to Victor Herbert one day at Luchow's. . . . "I'm Irish," said Herbert. "My mother was Irish. My grandfather, the illustrious Samuel Lover, was Irish." Huneker snapped back: "That proves my contention. Now I believe, more than ever, that the Irish were one of the lost tribes of Israel."

For once in his witty career Victor Herbert could not think of a topper. . . . The book is crowded with colorful, intimate glimpses of the great names of American popular music. . . . Mark it down as a "must" on your reading list.

Add slap-happy data: The United States government made the usual deductions for old age pensions from the checks of twenty babies, six to fourteen days old, who appeared briefly in Warner's "A Child Is Born." . . . Shirley Temple, the Dionne Quints, Jane Withers, and Baby Sandy are other old age pensioneers.

Reservations for the first flight of the Pan-American Clipper were made several years ago, naturally. . . . What makes it a grim story is that reservation No. 2 went to Wiley Post . . . No. 3 was awarded to Will Rogers.

Sigrid Gurie gets the Danielle Darrieux rôle in "Rio," at Universal, and is a cinch to do a grand job in the Stavisky story. . . . She was swell in "Algiers" but just unlucky enough to get tossed in with the fairly sensational debut of Hedy Lamarr in the Wanger flicker.

Clem McCarthy, commenting on the Pancho Villa horse racing story told in this space, supplies the name of the filly on which the bandit general made his bet at Tia Juana. . . . The filly was Lady Panchita. . . . Kay Francis and Baron Barnekow will be married after he returns here the end of July. . . . Incidentally, Kay is terrific in RKO's "Memory of Love."

No youngster has such a clean look about her as youthful Bonita Granville. . . . The studio wags say that the minute you hire a director with a foreign accent, prepare to engage fifteen of his pals. . . . It's quite a racket. . . . Overnight dialogue coaches, masseurs, plot motivators, story-line hunters, and other vague celebs appear at so much per. . . . All with foreign accents.

Miss Helen Busch, Theodore Chapman to Be Married Today

Theodore S. Chapman of the law firm of Chapman & Cutler, and Miss Helen Busch, daughter of Francis X. Busch, former corporation counsel, will be married this morning. The wedding will be a quiet ceremony in the Busch home at 566 Ash street, Winnetka.

Chapman, who is 61 years old, was divorced by Mrs. Luella Benson Chapman in 1923. Miss Busch, a teacher at Monticello college, is 35 years old. She formerly was the wife of John S. Morgan. Chapman and his bride will live at 1242 Lake Shore drive.

Good-bye To Vienna

By Olga L. Rosmanith

(Copyright: 1939: By News Syndicate Company, Inc.)

SYNOPSIS.

An American girl and her Viennese sweetheart, Franz Gruenwald, in a café in Vienna, hear a radio announcement of Hitler's entry into Austria. The girl, Marian, has been staying in Franz's home, studying voice. Franz fears for his foster father, Prof. Josef von Plasy, author of a recent anti-Nazi book. He refuses to flee the country and leave his wife, Gisela, and son Johann, who has the mind of a child. Leopoldine, a pro-Nazi woman surgeon, in love with Franz, warns him to send the American girl home. Her brother, Karl, is a Storm Trooper. Von Plasy is taken off to jail to die from shock. In order to take Gisela's money out of the country to deliver to her friend, Emil Wiedermann, in Riga, Marian invests it in rare stamps. Herr Speyer, the stamp merchant, guesses her purpose, but is sympathetic and asks her to deliver a picture to a friend of his in Riga, a Mme. Lonska. Marian leaves without telling Franz her purpose. Franz loses his job. When Leopoldine secures one for him he accepts it for the sake of his dependents.

INSTALMENT XV.

A HAPPY SOLUTION.

It was odd how Herr Wiedermann's ready friendliness and kind solicitude made Marian feel at home in the strange northern city, so full of lush green parks and yet so utterly unlike the mellow elegance of Vienna. One moment of his warm, firm handclasp and half an hour of his conversation and Marian felt as if she had known this man and trusted him most of her life.

Nothing had been conveyed in correspondence but a request to help the visitor and Gisela's domestic tragedy was news to him. Marian told him across the lamplit dinner table in the downstairs tavern of the hotel. She saw his frank, freshly colored face stiffen and a shadow darken his clear, youthful eyes. "That's bad," he said, "very bad."

"Gisela is the bravest person," said Marian. "She cared for him so much that she prefers it to prison. For his sake she thinks that would have been worse."

"I knew him," said Herr Wiedermann, "and she is right."

"It is hard to think like that," Marian pondered aloud, thinking of Franz. "I couldn't. While there is life there is the comfort of hope."

"Gisela is a very exceptional woman." Herr Wiedermann hesitated, then decided he could trust Marian. "That is why I am not married. She chose him—which was natural. But for me it was impossible to think of anybody else."

Marian's mind leaped at once to an inevitable conclusion. This was Gisela's future. She would be happy again, her life plain sailing. She had looked her age of late, but before that she had never looked a day over thirty. She was actually thirty-nine. The professor had always seemed to Marian, dear though he was, much too old for his beautiful wife.

Herr Wiedermann was not so hopeful, or he did not think on the same lines.

"I am afraid for her. She has a deep nature. She will never get over it. Tell me what is going on in Vienna? What kind of life it offers for her? What she is likely to do next?"

"It offers no kind of life for any one with a warm heart or a free soul. And for her it is doubly hideous because of its memories. Her only chance of happiness is to get out and begin a new life somewhere else."

Now he did brighten. "Of course. She must come here—at first, at least. I will arrange everything. I will help her."

"And Johann? You know about him. Hilde is in America, safe and sound. There will be no trouble about Hilde."

"Yes, I know Johann. He can live on my farm and help take care of the animals. He will be really useful. He understands them——"

Marian felt the weight that her friend's grief had laid on her shoulders beginning to lift from her. "How good you are. She told me what a good friend you were. No wonder."

Herr Wiedermann looked at Marian in genuine surprise. "I love her," he said simply. "What is love for?"

"But you said yourself you were afraid she would never get over it. It might be true, you know——"

"What difference does that make? Love should not ask returns. When I love some one I serve him."

"So that is what love means?" Her voice was low as if she were speaking to herself.

Marian explained her mission to Riga with mingled pride and apprehension—apprehension lest she had been the dupe of her instincts and the stamps were other than what they seemed.

Herr Wiedermann could not conceal his astonishment. "Your own idea, you say? That was truly resourceful in one so young. I know nothing whatever about philately, but I have a friend who does. He is one of the leading dealers in Riga. In him we can safely place our trust——"

Marian now unclasped Gisela's necklace from her neck. "I shall be glad to hand these over also—these, too, I smuggled out."

Herr Wiedermann fingered the pearls a long time before he wrapped them tenderly in a silk handkerchief and put them in an inner pocket. "They were her mother's, I believe. I will not let her part with them for money. She was wearing them when I first saw her, I don't like to recall how many years ago."

"Then you once lived in Germany," she asked him, "or did you meet her here?"

"I'm a native of Munich, but long before I left I had dealings in the Latvian timber business. My forefathers planted forests here. But that's another story. When the Nazis came into power I disliked their ideology so much that I couldn't get out fast enough. I thought I'd come here till I found a better place to go. I prospered, so I've been here ever since."

"You like it here?"

He opened his wide, square hands. So so. It is peaceful and genial, but a backward country. However, it would be all the heaven a man could ask if Gisela came."

"Would it be difficult for her to enter the country as a resident?"

"Not at all. I have friends in high places. I am very fortunate because life has blessed me with such loyal and helpful friends."

Because you know how to be one, thought Marian sagely. But she said, "I had, of course, thought of my family trying to get her into America, but I can see this would be even better for her."

"Indeed, yes. Please write to her immediately and let me start all the necessary formalities at once——"

"For Johann, too?"

"Naturally."

She was wakeful and restless when he left her at 10 o'clock. Her mind was lively with the problem of how to let Gisela know what she had accomplished. She sat at the little writing table in her bedroom and drew out a sheet of note paper. Then she realized she had better wait till Herr Wiedermann's friend had seen the stamps. She did not know even yet if she'd safely rescued Gisela's money.

Herr Wiedermann called her before she was up. He had given the parcel of stamps, both cheap and rare, into his friend's hands in the Teatro Iela, and in a day or two they would hear the news, good or bad. Was there anything else he could do for her while they waited the philatelist's report? Surely you would like me to show you something of the city?"

"That would be delightful. But what about your work?"

"It can wait. I will call for you in my car an hour from now. That will give me time to dictate some correspondence. The rest can certainly wait."

He took her to the water front to watch a North sea cargo boat load his timber. There was a huge consignment of pine and a smaller load that seemed precious. "That's seasoned silver birch. They make it into very fine furniture——"

"It seems a shame," said Marian. "Coming through the forests in the train I thought I had never seen anything so exquisite as the silver birches."

"But there are thousands of them, Fräulein. And I plant a new tree for every one I cut down. There are more trees than people here. You must go out and stay at one of the forest settlements by the beach on the Rigas Jurmala."

"I have a package from the philatelist in Vienna to a lady who lives there."

"Good." He took her by the elbow and piloted her through the crowded cargo waiting on the quay to be loaded, led her to the shining new American car that awaited them. "We will have some lunch and drive out there this afternoon."

Finds Beau Is Parlor Hound, Nickel Nurser

We suppose all girls, at one time or another, encounter that man who feels he does enough by favoring a girl with his presence at her home frequently and often.

Probably, at that, all might run smoothly. But the rub is that after the girl has thrown open her front door—and refrigerator door, we might add—when an occasion arises for the young man to spend money he bethinks himself of another girl, and one, usually, who offers none of the first one's hospitality.

Girl Number One finds this pretty hard to take. As Mitzi says: "The nerve of him calling up the next Sunday night asking if he can come up for supper!" This, you understand, after a long period of making himself at home in Mitzi's menage, and on the previous Saturday night having squired a fair young person to a function that would have called for considerable money spending.

The question to be settled, and which Mitzi will have to do for herself, is whether the friendship is worth continuing. Too, she will have to decide in her own mind whether her present status as a good sport and pal hasn't been self-earned. There are girls who bring this sort of treatment upon themselves. They never ask for anything and, consequently, are never thought of as due to be on the receiving end. They, in fact, take over the whole business of being host. It's human to take what comes easily and show little or no appreciation for it. The real trouble lies in the inconsistent attitude of the girl. She gives the man no hint of her longing to be taken out, and resents his neglect in this respect. And she keeps on giving, but resentfully, when she has a general idea that it is all for naught.

The plain truth is that men, young and older, will take what comes easily and because of its ease forget that appreciation is in order.

Legs Should Be Kept Well Hidden in Public Conveyance

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Rushing homeward, we were startled to hear a loud "Ouch" come from the attractive girl preceding us into the car. In the seat right by the door was a girl passenger with her legs crossed, one foot extending far into the passageway. A shaggy buckle was on her shoe. This caught in the entering passenger's stocking and there was a run and the disgusted "Ouch!" which any of us femmes would deem mild language under the circumstances.

There isn't any other moral than that legs should be kept out of passageways. In this case it would have been doubly wise, for the tripper's stockings were rolled just below the knees, leaving an expanse of flesh between them and the skirt hem. Every eye in the car was riveted on the sight. But we fear the girl was tough enough to be immune. Maybe she wasn't, though, but that's the impression lent, which may add a second moral.

"When women are silly enough to turn away from the things that they know are flattering, just because shoe manufacturers would like to enjoy a trick fad, I'm discouraged!" Miss Head was talking of some of the shoddy footgear seen and shoddy foot treatment. Substituting flat heels for shoes with high heels for dinner and evening wear was Miss Head's momentary peeve. But there's argument in favor of the more comfortable shoe for dress wear. However, she is right when she says that women's legs deserve every break they can get. We do not think feet, for instance, are getting any break when a long, big toe extends an inch or more beyond the open shoe tip. That is not being properly fitted in an open-toed shoe. The toe should remain a bit behind the actual tip of the shoe.

NEGLECT—or ignorance—about feminine hygiene is one fault most husbands cannot forgive. If there is any doubt in your mind about this important subject, ask your doctor about "Lysol". For more than 50 years it has earned the confidence of so many doctors, nurses, and wives. Probably no other product is so widely used for this important purpose, as "Lysol". # Many Guests at Resorts for Long Week-end ome except for occasional week-ends until August, when they will go to their Wausaukee place for a month.

Oconomowoc Horse Show Opens Friday.

Another attraction of the week-end will be the Oconomowoc Horse show, to be held on Friday and Saturday at Fred Pabst's farm. The festivities will close with a dance Saturday night at the Oconomowoc Lake club. A number of Chicagoans will exhibit, among them Mrs. Kimball Salisbury, Mrs. William M. McIlvaine Jr., the Dennison B. Hulls, Mrs. Louis F. Swift, Robert and Leonore Cudahy, Miss Betty McGuire, Maj. Gen. Karl Truesdell, Maj. Paul Morris, and Miss Pat Lawlor.

Not all of the week-end's gayety is to be out of town. The Charles W. McNears have planned a barbecue picnic at their bungalow in Highland Park on Friday night. The attractive invitations reveal a happy group roasting whole chickens on sticks over a bonfire.

Deborah Childs Will Be Bride on July 29.

At a dinner party at home in Hinsdale last night Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Childs announced the engagement of their daughter, Deborah, to Hamilton Barksdale Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson Brown of Port Deposit, Md.

The announcement came as a surprise to the dozen and a half young women at the dinner, all of whom have grown up in Hinsdale with the bride-to-be.

Mr. Brown, who just was graduated from Williams, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Childs earlier this month and is returning from New York today. Miss Childs was graduated from Smith college two weeks ago. She and Mr. Brown will be married on July 29.

Mrs. Vance D. Chapline and her daughters, the Misses Cynthia and Frances Morgan, are leaving tomorrow for Washington, D. C., after a visit on the north shore. They lived here until the marriage last August of Mrs. Christopher Lyston Morgan and Capt. Chapline of the navy.

Capt. Chapline is being transferred to Long Beach, Cal., the middle of July so the family will move west at that time. His elder daughter, Dorothy, will return to Washington in the autumn for her last year at the Cathedral school, but little Frances Chapline and the Morgan sisters will go to school on the west coast. Miss Cynthia finished at the Warrenton Country Day school in Virginia this year.

Meeker Grandchildren Will Tour Europe.

Three of the Arthur Meekers' grandchildren will sail for Europe today to spend the summer there. They are Miss Joan Gray, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Horace Gray of Montecito, and Ambrose and Nevil Cramer, sons of Mrs. Frank V. Lloyd of the same place. The trio will bicycle through Ireland and then will tour England and France. They will go to Switzerland to visit their uncle, Arthur Meeker Jr., who has a chalet on Lake Lucerne.

Miss Gray and Nevil Cramer will sail for home on Aug. 23 but Ambrose will join Peter Vredenburgh and travel until fall.

Ambrose Cramer was graduated from Yale on June 10. Horace Gray Jr., who goes to the University of Virginia, is motoring across the continent to spend the summer in San Francisco working in a law office.

The day before Richard Mellier Burnes received his diploma at Harvard university he and his wife, the former Miss Ruth Carney of Boston, became the parents of a son, James Nelson Burnes.

Mrs. Robert M. Roloson, the infant's paternal grandmother, has gone east to her summer home at Cotuit, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Burnes will celebrate their first wedding anniversary on Friday.

Evanston Club Holds Garden Walk Today

Evanston Garden club members are hoping for a bright, sunny day, not too warm, for their second garden walk of the season. It will be held from 2 to 6 o'clock this afternoon.

The gardens to be opened are those of Mrs. Robert L. Scott, Mrs. William B. Johnson and Mrs. Wilder A. Pickard, which are close together at Greenwood boulevard and the lake, and those of Mrs. George L. Wilkinson at 1027 Greenwood; of Mrs. Thomas H. Eddy, at 1558 Ridge road, and of Mrs. Lansing B. Warner in Hubbard Woods.

Tea will be served at Mrs. Warner's, overlooking the lake. Tickets at fifty cents each, which includes tea, may be purchased at any of the gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason F. Whitney are opening their home at 2767 Euclid Park place in Evanston this afternoon for a party for the Illinois Opera guild.

WEDDING

Miss Lorraine Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Errett Watson of Chicago, will become the bride of Keith Irving Parsons this evening in the Joseph Bond chapel at the University of Chicago. The Rev. James Madison Stifler will officiate.

Mrs. Luis Walter Alvarez of Berkeley, Cal., will be matron of honor. Mrs. Alvarez is the former Geraldine Smithwick of Chicago. The bridesmaids will be Miss Ruth Parsons, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Frances Harper Gethro, Mrs. Hugh Hazelton Jr., Miss Elizabeth Patterson, Miss Katherine Trees, and Mrs. William Dudley Watson.

Mr. Parsons, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parsons of Davenport, Ia., will have his brother Russell as best man. Ushering will be Edmund Rex Adcock, Warren Askew, Edward Cullen, Hugh Hazelton Jr., Robert Howard, and William Dudley Watson, brother of the bride.

A reception will be held at the South Shore Country club. After a wedding trip in eastern Canada the couple will make their home in Chicago.

Fashionable New Lingerie

WOMAN'S OR MISS' PRINCESS SLIP.

The fashion for sheer blouses and dress tops brings a new-old style of lingerie to the fore. Under the transparent toppers the princess slip must do its best for chic, so we give it ribbons and laces to make it feminine and decorative. The pattern today provides for just such a slip. It has a square neckline with lace shoulder straps to match the lace around the top. Through the latter ribbon is run in beading effect. The slip itself is paneled for a slim fit, and gives way to a flared hemline, which is ruffled with lace and beaded to match the neckline. You need not necessarily use lingerie silk for this slip. Cottons are ace possibilities and launder beautifully. Don't overlook nainsook. It's all silky and soft, and cool as ice.

The other version of the slip, with built-up shoulders, is one women with mature figures will like because it absolutely will not "bind." It has a rounded neckline. It may be tailored or lace trimmed, as you choose, and both silks and cottons may be used.

Style No. 3158 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 2⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with 4⅞ yards of lace.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Party Letters About Movie Due Tomorrow

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Careful, boys and girls—"the deadline'll git you if you don't watch out!" Tomorrow's Thursday, you know, and that's the day when the winning letters for our July 6 party will be selected, so don't forget to mail your letters today.

All the youngsters who came with me to see "Lord Jeff" last year will remember little Terry Kilbourn in that film. Well, if you should win an invitation to see "Goodbye Mr. Chips" you'll be surprised to see how much he has grown. He and hundreds and hundreds of other little boys are in the cast of this splendid new picture, and I know you youngsters will enjoy seeing them all.

Many people say this film is one of the best of the year. Today is your last chance to win an invitation to the Apollo theater on July 6 as my guest.

This fine new movie will be our first big party of the season, and 50 boys and 50 girls will win invitations to it. If you'd like to be included in that happy group, here's the way to try to be a winner. You'd better read carefully and then move quickly, because there isn't much time.

To win an invitation write and tell me why you really would enjoy this party. That should be easy. Your letter must tell me your full name, address, and age. The letter must be on my desk by tomorrow. If you hurry to the mailbox today your letter will reach me all right.

Don't write for invitations for other children, and don't have mother or father write for you, because you can't possibly win that way. Don't worry about writing or spelling, just get that letter in! Maybe you'll see your name among the winners in Sunday's TRIBUNE.

Episcopal Women Hold Rally at Racine Today

Women of the Episcopal church of the Chicago and Milwaukee dioceses will hold their annual Woman's Auxiliary day today at the De Koven foundation, Racine, Wis. The meeting will be held in connection with the summer conference for church workers. The Rt. Rev. George Craig Stewart, bishop of Chicago, will be among the speakers.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hill of Trenton, Ont., announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Dewar, to Alan Douglas Hoagland of Val d'Or, Quebec, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal A. Hoagland of Winnetka. The wedding will take place on July 18. Miss Hill attended the University of Toronto. Mr. Hoagland attended Northwestern university.

Crocheted Lunch Set Has a Dainty Snow Flake Motif

BY ELLEN BRUCE.

The popularity of crochet work has remained undiminished through the years, but change is noticeable in the preference for items which are made in individual pieces and joined when all the parts are completed. Not so long ago it was not uncommon to see a crochet worker completely enveloped in a huge table cloth or bedspread, but with the advent of runners and place mats these conditions have been changed. The lacy snow flake crochet design used in creating the place mats and runner illustrated today is one of those simple crochet jobs which take no time at all. Each flake is made from No. 10 mercerized knitting and crochet cotton in either white or ecru, and a half dozen average sized balls should make one set of four place mats, measuring about 12 by 22 inches, and one runner 12 by 34 inches.

For instructions in making this snow flake crocheted luncheon set, No. X-51, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Coverlet Guild.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Here's a dinner pretty enough in color, good enough in texture, flavor blends, and contrasts to grace a supper table for company. Yet it's one of the quickest and easiest of all summer meals. Even a rank amateur can have everything on the table ready to be eaten in less than an hour from the start.

Minute steaks are too thin to be oven broiled unless they're watched very carefully. Usually it's better to pan broil them. They require only about 5 minutes of cooking, so they take beautifully to a quick menu such as this:

SHORT CUT DINNER
Minute Steaks
Canned Sweet Potatoes
Browned in Butter
Buttered Fresh Peas
Salad of Sliced Tomatoes on
Watercress, Chiffonade Dressing
Toasty Loaf
Baked Sliced Peaches with Cream
Iced Tea with Orange

MINUTE STEAKS.

For four persons buy four minute steaks. Trim off excess fat, slash edges of remainder to prevent curling. Heat a skillet and rub over the bottom with this fat. Place steak in pan and brown quickly on one side. Turn and brown the other side. Season with salt and pepper, and let cook on each side about a minute and a half longer, with the heat lowered to moderate. Remove to a hot platter and place a small piece of butter on each steak.

Do not cook the meat until the rest of the dinner is almost ready for the table. It shouldn't wait, once it's cooked.

CHIFFONADE DRESSING.

To your bottled French dressing add 1 teaspoon finely minced onion, 1 teaspoon chopped green pepper, 1 teaspoon chopped pimiento, 1 teaspoon finely chopped beets, and 2 teaspoons chopped hard cooked egg. If some of these ingredients aren't readily available omit them. It won't be a genuine chiffonade, but it will be a good dressing nevertheless.

TOASTY LOAF.

Buy a loaf of unsliced bread and trim off top and side crusts. Cut lengthwise through the middle to the lower crust. Cut crosswise five or six times as you'd cut a cake, only leave bottom crust attached. Brush over the whole loaf with melted butter, letting some of it drip between the bread sections. Toast until golden brown in the oven and serve on a hot plate, letting each person break off his portion.

BAKED SLICED PEACHES.

Peel and slice peaches into a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with a little lemon juice, then with brown or white sugar. Dot with butter and bake until tender in a moderate oven, 350 degrees.

The peach dessert probably should be started before anything else in this meal, for it may require almost half an hour in the oven. It may be served warm or cold.

ICED TEA WITH ORANGE.

Make iced tea as usual by brewing a double strength tea and pouring it over cracked ice in tall glasses. This time have a fourth to a half cup orange juice in each glass before adding the tea, and garnish each serving with a slice of orange.

Surprise the family by serving those tender spring vegetables in a new, exciting way. You'll find plenty of tricks in vegetable cookery in Mary Meade's newest booklet, "Ways with Vegetables." It's on sale for 5 cents at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, and Tribune Tower lobby; or will be mailed for 7 cents in stamps.

Collection of Indian Art Presented to Field Museum

The Field museum has received a valuable collection of primitive art of North American Indians, representing the Sioux, Kiowa, Apache, and Navaho tribes. The gift is from the estate of Murray B. Augur of Chicago. Mrs. George Artamonoff has presented a specimen of a large indigo snake she found on her travels in Guatemala.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Baby Buggy Is Badly Needed.

Miss B. is anxious to obtain a baby buggy for one of her families. There are several small children in the family, and the father's earnings are barely sufficient for necessities. The mother is seriously underweight and is not making a satisfactory recovery from her last confinement. The baby now is six months old and seldom gets any fresh air. Without a buggy, the mother is unable to take the baby out and watch the other two youngsters also. Transportation can be arranged if any reader has a buggy to offer.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I often play duplicate with a very charming fellow who is a reasonably good player, although hardly an expert. Some of his pet ideas about bidding seem to me to be rather silly, but it seems patent that no authority lesser than yourself will suffice to 'unsell' him on them. For instance, one of his favorites is to explain to his partner that if he opens the bidding with one of a suit and partner responds with one of another suit at the same level, he [the opener] bids one no trump and that is his rebid! Will you please tell me what, in the name of common sense, that means?

"Last week the following hand arose:

"The bidding proceeded as follows:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 club | Pass | 1 diamond | Pass |
| 1 no trump! | Pass | 3 no trump | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

"I was North and I presume my own bidding could be criticized. I appreciate that I could have bid one heart, two hearts, two diamonds, or even two no trump as my first response. [This was the way some of the expert double dummy players at our game would have bid my hand.] My reasoning, however, was that, since the club bid might not be an honest club suit, there was a good chance that I would get a rebid of one spade over whichever suit I mentioned at the range of one. If I were to play the hand at no trump, I much preferred a heart lead up to my A-J-9 than a diamond lead up to the A-J-4. Was I right? And how about the whole situation? The hand wrapped up six no trump—seven with a finesse in hearts. H. R., New York."

North's one diamond response had nothing definitly wrong with it, although, in my opinion, one heart would have been a shade better. A jump take-out [two hearts or two diamonds] would have been a stretch of North's values, inasmuch as he had only an indifferent "fit" with South's bid suit. There was absolutely no occasion for crowding the bidding with two no trump. This, however, is aside from the burning question: What South's rebid should have been.

The one no trump actually chosen [according to my correspondent as a sort of habit] did not begin to express South's potential winners. South did not have quite enough top strength for a jump rebid in clubs [which requires four to four and one-half honor tricks with a very good six card suit], but he should not have hesitated to bid two no trump on the second round. After that, obviously, North would have the values for a jump all the way to six no trump. Even after the one no trump rebid, North might have made a better effort than jumping to three at the same denomination. He might, for example, have "fooled around" a bit by jumping to three hearts with the idea of first indicating great strength and later going back to a no trump contract. In all fairness, then, the blame for the lost slam must be placed on both partners who apparently had a rush of conservatism in this particular deal.

Innocent Clue Helps to Solve an Old Problem

GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

They read like little mystery stories sometimes — the letters I receive. Psychological mystery stories, I mean. And then, in the last paragraph, or perhaps down along in a postscript, I find a clue.

And the clue? A sweet, lovable winning clue it is—a new baby! Very new or not quite so new, this second arrival, but cause of all the trouble it may be. An innocent clue and an innocent cause he is, because it's his guilty parents who cause all the trouble. Sometimes the tales are really pitiful, but they read much like this extract from one of the letters I've referred to:

"And I'm out of patience with her. She's just getting to be a disagreeable, unmanageable little girl. And the baby is so different. He's easy going, sunny and sweet tempered, and everybody is crazy about him. I'm so afraid if things keep up as they are that he will learn all of Jane's naughty ways. Such a contrast between two children!"

Once again, and there are many agains, we hear the sad story of the sunny, sweet tempered second child and the disagreeable first one. Now, when you hear of the same thing happening in families in Illinois, New York, Oklahoma, Ontario, Florida, and points north, east, south and west—of a badly behaved first little child and an angelic second [the baby] it's almost certain there's at least one reason that underlies [even if it's not the only one] all of these situations. And the reason is this: The central place given to the new baby in the family's life has been given at the cost of the first child.

Why wouldn't a child suffer who, still being almost a baby herself, was suddenly deprived of most of those things upon which her life was built, and upon which much of her happiness and sense of security depended? And suffering subconsciously, why wouldn't she, without sensing at all the inner workings of her nature, show it in some of the ways that are described—"being disagreeable," "disobeying," refusing to eat, having "accidents," wanting truly to love the baby but urged by this inner hurt to tease or slap it? For in these ways, at least, she gets some attention. Her mother has to stop fussing over the interloper long enough to talk, or scold, or "change" her. That's better than being relegated entirely to the background.

And if, perhaps, she wasn't even prepared ahead of time for this cataclysmic change in her life it was decidedly in the nature of a shock to see mother go away [bad enough], and come back with a baby.

This sort of thing is just too bad. Children adore having a baby sister or brother. Insecurity, unhappiness, and serious behavior never need to follow in its train; a first child never need feel "dethroned" if the parents would only prepare their first born for the baby's coming; and then, when it is once here, would show a warm thoughtfulness of the first—make her know that she is cherished as ever, and that her security is unshakable.

June 28, 1939.

Not a very important day, so keep it routine. Those born on the 28th day of any month are inclined to be headstrong and not easily held in restraint, so they strike out rather boldly into unconventional paths. Capt. Cook, the explorer, and President Wilson are two good examples of the 28-day type. If this is your birthday you may feel that this year you are not accomplishing much. But try to be contented to mark time.

SOX WIN, 11 TO 2, OVER ST. LOUIS; NO. 8 FOR LYONS

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Ted Lyons, who is a mere 38 years old and rapidly approaching his sixteenth big league anniversary, now is the proud possessor of eight consecutive triumphs. He fashioned an addition to his impressive string yesterday by the simple process of limiting the St. Louis Browns, the only team able to trim him thus far, to four hits. And while Ted was performing in a pitching capacity, his fellow White Sox displayed so much talent at bat that they were able to make the victory decisive by a count of 11 to 2.

Although his work was close to perfect — the four hits being garnished by not one pass—Lyons had one occasion which warranted concern. The seecond inning saw two Yankee castoffs and one other fellow produce base hits, giving the Browns a 2 to 0 lead. But after this flurry only one visitor reached base and n the meantime the Sox were taking good care of a series of pitchers, among them their banished associate, John Henderson Whitehead.

They All Look Alike.

The first Brownie to feel the Sox's batting lash was Bill Trotter. He held 'em hitless for two innings, but as soon as Lyons went into arrears n the third the Chicagoans figured t was time for heroics. Before the nning had closed they were out in ront, 3 to 2, two of the important allies blossoming from a home run which Joe Kuhel boosted into the ight field seats. It was his seventh f the year as well as the longest lout of the afternoon, but in numbers neither Kuhel nor the others ould equal the pace set by Mike Tresh. The kid backstop produced a riple and three singles, all but one of which figured in run production.

Trotter remained until the seventh when four hits started the Sox on a ix run splurge. When the fourth uccessive hit was exploded, Trotter went away and in came Whitehead or his first Chicago appearance as n enemy. The Sox didn't let friendhip interfere. Three of them slapped he big fellow for singles and, in beween the hits, he walked one man. He wasn't permitted to make a fresh ttempt in the eighth, but the change idn't discourage the Dykes' lads. They hopped George Gill for two more uns.

Browns Take Lead.

Gallagher, the fellow who was converted from a Yankee to a Brown vernight, started his new mates into he lead in the second inning by oubling to left. On Clift's fly he went to third, but he didn't get nuch of a welcome from McNair, whom he put out of action earlier in he season. Hoag tripled off the left eld wall, scoring Gallagher. Glenn ipped off a liner, but Hayes speared t with his gloved hand. Hoag scored

Dodgers and Bees Tie, 2-2, in 23 Innings

Boston, Mass., June 27.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Bees, who 19 years ago played the longest game in major league history, battled through twenty-three innings to a 2 to 2 tie today. The game was called because of darkness after shattering this year's record of nineteen innings, involving Brooklyn and the Cubs and ending in a 9 to 9 tie.

The game lasted five hours and fifteen minutes and enlisted eight pitchers, with Whitlow Wyatt, the rookie sensation of the Dodgers, staying the longest, sixteen innings.

The game was the third longest in the history of major league baseball, having been exceeded by the 26-inning 1 to 1 battle between the same teams and also played in Boston, on May 1, 1920, and by a 24-inning game on Sept. 6, 1906, in which the Philadelphia Athletics beat the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 1. Two 22-inning games have been played, Brooklyn defeating Pittsburgh, 6 to 5, on Aug. 22, 1917, and the Chicago Cubs beating the Boston Braves, 4 to 3, on May 17, 1927. In one of four 21 inning games appearing on the record Detroit beat Ted Lyons and the White Sox, 6 to 5. Lyons pitched the whole game. It was played on May 24, 1929.

In the record game, played in three hours and fifty minutes, each team used only one pitcher, Leon Cadore of Brooklyn giving up 15 hits and Joe Oeschger of Boston yielding nine.

ETTORE'S PURSE HELD UP AFTER FIASCO ON COAST

Los Angeles, Cal., June 27.—(AP)—Offered denials of a fixed fight from all quarters, the California Athletic commission decided Al Ettore, Philadelphia heavyweight, turned in a "sham exhibition" in losing to Maxie Rosenbloom last night and ordered his $1,000 purse seized and his boxing license revoked.

Ettore, who once stood up for five rounds against Joe Louis' heaviest blows, went out in the third round under Maxie's slapping tactics.

CUBS MEET UP WITH WARNEKE; CARDS WIN, 5-2

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 27.—Lon Warneke, the Cubs' most distinguished castoff, today again whipped the Cubs, 5 to 2. The Ozark thin man didn't have quite all his stuff, as witness the fact the Cubs scored two runs, their first and only two runs in twenty-seven innings against Lon this year. It was Warneke's ninth victory, as against two defeats.

Warneke would have had his third shutout over the Cubs this season but for two pitches. He pitched a homer to Stan Hack at the start of the game and another to Jim Gleeson at the start of the seventh.

Lon didn't finish the game. He withdrew in favor of Bob Bowman after pitching a single to Hartnett at the start of the ninth. He probably was a little tired from running bases, for he doubled his first two times up. Warneke's second double, in the fourth, accounted for the Cards' fourth and fifth runs and drove Earl Whitehill to cover. Lawrence French shut out the St. Louisans on three singles the rest of the way.

Hack Opens With a Homer.

In getting knocked off by Warneke the Cubs lost ground to all the teams ahead of them in the National league. They are seven games back of the Reds, three back of the Cards, and two and a half back of the Giants.

The Cubs started out in rousing fashion but were nipped before their opening attack became extensively productive. The homer with which Hack got the game going was a smash to the molding of the roof atop the pavilion in deep right center. Herman followed with a line double to left center and reached third on Galan's bounce to Mize. Reynolds and Hartnett walked, loading the bases. G. Russell sent a gentle pop up to Mize and Moore came in fast to grab Gleeson's fly over second.

The Cards followed the Cubs' first inning pattern by opening the third inning with a homer and a double. Owen slapped his second home run of the year [his first was against the Cubs] and Warneke socked a double. Whitehill, however, had no difficulty in getting the next three batsmen.

Exit Mr. Whitehill.

The Cardinals took a 5 to 1 lead in the fourth. Mize walked and, after Medwick had popped to Bartell, Slaughter drove the ball over right field pavilion, scoring behind Mize. Gutteridge walked, stopped at second on Owen's single, and scored with Owen when Warneke again doubled. French replaced Whitehill and stopped the drive.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NEW YORK, June 27.—Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, who as a team entertained thousands with their pantomime acts, may be reunited as a feature of the seventh annual All-Star baseball game at Yankee stadium July 11. . . . Which reminds us that New Yorkers owe Chicago something or other for much of their entertainment this summer. . . . Joe Louis, who will fight Tony Galento tomorrow night, came out of our Chicago Golden Gloves tournament. . . . The All-Star baseball game was originated and first presented in Chicago. . . . So was the All-Star football game, which is played with a reduced cast before smaller crowds at the Polo Grounds every September. . . . And you can throw in the world fair. . . . Many of its features are patterned after A Century of Progress Exposition. . . . One angle of Lou Gehrig's remarkable career generally overlooked is that when he broke his string of 2,130 consecutive games he was retiring for keeps. . . . Neither he nor any one else realized it at the time. . . . Three midget auto racing tracks in the New York district play to a total of 50,000 weekly. . . . The birthplace of Walter Brown, Giants' relief pitcher, is listed as Greene, R. I., in the record books, but there is no such town in the postal guide. . . . A faithful attendant of Louis' workouts at Pompton Lakes was Brud Holland, Negro end of Cornell's football team.

Zeke Bonura regales his Giant teammates with tall tales of his prowess as an angler and hunter. . . . Cuba has arranged a baseball hall of fame similar to the one in Cooperstown. . . . Candidates for places include Mike Gonzales and Joe Mendez, the latter a pitching contemporary of Christy Mathewson. . . . University of Wisconsin is reported to be seeking Heinie Groh, former star of the Giants, as baseball coach. . . . The Red Sox received only $200 as their cut of the gate for a recent double-header in St. Louis. . . . West Point records indicate that Gen. Abner Doubleday, reputed father of baseball, took no part in outdoor games while a cadet. . . . No one, to our knowledge, has been able to explain why golf courses have 18 holes instead of a greater or smaller number. . . . St. Andrew's in Scotland once had a 22 hole layout. . . . There is a well organized campaign to land Sid Luckman, Columbia university half back, with the New York Giants or Brooklyn Dodgers, but George Halas of the Bears, who holds the draft rights to the young man, has no intention of yielding them.

55,305 Watch Feller Blank Tigers on 1 Hit

Cleveland, O., June 27.—(AP)—Bob Feller held the Detroit Tigers to one hit, a single by Earl Averill, as the Indians scored a 5 to 0 shutout tonight in the first American league night game in Cleveland. A crowd of 55,305 saw the game. Feller fanned thirteen batters, getting Barney McCosky four times and Hank Greenberg three times.

Buck Newsom, who started on the mound for the Tigers, was removed for a pinch hitter in the third inning after the Tribe scored four runs in the first two innings. George Coffman followed on the mound.

Rival Managers More Worked Up Than Fighters.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Summit, N. J., June 27.—Joe Louis, who defends his heavyweight title tomorrow night, may not be angry at Tony Galento, his challenger, but John Roxborough has a fine mad on for Joe Jacobs.

The principals in tomorrow's engagement, in their recent radio conversations, have behaved with restrained politeness. Indeed, privately Galento today conceded magnanimously that the champion ain't no bum, which confirms our belief that Tony only has been Joe Jacobs' Charley McCarthy.

Jacobs' bombast also may arouse Louis, which would be unfortunate for Galento, but the risk had to be taken. Except for these irritating verbal attacks the bout scarcely could have caught Manhattan's attention.

No Punches Are Pulled.

Jacobs' vituperative campaign began with the allegation that Louis had used a weight concealed in his hand when he knocked out Max Schmeling. That was the "gimmick" story. He followed with requests that Arthur Donovan be named to referee because Donovan, so Jacobs asserted, would permit the men to engage in a longshoremen's brawl.

Jacobs later asked that no one in the first row help Louis back into the ring when Galento knocks him through the ropes. He wants to weigh the gloves publicly.

He collected and exhibited excerpts from fight films showing Louis knocked down by Braddock and Schmeling.

All this could be passed over by the champion's managers as so much twaddle. But last week, when Joe Jacobs grabbed the microphone during a national hook-up and said directly to Louis, "You can't beat Galento because you haven't the courage," it was a declaration of war.

Who's Fight Is This?

Roxborough demanded from the broadcasting company the right to answer this insult. So in last evening's program from both camps, Roxborough received opportunity for rebuttal. This should have placated Roxborough, but just before the broadcast was concluded, Jacobs reiterated his charge. The station went off the air with Roxborough, infuriated, demanding a chance to reply.

Under these circumstances the meeting tomorrow of the managers threatens to overshadow the routine examination of the shadows.

Jacobs probably is more concerned with building confidence in Galento's mind than in the effect on Louis. He has been successful. As Tony lolled around Madam Bey's camp today and went through a brief workout in the outdoor gymnasium in the afternoon, he gave no indication that he hesitates to meet the world's hardest hitting fighter.

Galento distinctly does have a chance to whip the champion although that chance seems to be less than Max Schmeling had in his first fight with the bomber. Yet, we recall with personal embarrassment that Schmeling did knock out Louis in twelve rounds. To copper our prediction that tomorrow's fight will not last five rounds and that Galento will be knocked out, we must refer again to Braddock's victory over Max Baer. We probably should mention that David dropped Goliath and Leonidas and the Spartans successfully held the pass at Thermopylae.

Anything Can Happen.

History is replete with stories of long shots coming home in front and ever since 1936 when Schmeling cracked Louis' defenses wide open with his right hand we have given up the thought that the champion is a superman. He doesn't have to be superperfect to whip Galento. Average sight should give him time to duck and if he can't hit bulbous Tony, the affair should be turned over to Tom Dewey.

Clinically, the fight hinges on what happens to Galento after he catches one of Louis' fireballs. Tony is squat, strong as a Missouri mule, a rough, tough street fighter. But the champion has speed, youth, height, and a wallop in each glove. On paper, at least, Louis is the winner. But who thought Tommy Farr would last fifteen rounds with the champion?

Louis Can't Change Program.

The Achilles heel in Louis' armor is his inability to change his fixed program. Schmeling's first smashing right to Joe's jaw was a surprise but the other forty-nine blows might have been expected.

But Louis took all for twelve long rounds in that memorable fight three years ago. Somehow or other we can't vision Galento standing up that long, nor do we believe he can deliver a similar barrage.

The fight has possibilities and that, of course, is why New York has decided to see it. Not the least intriguing is what the unpredictable Joe Jacobs may do.

Jacobs, Jimmy Frain, and Whitey Bimstein will second Galento. Jack Blackburn, Roxborough, and Julian Black will be in Louis' corner.

Expect 40,000 to Watch Battle in Yankee Stadium.

BY ARCH WARD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 27.—Tony Galento, idol of the Jersey pubs, will find out tomorrow night just how much sucker appeal there is in heavyweight boxing. He is scheduled to go fifteen rounds or less with Joe Louis, generally recognized as the greatest fighting man of his day, in one of the strangest bouts ever presented to the American public.

Louis, admittedly a terrific puncher, also is a clever boxer. Galento has nothing but a wallop and a pair of militant tonsils. All the information necessary about the impending contest is whether Tony can tag the champion on the chin, and if so, whether he can clout him with sufficient violence to move the birdies to lyrical hymns.

Promoter Mike Jacobs, who always stresses manly virtues and the decent point of view in his fistic extravaganzas, predicts an artistic as well as a financial triumph. In support of his stand he is willing to wager that his conscientious bruisers will draw more customers tomorrow night than will Rosita and her doves, the World Fair act that is making Pop Knickerbocker forget about Sally Rand and her fans.

40,000 May Watch It.

The fight will start at 9 o'clock, Chicago time, and a crowd of 40,000 is expected to be banked around the Yankee stadium ring. Nearly half the attendance will be in the $2 general admission section, which goes on sale at 6 o'clock tomorrow night.

The reduced tarif is designed to catch Louis' huge Harlem constituency and Galento's tavern following from the Jersey side. Receipts will run between $300,00 and $350,000, which isn't exactly hay when you consider there never was a great public demand for the bout.

Galento, who will collect 17½ per cent of the revenue, will be disappointed if his end amounts to only $50,000, which must amuse thousands of others in more prosaic lines of work who marvel at a man's success in making that kind of dough mainly by moving the country screaming, "Louis? Dat guy's a bum."

No American Youth Appeal.

For once we have a prize fight in which the principals do not have to be ballyhooed as inspirations to American youth. The main factors are elemental and have no concern with such subleties as mental strain, nerve pressure, grooved swings, and putting touches, though some of the more scholarly reporters probably will try to read the equivalent of these into the issue.

When a fellow like Galento, who has violated almost every recognized rule of physical training, can maneuver himself into a championship fight it becomes apparent that character and uprightness have little to do with the trade. We confess our interest in the affair is the prospect of witnessing a very rowdy evening inside the ropes. It is nice not to have to worry about mental reflexes and such for an artistic appreciation of a bust on the button, because those factors make the pleasure of enjoying a prize fight much too difficult for the simple mind to bear.

All Advantages to Louis.

The odds are 6 to 1 on Louis, which seem short enough, based on the records of the two men and their showing in training camp. Louis has whipped every fighter of championship potentiality since he became a headliner four years ago. With few exceptions Galento has fought nobody of consequence. The physical assets are all in Louis' favor. He is four years younger, four inches taller and has a four inch advantage in reach. Galento will weigh 32 pounds more than his opponent, which may prove more of a liability than an asset.

The tape measure, however, frequently has little to do with developments in the ring. A fight's a fight any time two able bodied men climb into the same ring anything can happen. Louis knows about that.

POLICEMEN OPEN THEIR BASEBALL SERIES SATURDAY

Rival police baseball teams from the north and south side will meet in the first game of their annual city championship series at 2 o'clock on Saturday in Comiskey park. The South Siders who again will be under the direction of Capt. Eugene Barry, are the defending champions. The North Side team will be directed by Capt. Harry O'Connell.

The South Siders starting pitcher will be Eddie Dennis. He will be opposed by Michael Delaney, star athlete from the Traffic Division.

The second game is scheduled for Sunday, July 2, also in Comiskey park, and the final game on July 9 in Wrigley field. Receipts for the series go to the Policemen's Benevolent association, which provides for the widows and orphans of Chicago policemen killed in the line of duty.

on Berardino's single, which took an unorthodox hop just as McNair was reaching for it. Trotter then rolled to Kuhel for the third out.

Seven Sox had dropped in order when Tresh tripled to the right field corner with one out in the third for the first hit. It didn't take the Sox long to pile up three runs. Lyons was called out on a slow roller which he thought he had beaten, and Tresh scored. Hayes whacked a single through short. Kuhel didn't like Trotter's first pitch and ignored it, but he was thoroughly satisfied with the looks of the next. He boomed it into the right field stands for a home run. Then Kreevich beat out a bunt, but was expunged on a steal.

Sox Bear Down Again.

The pickings were decidedly slim for the Sox in the three innings following the successful third. They produced only two hits, one a bunt by Tresh and the other Kreevich's double. The depression continued until the first two men had been retired in the seventh. Then the Sox suddenly launched the maneuver that made it necessary to bring forth Whitehead.

McNair, Tresh, Lyons, and Hayes made the arrangements for Whitehead's debut as an enemy. Each dispatched a single to center, two scoring and Trotter being removed hastily. The first to face the rescuer was Kuhel, who beat out a single to McQuinn, filling the bases. Whitehead must have exhausted himself running over to cover first on the Kuhel hit. Anyway, he couldn't get the ball over for Kreevich, Lyons being forced in. Radcliff then lined a single over third, scoring Hayes and Kuhel. Walker, who had struck out to start the inning, singled to left and Kreevich scored. Then Appling, who had made the second out by flying to Sullivan, accounted for the third with another fly to Sullivan.

Two More for Sox.

McNair singled off Gill and stole second to open the eighth. Tresh singled to left and McNair scored, but on his way home he had a little extra fun. The throw in from his friend Gallagher got in his way and he inadvertently kicked the ball to the grandstand. The error gave Tresh a chance to hike down to second. Later he scored the Sox's final run on Lyons' infield out and Hayes' long floater to Sullivan.

The lone hit off Lyons after his troublesome third inning was a single to center with which Glenn opened the eighth. Berardino fouled out. Christman batted for Whitehead and forced Glenn, after which Heffner fanned.

Wacker Asks More Drills; White City Card Is Set Back

A request by Issy Klein, handler of Henry Wacker, for more time to condition his fighter has been granted by Promoter Bill Rand, with the approval of Bobby Evans, manager of Eddie Simms, who was scheduled to fight Wacker tomorrow night in White City. The entire card will be held next Wednesday night.

Sox Assign Lee to Face Browns and Harris Today

Thornton [Lefty] Lee will pitch for the White Sox and Robert Harris for the Browns today in the second game of the series in Comiskey park.

Installation of the new lighting plant at Comiskey park hasn't started. The engineers are still trying to figure out the best way to do the job.

Pitchers Harry Boyles and Jess Dobernic, both out on option with the St. Paul club, were recalled yesterday by the White Sox. To fill the gaps occasioned by the recalls, the Sox shipped Catcher Ken Silvestri and Pitcher Vic Frasier to the Saints. The pair served there last season. Frasier's release was outright, but Silvestri is subject to a three day recall. The Sox also re-acquired Catcher Norman Schlueter yesterday. He had been optioned to St. Paul, but was turned back by Commissioner K. M. Landis, who ruled the Sox had previously exhausted the legal limit of three options on the fellow.

plete helplessness when Galan opened the sixth with a double off the right field wall. But Augie's effort went for naught. The next three batters were easy for Lon. Gleeson opened the seventh with his homer into the pavilion in right center. For an instant it seemed Bartell was to have his second hit in 31 times at bat. Medwick slipped and sat down as he started for Dick's liner. He remained seated and caught the ball. French fanned and Hack flied to Moore.

DIZZY FACES CARDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., June 27.—Dizzy Dean will pitch for the Cubs tomorrow afternoon in the second of the three game Cub-Cardinal series. It will be the great man's first artistic labor here since the 1937 season, his last with the Cardinals. Diz has pitched against his former mates only once since the Cubs bought him. He beat 'em, 4 to 0, in Chicago last season. Morton Cooper, whom the Cubs have not faced, will pitch for the Cards.

The Cubs came here prepared to swelter. They encountered a cool, refreshing breeze, much to the surprise and delight of one and all.

Clay Bryant, who used to pitch for the Cubs, was brought along on the trip. Clay missed the last eastern trip and was eager to come along for the ride. He does not contemplate any work more strenuous than today's assignment to run for Gabby Hartnett in the ninth.

WACHMAN GAINS COLLEGE TENNIS QUARTER-FINALS

Chet Murphy Advances Over Californian.

Haverford, Pa., June 27.—(AP)—All top seeded players, with one exception, today blasted their way in straight sets into the quarter-finals of the national intercollegiate tennis tournament at Merion Cricket club. Sixth seeded Russell Bobbitt, Georgia Tech, fell before the bewildering attack of Marvin Wachman, Northwestern, 6-4, 6-0.

Frank Guernsey, Rice institute's defending titlist, beat Bill Hardie, University of Miami, 7-5, 6-2, thereby atoning for his loss to Hardie at Wilmington, Del., last week; Joe Fishbach of St. John's, Brooklyn, brushed aside Bill Hoogs, California, 6-4, 6-2, and Robert Kamrath, Texas, disposed of Ed Kilgus, Pennsylvania, 6-2, 7-5.

The Pacific coast's favorite to dethrone Guernsey, third seeded Robert Harman, California, was extended to beat Gerard [Jeff] Podesta, Princeton, 8-6, 6-3. Morey Lewis, Kenyon, runner-up in both singles and doubles last year, beat George Pero, University of Miami, 6-3, 7-5; Ronald Lubin, Southern California, crushed Marvin Kantrowitz, Lehigh, 6-2, 6-2, and Chester Murphy, Chicago, defeated Robert Peacock, California, 6-4, 6-4.

The doubles opened with Guernsey and Dick Morris, his Rice teammate, top seeded, defeating Sam Snow and John Shill, Dartmouth, 6-3, 6-1. The Murphy twins of Chicago, seeded tenth in the nation, swept aside Maurice Fincher and Rubin Riskind, Texas, 6-1, 6-1.

The singles pairings tomorrow will bring together Guernsey and Fishbach, Lewis and Lubin, Kamrath and Wachman, and Herman and Murphy.

TWO SPECTATORS TURN JOCKEYS IN STEEPLECHASE

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, June 27.—(AP)—Two spectators mounted on horses which had dumped their jockeys gained second and third places today in the Napier steeplechase. Stewards ratified the result and allowed the owners to collect the stakes.

Only one mounted horse remained for the last few barriers in this New Zealand grand national. Two doughty railbirds dashed onto the track, captured two steeds, mounted and continued in the race.

Wukemist finished first with a jockey up, Kikoroki second with a spectator up, and a spectator on Begorrah just nosed out The Tramp—ridden by a jockey who had managed to regain the saddle after a spill—for third place.

Grant Captures Opening Match in Tri-State Meet

Cincinnati, O., June 27.—(AP)—Bryan Grant of Atlanta, seeded No. 1 in the Tri-State tennis tournament, defeated Harris Westheimer of Cincinnati 6-2, 6-1, in his first round match today.

RICHARDSON WINS MEDAL WITH 144 IN COLLEGE GOLF

Ancient Putter Helps Sid in Triumph.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Des Moines, Ia., June 27.—Sid Richardson, a native Hawkeye who has been so busy playing golf for Northwestern university these last three years that he hasn't been around the home heath much, today staged a personal homecoming. The Wildcat captain swung over the pesky Wakonda Country club course this afternoon for a 71, one under par, to give himself a 36 hole total of 144 and the qualifying medal in the 42d national intercollegiate golf tournament.

Until Sid came up to the eighteenth green, bearing a twenty year old blade putter with a bowed shaft, it appeared that 19 year old Warren Berl, a sophomore from Stanford university, would carry off the medal play prize from the field of 181 starters, representing forty-seven American universities and colleges. The gangling Berl, unsuspected with a 77 in yesterday's first round, sprinted around in 70 this morning to be the first in the troupe to break par.

Richardson's card:

Par—Out ......434 454 453—36
Richd'son—Out.425 554 443—36

Par In..........444 535 434—36—72
Richardson—In.443 535 434—35—71—73—144

Stanford Wins Title.

If young Berl, son of a San Francisco attorney, was denied the individual medal, he can still be credited with the second successive team victory won by Stanford for its 61 year old coach, Eddie Twiggs. Last year the Indians won in Louisville with a 36 hole foursome total of 601. This time they needed 612, submitted by a quartet consisting of Berl, 77—70—147; Dan Kennedy, 76—77—153; Charles Finger, 77—78—155, and Richard Wright, 76—81—157.

Northwestern was second with 614. The Purple foursome included Richardson, 73—71—144; Frank Perpich, 76—75—151; Chase Fannon, 77—79—156, and Art Bedrosian, 84—79—163. The two leaders were followed by Iowa State, 615; Princeton, 616; Duke, 617; Louisiana State, 617; Iowa, 623; Michigan, 624; Oklahoma, 627; Georgetown, 630; Notre Dame, 633; Minnesota, 633; Yale, 635; Texas, 640; Southern California, 641; California, 643; Amherst, 644; Harvard, 644; Ohio State, 645; Missouri, 653; Michigan State, 657; Kansas, 660; Chicago, 687.

Today's pairings:

UPPER BRACKET.

John P. Burke, Georgetown [149] vs. Stanley J. Kowal, Michigan State [151].

William Cooper, Minnesota [157] vs. Raymond J. Higgins, Georgetown [157].

He was knocked out by Max Schmeling, a man who couldn't last a round against him, the first time they met.

No one doubts Galento's ability to deliver a soporific wallop. He says he will come into the ring unafraid. This happens to be an interesting question, because most of the opponents Louis has encountered have been terrified when they shed their bathrobes and stood in their corners waiting for the bell.

Galento's last minute statement has a familiar ring. Baer said the same thing. So did Levinsky, Carnera, Lewis, and Roper. Galento will find his blatant press clippings of little value when he looks across the ring at Louis while handlers are tying on their gloves. He will see what appears to be only a sleepy Alabama colored boy in silk pants. But he will know that buried somewhere beneath that placid appearance is sheer barbarity, a dynamic force than can smash the light from a foeman's eyes with a single shattering drive.

Louis will carry the fight, the same as he did against Schmeling, Lewis, and Roper. As he wound up boxing drills at Pompton Lakes yesterday your correspondent admonished: "No monkeying around Wednesday night," to which he replied, "No, suh. I'm gonna finish him fast as I can."

Both fighters will motor in from their camps tomorrow to weigh in at the offices of the New York boxing commission at noon. If Galento wins he will rush back to his Orange, N. J., tavern to celebrate with his neighbors. Louis, whether he wins or loses, will remain in the east a week before returning to Chicago.

W.C.T.U. Roots for Louis to Defeat Tippling Galento

The Women's Christian Temperance union, which is opposed to prize fighting as being anti-social but nevertheless sees in a Galento triumph over Louis tonight a threat to the youth of the nation, last night dispatched the following message to the world's heavyweight champion:

"Those of us who have the welfare of American youth at heart appreciate your press article of June 26, especially your following statement:

"'I can't believe any human can guzzle liquor, smoke black cigars, and still be a good athlete. It is against the laws of nature. It tears down all the theories of good health, and lowers the standing of this sport. It causes growing boys to lose faith in clean living'."

Hostak Knocks Out Krieger to Win Back Title

A crowd of 23,000 witnessed the fight.

Hostak, using a smashing attack to the head, knocked down the champion twice in the third round and three times in the fourth. Hostak dropped the champion with rights to the jaw twice in the fourth before coming over with a terrific right flush on Krieger's jaw. The champion fell against the ropes and slid to the floor. Referee James J. Braddock didn't even bother to count, but went over and picked up Krieger and carried him to his corner.

It was the first time in Krieger's long boxing career that he had been knocked out.

Hostak opened the fight with a series of lefts, but suddenly changed to his right with such force that Krieger failed to land many punches after the second round, when it became only a question of how soon Hostak's terrific punches would end the bout.

Hostak, in regaining his title, did something no middleweight had accomplished since Stanley Ketchel took back the middleweight crown in 1908 from Billy Papke, who won it in 1907.

C. Y. O. to Hold Weekly Bicycle Races Tonight

PATTY BERG'S 74 LEADS IN TRIALS AT MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Minn., June 27.—[Special.]—Blasting out a 34, one under men's par, on the first nine today, Defending Champion Patty Berg today took the lead in the Trans-Mississippi women's golf tournament. She added a 40 to her first nine total, and with 74 led four other golfers in the "Under 80" class over the fast country club course.

Beatrice Barrett, Patty's rival from Minneapolis, was second to the University of Minnesota red head, scoring 76, and another Twin Cities golfer, Mrs. Hayes Dansingburg of St. Paul, was third with a 78.

Nineteen players scored under 85, which indicated the qualifying limit for match play which starts tomorrow would not be much over 90.

Kohl Triumphs Twice in Junior Golf; Houston Loses

Otto Kohl, Proviso High school star who tied for the medal, yesterday won two matches in the C. D. G. A. junior open tournament at Mohawk as the field of sixty-four was cut to sixteen. Five of yesterday's matches went extra holes.

Kohl defeated R. W. Rehfeldt of Mohaw, 2 and 1, and then came back with a 77 in the afternoon to score a 6 and 4 victory over Robert Switalla of Schurz High school. Murray Houston of Midlothian, who shared the medal, was eliminated in the second round by James Tarpey of Olympia Fields, 2 up. Second round results:

UPPER BRACKET.

James Tarpey defeated Murray Houston, 2 up.

Jack Krajci defeated Frank Dolven Jr., 3 and 2.

American Giants, Monarchs Will Play Double-Headers

Kansas City, Mo., June 27.—[Special.]—The Chicago American Giants will meet the Kansas City Monarchs in a double-header here Sunday.

MISS WILLIAMS WINS, 8 AND 6, IN ILLINOIS MEET

Freeport, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—Contenders in the championship flight of the sixth annual Illinois state tournament sponsored by the Chicago Women's District Golf association were narrowed to eight today, following completion of first round match play.

All favorites advanced as expected with the exception of Virginia Nilles, 19 year old Park Ridge co-medalist who lost to Frances Ann McCanna of Rockford, 2 and 1.

1936 Champion Loses.

Ellamae Williams, pre-meet favorite and medalist in a special playoff match with Miss Nilles, scored an 8 to 6 victory over Mrs. Virginia Norton of Golf, Ill., 1936 champion.

Tomorrow Miss Williams will meet Janet Smith, Rockford, winner of today's only extra hole match. It will be an upper bracket semi-final. Miss Smith was carried to the twentieth green in the closest match of the day by Marjorie Luers, 17 year old Springfield school girl.

Eleanore Dudley, Ridge Country club, defending champion, eliminated Mrs. Thompson Stewart of Freeport, 1 up.

Betty Putnam of the Rock River Country club, Oregon, defeated Mrs. J. Taylor Rankin of Rockford, 4 and 2. She will meet Miss Dudley tomorrow in a lower bracket semi-final. Paired in the same half of the draw are Virginia Linblad of Joliet and Frances Ann McCanna of Rockford.

Miss Foster Wins, 5 and 4.

Completing the upper bracket in the championship flight will be a match between Dorothy Foster, Springfield piano teacher, and Betty Lou Hammerlund, 16 year old Normal school girl.

Miss Foster, 1934 champion, eliminated Mrs. L. M. Schukei of Rockford, 5 and 4.

SAYS

"Accept my compliments. Our fine Havana tobacco which you carried north to blend into your White Owl cigars has been skillfully handled. I have tried one of your new cigars and the taste is there .... the rich taste of Havana greets you with the first puff."

Carlos Tellez

A brand new Blended-with-Havana cigar
—approved by Havana itself

WE TOOK our new Blended-with-Havana White Owl all the way to Havana to test it. For where else but Havana itself would smokers know better the taste of Havana? We selected prominent Cubans—real connoisseurs of cigars—gave them some of the new White Owls to smoke. Without exception, they all praised the rich Havana flavor of this new cigar.

We're proud of the Havana tobacco we use in this new cigar . . . it's a really good grade. Does that sound unbelievable for a 5¢ cigar? Well, we are America's largest buyers of Havana tobacco and we know what we are talking about. Fact is, it's the same type of Havana tobacco used in popular cigars costing 10¢ and more. And there's a generous helping of this Havana in each new White Owl, too. How long has it been since you've tried a White Owl? If you haven't tasted the new White Owl, you haven't found that 5¢ now buys a cigar with a 10¢ flavor.

Your choice of 2 shapes
Another "10¢" feature—now yours for 5¢ . . . a choice of shapes to suit your smoking taste. A long, trim, new Invincible. And a rich, full-bodied, new Club House shape. You get the same amount of tobacco—the same mild blend in either size—only the shape varies.

3 MORE WOOLFORD HORSES WIN AT ARLINGTON PARK

Sherron Ann Captures Feature.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Trainer Ben Jones saddled three winners for Woolford farm yesterday at Arlington Park. After Quenemo had finished six lengths ahead of his nearest rival in the second race of the afternoon, Sherron Ann scored by an equal margin in the Cary purse, a six furlong allowance event which headed the program. Then Shadytown followed up with a successful effort, making a total of four victories in the first two days of the meeting for horses owned by Herbert M. Woolf of Kansas City.

Yesterday's winners were following the example set by their stablemate, Unerring, which had beaten her field by nine lengths in the Oak Park purse on opening day.

The bettors knew that Jones had all of these horses ready to run for they backed Quenemo down to odds-on, held Sherron Ann to even money, and allowed Shadytown to get in at only five to two after they had made Unerring the even money favorite on Monday.

First with Ease.

Warren Yarberry, runner up to Ernest Hanke for jockey honors at Lincoln Fields, made no mistakes in handling Sherron Ann. From her post position on the rail, he rushed her to the front soon after the start, then took her in hand and rated her along a little more than a length ahead of Rule All during the run down the backstretch. Rule All tired on the turn and began dropping back at the head of the home stretch. Meanwhile Weisenheimer came up fast.

Yarberry then shook up Sherron Ann. Without difficulty she drew away and led by six lengths at the eighth pole. She maintained that margin to the finish, Weisenheimer saving second place, half a length ahead of Rude Awakening.

The winner returned $4, $2.80, and $2.40. She ran the six furlongs in 1:12 2-5.

Drift On, a 90 to 1 shot, gave her backers a thrill by leading most of the way in the seven furlong third race, only to weaken suddenly in the last sixteenth. She wound up in third place as Kissem wore her down and went on to win while Free Spirit was getting up to second. Even at that, Drift On paid $20.60 to show. The winners prices were $21.40, $8.80, and $5.20.

Shakertown Wins.

Mrs. Roy Carruther's Shakertown, a filly which had won at Churchill Downs and at Lincoln Fields in her last two starts, made it three in a row by leading the way home in a five and one-half furlong dash for 2 year olds. She finished four lengths ahead of a 30 to 1 shot, Mrs. Emil Denemark's Great Bear, A. L. Ferguson's Flash Flash taking third place. The best investment in this race turned out to be a place ticket on Great Bear. It was worth $29.40.

The first disqualification of the meeting occured after F. E. Waldron's Good Actor had swerved enough to interfere with several other horses while closing fast in the stretch to run second to A. G. Tarn's Pelter in the sixth race. Jake Lowenstein's Commission was moved up to second and John Marsch's Royal Blue to third.

Women patrons again will be guests of Arlington next Monday, President Otto W. Lehman announced yesterday. As on opening day, they will be admitted with no charge except the state and federal tax.

Muskies Are Biting Good in High Waters

BY BOB BECKER.

Although many of the northern Wisconsin lakes are pretty high it hasn't kept the muskies from finding fishermen's lures, judging by reports from a number of lake areas. Walter Meinel of Winchester, Wis., sends us the following report on the number of muskies caught by just one small group of fishermen:

"Ten muskies in three days is the score of a group of muskie fishermen in this part of the north country. Included in the group are two women who have been casting for muskies. Mrs. Harry Steers of Chicago caught a twelve pounder and Mrs. W. H. Walker of Milwaukee landed a nineteen pounder. Among the ten muskies taken in three days was one twenty-one pounder and a twenty-five pounder. This catch was made in spite of the high water which we still have."

This Pickerel's a Whopper.

Pickerel or northern pike fishermen have been getting their hooks into some pretty good sized specimens at Lake Como, Wis. This weedy, fairly shallow lake is just over the hill from Lake Geneva. It has a lot of vegetation in it, the type of water that the pickerel and the large mouth black bass like. In one string of pickerel taken from Como recently was a fish that was forty-three and one-half inches long which is pickerel enough to give any bait caster a pretty good scrap.

If there is any one thing about the pickerel that commends it to fishermen it's a willingness to hit a lure. We're impressed with this trait nearly every time we fish in waters that have pickerel in them. While fly fishing for bass along the edge of lily pads or around rushes in Minnesota lakes we've had pickerel take our lures many times. Casting for small mouths on bars in Lake of the Woods many big pickerel [regular rod-benders] would grab our small single hook lures.

They Go for These Lures.

Last week when we were fishing the Mink river in the Door county peninsula pickerel didn't hesitate to grab anything from a flashing spoon lure to a small surface plug. A little one gave us a laugh by hitting a surface lure into the air and then grabbing it after it came down. We had cast this lure into some rushes to see if we could locate a small mouthed bass. They ascend the Mink river from the big waters of Lake Michigan, many of them running up the river at least a half mile from the mouth. Much to our surprise this small but lively little pickerel was lurking in the weeds. It hit the lure with al lthe zip of a full grown fish.

FIVE AMERICAN WOMEN WIN IN WIMBLEDON NET

Helen Jacobs Eliminates Mrs. Haylock.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WIMBLEDON, England, June 27.—Five of America's representatives in the women's singles in the All-England tennis tournament triumphed today. Helen Jacobs led the parade of the United States players into the second round by defeating Mrs. R. E. Haylock, 6-0, 6-2. Among the interested spectators who applauded Miss Jacobs' victory was Queen Mother Mary.

Alice Marble, United States singles champion, advanced to the second round at the expense of Mrs. J. S. Kirk, 6-3, 6-2. Both Miss Jacobs and Miss Marble won their matches so easily they didn't bother to remove their sweaters.

Betty Nuthall Loses.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan eliminated Miss M. G. N. Norman, 6-2, 6-2. The other Americans who triumphed were Miss Gracyn Wheeler of Santa Monica, Cal., and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, Stamford, Conn.

Miss Wheeler defeated Betty Nuthall, 7-5, 2-6, 6-2. Miss Nuthall won in 1931 at Forest Hills. Mrs. Andrus eliminated Miss J. Goss, 6-3, 7-5.

Mrs. Mathieu Wins.

Among the outstanding players who reached the second round without difficulty were Mrs. Rene Mathieu, France, and Mrs. Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling, Denmark. Two other veterans, Mrs. Dorothy Round Little and Mrs. Ronald Ellis, the former Anita Lizana, also triumphed.

DRAW UP MODEL RACE TRACK BILL FOR NEW JERSEY

Trenton, N. J., June 27.—[Special.]—A model bill providing for not more than three big race tracks, not more then 100 days of racing, and a 10 per cent takeout in pari-mutuel betting was submitted to Gov. A. Harry Moore and the legislature today.

Seeking to break a legislative deadlock on means of resuming horse racing, the bill was drawn by a special committee representing interests which conducted the successful campaign for legalizing pari-mutuel betting. Its members are Amory L. Haskell, Red Bank, director of the state advertising council; Joseph M. Roebling of Trenton, and James Cox Brady Jr., Somerset county sportsman.

BYRON NELSON WINS WORCESTER GOLF WITH 283

Worcester, Mass., June 27.—(AP)—Byron Nelson, national open golf champion, won the Massachusetts open today with a 72 hole score of 283, the lowest in the tourney's history. He finished five strokes ahead of Lloyd Mangrum of Los Angeles, who closed strong with a two under par 68.

ANDRES, VETERAN DRIVER, TO RACE AT RIVERVIEW

Emil Andres, Chicago pilot who has competed in several 500-mile Indianapolis races, will head the field of fifty-five in an eight-race midget auto program on the Riverview speedway tonight.

Among the other drivers entered are Tony Willman, Marshall Lewis, Harry Lewis, Ronnie Householder, Ted Duncan, Ted Johnson, Ray Richards, Ted Tetterton, Bob Mulke, Tommy Hinnerschlitz, Bill Schindler, and Wally Zale.

PREDICTS RETURN OF WINDSORS TO ENGLAND IN FALL

Paper Says Duke Yields on Title for Wife.

LONDON, June 27.—(AP)—An autumn homecoming for the duke of Windsor and his American-born duchess was confidently predicted tonight in large black type by the Evening Standard. For two and a half years now its owner, Lord Beaverbrook, has let scarcely a week go by without demanding that former King Edward VIII. come back and bring his wife.

The Standard devoted the entire top half of its front page to the story that the duke of Windsor, having abandoned his demand that his duchess be made "her royal highness"—the title given royal duchesses—would take up residence with her here in October.

Predict Visit to America.

The Standard also said it was probable the Windsors would visit the United States of America next year. In Paris, where the Windsors were packing up for a trip to the Mediterranean and a summer of Riviera fun, the duke's spokesman was carefully noncommittal.

"The duke and duchess have not yet made their plans for the autumn," he said.

For a long time it has been open season on guessing when the Windsors would return to England. Nevertheless, there was good reason to believe Lord Beaverbrook might have the inside track. He has long been a warm friend and even warmer champion of the former king.

Opposition Weakens.

There is reported to be less objection in influential British quarters to the duke's return to England now that King George VI. has so firmly established his own popularity through his American tour.

For the same reason it was believed a visit by the Windsors to the United States of America would arouse less opposition here now than when the trip was planned last year. If the Standard's information is correct that the duke has decided not to insist on the title of "royal highness" for the duchess, a further obstacle to his return apparently has been removed. It has long been considered improbable that the duke would return until his wife were given the same rank as that accorded wives of other royal dukes.

It is known that Fort Belvedere, a picture-book castle in the lush country near Windsor, has been waiting for the former king since he left that cold December night in 1936 just after his abdication. It has been empty all this time except for the caretaker, who never leaves the grounds.

W. J. Weise, Former Police Chief of Geneseo, Dies at 70

Geneseo, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—William J. Weise, 70 years old, lifelong resident of Geneseo and formerly police chief, died last night of heart disease. The widow and three daughters survive.

EVANSTON WIFE WINS DIVORCE, CUSTODY OF SON, AND $10 A WEEK

Mrs. Lorraine Hindley.

Mrs. Lorraine Hindley, 24 years old, 724 Noyes avenue, Evanston, was given a divorce by Judge Rudolph Desort yesterday from her husband, Kenneth 28. She was awarded custody of their son Douglass, 3, and $10 a week. The Hindleys were married June 8, 1935. Mrs. Hindley charged her husband with cruelty and testified that on two occasions he struck her.

TWO CONSTABLES AND JUSTICE AT URBANA INDICTED

Champaign, Ill., June 27.—(AP)—James M. Griffith, justice of the peace of Urbana, was indicted with two of his constables today for malfeasance in office. The indictments were among 26 true bills reported to Circuit Judge F. B. Leonard by the April grand jury in its first report.

The grand jurors were reported to have investigated the manner in which Griffith has been operating his court. Constable Carl Rayburn was indicted for falsely impersonating the sherif of Champaign county, for malfeasance and extortion. Constable Arthur Paul was indicted for malfeasance and extortion. State's Attorney Fred B. Hamill said he expected the three will be arraigned tomorrow.

Hospital Staff to Honor Late Nursing Director

The staff of the Children's Memorial hospital will hold memorial services for Minnie E. Howe, director of nurses, at 8 p. m. today in the auditorium of the nurses' home at 710 Fullerton avenue. Miss Howe, who was principal of the school of nurses for ten years, died last Friday. John P. Wilson, president of the board of directors, will conduct the services.

Day by Day on the Farm

By HOMER NEISZ

June 27, 1939.

THE new vegetable garden at the farm has reached that interesting stage to which gardeners look forward with eager anticipation. New crops are maturing each week. Two months ago the first plantings were being made. A month later the first green onions were ready for the table.

Radishes were the next vegetables harvested. Then came leaf lettuce, Swiss chard, peas, and parsley. Some of the rhubarb is big enough to eat. Beets and spinach should be ready before the end of this week.

Only a few of the rhubarb stalks will be pulled this summer. Most of the plants will be left undisturbed so they may become well established. They were started this spring from roots dug from old plantings about the farm.

Year's Wait Advised.

Most gardeners advise waiting until the second year to harvest new rhubarb plantings. Once the plants are well rooted they will last for many years if properly cared for and will supply plenty of pie and sauce material each spring.

New plantings are being made each week to furnish a succession of fresh vegetables throughout summer and early fall. Onion sets were put out last week. Some were set in rows where the early planted onions had been pulled. This practice keeps all the garden space occupied during the entire growing season. It not only saves space but also adds to the neat appearance of the garden by not leaving vacant spaces to grow up to weeds after the early vegetables are harvested.

Celery and late cabbage plants were set out last week, following the heavy rains. This has been a good season for crops that are transplanted, such as cabbage, tomatoes, and sweet potatoes. Rains have made it possible to set out most of the plants without watering them. The gardener got perfect stands on most of his transplantings.

Sweet Corn Still Planted.

Sweet corn still is being planted each week. The first plantings are more than two feet high.

The vegetables are growing rapidly. There has been plenty of moisture all the time since the first plants started coming through the ground.

Annual flowers, planted around the edges of the garden for decoration, are doing well. Gourd vines are beginning to climb the fence along the north side of the garden. Heavy rains last week washed up part of the sunflowers that had been planted to provide seeds for feeding poultry and game birds next winter.

All the vegetable plants were sprayed again a few days ago with arsenate of lead to control flea beetles and cucumber beetles. These insects threatened to destroy some of the crops nearly a month ago when they suddenly appeared in all parts of the garden. A thorough spraying with a solution of arsenate of lead routed the pests and no more were seen until last week.

Mrs. Mary A. Hall.

Mrs. Mary A. Hall, secretary and assistant treasurer of the Northern Lithographing company, 1250 Van Buren street, died yesterday in the Oak Park hospital after several weeks' illness. Mrs. Hall, who had been employed by the company for forty years, was well known in the graphic arts industry. She lived at 29 Latrobe avenue. A son, Alfred Hall, and a sister, Edith Clark, survive. Services will be held at 9 a. m. Friday to St. Thomas Aquinas church.

William Edward Evans.

Funeral services for William Edward Evans, 51 years old, who was drowned late Monday near Haugen, Wis., will be held at 10 a. m. Friday in his home at 6410 South Paulina street. His widow, Rose, two daughters, and a son survive. The drowning occurred when Mr. Evans' excitement over a fishing catch caused him to topple backward out of the boat.

POLICE WAKE UP 3 LITTLE BOYS—MOTHER'S DEAD

Policemen who went to Mrs. Helen Bleth's home at 716 West 65th street yesterday found three little boys asleep—the twins, Donnie and Ronnie, 8 years old, and Raymond, 9½.

Their mother, who was 27 years old, died in St. Bernard's hospital yesterday morning of an overdose of a sleeping preparation. Her physician, Dr. Rocco J. Fazio, 6657 South Ashland avenue, told police she had frequently threatened to take her life.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane because of illness. The twins' father, Louis Peters, 7517 62d street, Summit, who divorced Mrs. Bleth in 1934, said he would put his sons in an orphan home. Raymond, her son by a previous marriage, will go to live with her mother, Mrs. Rose Dolan, 1503 Warren boulevard.

BUYING BRISK AS FIREWORKS GO ON SALE IN SUBURBS

Despite the danger of death or injury from the use of fireworks, buying was brisk yesterday as stands in various Chicagoland suburbs and unincorporated areas displayed their wares. State laws permit the sale of fireworks from June 27 through July 4.

Harold Rosenberg, 27 years old, 1233 South Lawndale avenue, was given a suspended fine of $200 yesterday and put on six months' probation when arraigned before Judge Joseph B. Hermes on a charge of attempting to sell fireworks in violation of the city ordinance.

The year's first fireworks' injury was reported from Evanston, where Mrs. Stella Puszczewski, 50, of 1722 Grey avenue, was cut on the chest when hit by a tin can blown up by a cannon cracker set off by her son, Serwin, 12.

The National Safety council, in a bulletin issued yesterday, advised that the only safe way to handle firecrackers is to stay away from them.

IL DUCE AND KING MOURN AT BIER OF COUNT CIANO

PONTE A MORIANO, Italy, June 27—(AP)—Premier Mussolini came here by plane today to pay homage at the bier of Count Costanzo Ciano, his steadfast friend and collaborator in the building of Fascism.

The count, father of Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano and president of the new Fascist chamber, died last night of a heart attack he suffered at his home in Leghorn. He was 63 years old.

Foreign Minister Ciano and his wife, Edda, Mussolini's daughter, were here, and others high in the Fascist party and government also were present or on the way.

DOCTOR GIVES UP IN ALLEGED SALE OF BABY FOR $50

Cleveland, O., June 27.—[Special.]—A Cleveland physician surrendered to authorities today in the alleged sale of an illegitimate baby for $50. The doctor, John W. Tippie, insisted he had done no wrong but he will be arraigned in court tomorrow.

The unmarried parents and the Pittsburgh couple with whom the baby girl, age one month, was placed for adoption all were pleading for custody of the infant.

The parents, Don Harmon, 31 years old, and Mrs. Isabelle Farrell, 24, whose husband is in prison, were arraigned before Judge Jacob Stacel on morals charges. They pleaded guilty.

She said Dr. Tippie took the baby because she was unable to pay his fee.

Dr. Tippie is charged with having placed the infant for adoption with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sesan of Pittsburgh without the consent of a court.

CHARLES ANTOINE WILL DISPOSES OF $250,000 ESTATE

The will of Charles Antoine, disposing of an estate estimated at $250,000, was filed yesterday with Frank Lyman, clerk of the Probate court. Mr. Antoine, co-founder of the sporting goods firm of Von Lengerke and Antoine, 33 South Wabash avenue, died June 19 at the age of 78 years. He lived at 5555 Everett avenue. He left half of his estate to a daughter, Mrs. Jeanette de la Chapelle, 132 Abingdon avenue, Kenilworth, and the other half was placed in trust for Mrs. de La Chapelle and her husband, Jaques. There were minor bequests to distant relatives and to employés.

Ransom E. Kennicott.

Funeral services for Ransom E. Kennicott, chief forester of the Cook county forest preserve district and one of its founders, were held yesterday in Des Plaines. Mr. Kennicott died of a heart attack Saturday at Torch lake, in upper Michigan, where he and his wife were visiting a daughter, Mrs. Virgil Leech of Detroit. He was 70 years old and lived at 1733 Van Buren avenue, Des Plaines. He was widely known as a naturalist and in 1914 was asked to aid in planning the forest preserve system. He was named chief forester in 1915. His widow, Clementine; the daughter, Mrs. Leech, and three sons, Ransom, Roland, and Amasa, survive.

Mrs. Caroline E. Lane.

Mrs. Caroline E. Lane, 95 years old, a pioneer in south side church affairs, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Otis Beardsley, 298 Ravine drive, Highland Park. She had been ill for five years. Until the death of her husband, Charles E. Lane, a book publisher, about twenty years ago, the couple lived in Lombard, where Mrs. Lane was active in club work. In 1925 she was honored on the fortieth anniversary of the Sunday school out of which the Hyde Park Congregational church grew. Besides Mrs. Beardsley, Mrs. Lane is survived by one son, Dr. Walter A. Lane of Milton, Mass., and another daughter, Mrs. Wellington Smith of Lee, Mass. Private funeral services will be conducted at the Beardsley home tomorrow.

Mrs. Anna Marie Knudtson.

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Marie Knudtson, 77 years old, will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 3905 Lincoln avenue. Mrs. Knudtson, the wife of Thurston L. Knudtson, retired engineer and manufacturer, died Monday in her home at 5249 North Spaulding avenue. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Olson, settled in Chicago in 1845. Besides her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Martha Windle, Mrs. Luella Sellstrom, and Miss Irene Knudtson survive.

Mrs. Julie Adelaide McIntosh.

Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Julie Adelaide McIntosh, 407 North Scoville avenue, Oak Park, who died last Friday at Spring Lake, Mich., after a short illness. She was 63 years old. Mrs. McIntosh was a member of a pioneer family. Her grandfather, George A. Ingalls, came to Illinois from Connecticut in 1832. Mrs. McIntosh had lived all her life in Oak Park. She is survived by her husband, Walter T. McIntosh, chairman of the board of the Liquid Carbonic corporation, and a foster son.

John Schramek.

John Schramek died yesterday in his home at 1924 Kenneth avenue. He was 80 years old, and had lived in Chicago since he was 2 years old, when his parents brought him here from Bohemia. Surviving are three daughters and two sons. Services will be held at 3 p. m. Friday in the chapel at 4138 North avenue.

Michael J. Maloney.

Michael J. Maloney, 68 years old, a former assistant corporation counsel, died yesterday shortly after he had suffered a stroke in his home at 117 North Kostner avenue. He was admitted to the Illinois bar in 189[illegible] and retired five years ago. Besides his widow, Mary, he is survived by two sons and a daughter. Services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in St. Matthew's Catholic church.

Joseph F. Woodding.

Funeral services for Joseph F. Woodding will be held at 2 p. m. today in his home at 928 North Kedvale avenue. Mr. Woodding, a veteran engineer for the North Western railroad, died Sunday at the age of 57. He had been in the railroad's service for thirty-seven years. His widow, Marie, and a daughter, Mrs. Mollie Bublitz, survive.

Baron Gonsuke Hayashi.

TOKIO, June 27.—(AP)—Baron Gonsuke Hayashi, Japanese ambassador to London from 1920 to 1925, died today. He was 78 years old.

PUT 50 MILLIONS OF NEW ISSUES ON SALE TODAY

Other Offerings Planned for Near Future.

Activity in the reviving securities market will be stepped up today with public offering of approximately $50,000,000 of securities. Plans also were advanced for public offering of additional millions in the near future.

A banking syndicate headed by Stone & Webster and Blodget, Inc., will offer $27,300,000 of Gulf States Utilities company 3½ per cent first mortgage and refunding bonds. Series D, due May 1, 1969, at 106¾ and accrued interest. Most of the proceeds will be used for redemption of existing securities.

Another Utility Sells Bonds.

An issue of $22,000,000 first mortgage bonds, 3½ per cent interest, of the Washington Water Power company, controled by American Power and Light, will be offered today by White, Weld & Co., Bonbright & Co., and Halsey, Stuart & Co. The bonds, which will mature in 1964, will be offered at 105 and accrued interest. Proceeds will be used largely for redemption of outstanding securities. The company operated in eastern Washington and northern Idaho.

F. Eberstadt & Co. will offer today 52,500 shares of the W. L. Maxson corporation, New York. The company manufactures a robot navigator and various control devices used in aerial navigation. The offering price is $5 a share.

Chicago Sells Water Notes.

Robert B. Upham, city controler, yesterday announced the sale of $2,400,000 of water revenue certificates at a premium of $37,440 to a syndicate headed by R. D. White & Co., New York. The net price was 101.56, with the interest cost to the city 2.375 per cent. Upham said this gives the city the lowest coupon and cost on water obligations in its history.

A new issue of 400,000 shares of Class A $1 par common stock of Northrop Aircraft and warrants for the purchase of 80,000 additional shares, is offered in units of five shares of stock and one detached warant, at $30 a unit, as initial financing for the company. The warants entitle the holder to purchase within five years class a common stock at $7 a share or at 80 per cent of book value, whichever is higher.

An offering of $30,000,000 of bonds of the province of Quebec, Canada, is expected to be made shortly in the United States. The issue is to be registered with the SEC shortly.

CESSNA AIRCRAFT.

Investors' Guide: I am looking for an airplane manufacturer which, although the company may be small now compared with some, nevertheless offers speculative possibilities for an investor. One such concern I have in mind is the Cessna Aircraft company. What can you tell me about it?—R. J. O.

Answer: Cessna Aircraft company is now developing a twin motored five place, low wing monoplane designed to meet the demands of transport and military feeder lines. Its previous current model was a four passenger cabin, high wing monoplane, which sold for about $6,400.

During the first eleven months of 1938 the company produced twenty-six planes at its plant in Wichita, Kas. This compared with fifty the year before, thirty-four in 1936, and ten in 1935. Production was suspended from 1931 through 1934. During the three years following the company's formation in 1927 its output consisted of about 300 planes for military, private, and commercial use. Besides planes, it makes and sells parts.

For the four months ended last March 30 sales increased to $68,425. Operations, however, were in the red. Net loss was $1,124. This compared with sales of $37,034 and net income of $774 in the first three months of 1938. During the first eleven months of 1938 sales totaled $185,609 and net income $1,539, against sales of $255,850 and net income of $1,022 for the full 1937 year. Sales in 1936 amounted to $141,567 and net income $326.

The company has no funded debt. There are 293,905 shares of $1 par value common stock outstanding. No dividends have ever been paid on the stock. The balance sheet of March 31, 1939, showed total assets of $391,905. Current assets of $129,115 compared with current liabilities of $32,183.

The stock is quite speculative.

BABY NIPPLES?

Investors' Guide: Does Chicago Nipple Manufacturing company make nipples for baby bottles? If not, just what kind do they make? I would be grateful for some information on the company's sales, income, and any other data you may have available.—G. W.

Answer: No, Chicago Nipple Manufacturing company does not make nipples for baby bottles. Its nipples are of iron and steel. They are used together with unions and other fittings for pipe in the production of street and railway cars, automobiles, engines, and farm machinery, and by plumbers, steamfitters, and builders.

Here's the company's record in recent years:

| | Sales. | Net loss. | Loss per shr. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1938 | $285,018 | $46,843 | $0.85 |
| 1937 | 542,056 | 15,145 | 0.28 |
| 1936 | 396,356 | 25,914 | 0.47 |
| 1935 | 288,942 | 36,678 | 0.67 |
| 1934 | 242,126 | 30,606 | 0.56 |

The company has 54,990 shares of $5 par value capital stock outstanding. No dividends have been paid on the present stock, which was issued several years ago following a recapitalization.

COTTON

Deferred deliveries of cotton showed a strong undertone yesterday on American exchanges. Prices advanced to a new seasonal high level. A good demand was reported for textiles which had some effect on sentiment. Houses with Bombay connections sold July and October and bought the distant months.

Closing trades on July cotton were .14 cent a pound higher to .03 cent a pound higher, while the new crop months were .04 to .09 cent a pound higher.

Spot cotton closed .03 to .06 cent a pound higher with New York 9.97 cents, New Orleans 9.50 cents, Galveston 9.43 cents, and Houston 9.40 cents a pound. Prices follow:

IMPENDING LOSS OF DOLLAR RULE STIRS PRESIDENT

House Expected to Back Up Senate Action.

a stabilization fund to be used in conjunction with other nations to checkmate international speculators and to maintain foreign exchange at a reasonably constant level.

The senate yesterday voted to continue the two billion dollar fund. Mr. Roosevelt slid over this point in his condemnation of the senate. He did not discuss why the nations could not maintain foreign exchange at a fairly constant level by joint operation of their stabilization funds. Nor did he say anything of powers of other nations over currency.

Devaluation Another Weapon.

The second step, he went on, was to retain in the treasury the authority in narrow limits to devalue further the dollar by 9 cents, or 18 per cent of the present 50 cent level.

As a result foreign exchange has been held up during critical days of alarms, wars, and all sorts of things, he said. International bankers were run out of business and exporters and importers could make contracts with a reasonable expectation that on the due date they would have the same exchange as on the day they made the contract, he said. Manufacturers, merchants, and farmers benefited, he declared.

Taking away the power to devalue means restoring to private bankers the only check the government has on their speculative operations, the President charged. A great many people, including publishers of great newspapers, would like to see this done, he said.

Hundreds of millions were lost under the old system, Mr. Roosevelt declared. Naturally, somebody made a good portion of that money, he said. There is great resentment that these profits could no longer accrue, he charged.

Uphill Fight in Congress.

The struggle of administration leaders in congress to save something from the wreckage of the President's money powers was an uphill fight against the combined disapproval of Republicans and conservative Democrats who oppose devaluation and western Democrats who seek a higher price for silver.

The fight is almost equally heated in both houses of congress. A house bill extending the President's extrordinary powers for two years after June 30 now contains only the 2 billion dollar exchange stabilization fund as the senate amended and passed it yesterday.

Republican strategy in the house called for a motion to concur in the senate amendments, but this plan was temporarily upset when the administration decided not to risk bringing the bill up in the house without a gag rule. The rules committee late today adopted a rule directing the speaker to appoint conferees and send the bill to conference. The rule allows only 30 minutes' debate and will permit no intervening motion, such as a motion to concur.

Powers May Expire.

The first test vote, therefore, will come tomorrow on a motion to adopt the rule. If the rule should be defeated, the house probably would concur in the senate amendments, and the President would have nothing left of the powers he sought to extend except authority to maintain the stabilization fund.

If the rule is adopted and the bill goes to conference, the extension legislation itself will face almost certain death either from a conference deadlock or a filibuster beyond the Friday night expiration date. In that event, the President would lose even his power to maintain the stabilization fund, which is used under a tripartite monetary agreement with England and France to stabilize the dollar, the pound, and the franc in international exchange.

SIX PUBLISHERS CALL ON CITY TO WIN CAMPAIGN

Urge Fund to Revive Chicago Industry.

Six newspaper publishers yesterday old workers in the Greater Chicago ampaign that they must not fail in heir efforts to make the enterprise success. They addressed about 500 oluntary workers who met at the almer House to report progress in ollecting a $650,000 fund to make the rogram effective. The drive will end omorrow, with $465,000 pledged to ate.

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the reater Chicago Campaign and execu ve vice president of Sears, Roebuck Co., presided at the meeting. Pub shers at the speakers' table were ohn D. Ames Journal of Commerce; rank Knox, Chicago Daily News; arry Koehler, Herald and Examin r; M. C. Meigs, Chicago Evening merican; Col. R. R. McCormick, Chi ago Tribune, and S. E. Thomason, aily Times.

"Keep Driving"—Col. McCormick.

Col. McCormick epitomized the ttitude of his fellow publishers when e declared: "Let's keep driving with ur 'I Will' spirit and after that let be 'We Must.'"

Col. McCormick told how Chicago's reatest industries have been made e victims of repressive and restric ve measures by both congress and e legislature. He urged that all hicago unite in demanding that its epresentatives in congress do some hing to help the city.

"Let's make this demand felt all he way to the halls of congress in Washington,' he said.

"Chicago was once the great lum er market of America," Col. McCor ick pointed out in telling of the ttacks made on the city's industries. Boats brought lumber to the south ranch of the river from the north.

Great Forests Cleared.

"Then the great forests of the orth were cleared and the lumber topped coming by boat. But Chi ago's great power as a lumber mar et remained. And that continued ntil discriminatory railroad rates de troyed our lumber market suprem cy.

"Some years ago they had an idea Montreal of making that city a reat pulp market. They asked me hat made Chicago successful. Was our board of trade, which sent rain all over the world and brought oney back from all sections to pay r it? But even as we were talking bout it bills were being introduced congress to destroy the board of ade. Now grain is being sealed on e farms and railroads are not being aid for not hauling that grain.

Restrictions Handicap Industries.

"When I was in college in the east hey used to poke fun at Chicago as eing Porkopolis. That was all right, Chicago was the great packing enter of the nation. We sent out neats far and wide, and brought ack riches to the city. Then more han 30 years ago they started plac ng restrictions on the packing indus ry and now these restrictions have reatly reduced the status of the in ustry.

"When I came home from college he railroads were a great industry nd Chicago was the railroad center. H. Harriman was the great name; whether people liked him or not, hey talked about him. The Panama anal was being talked about. Then he first thing we knew we had it. ates were charged for using it that vere below cost. The long and short aul clause was put into effect.

Railway Trafic Stifled.

"This prevented our railroads from ompeting with the Panama canal or business across the country. The ailroads went into a decline. Many vent into receivership and their em loyés went on relief.

"I can't remember any of our west rn congressmen doing anything bout it. Our Chicago industries were he first to be attacked and nothing was done. But perhaps there is a righter side. All business is now nder attack. Chicago business hav ng been the first to be attacked, why shouldn't it be the first to re cover? And why shouldn't we now demand that our congressmen do something to help us?"

Mr. Ames declared that the program for a greater Chicago developed by the Chicago Association of Commerce should be supported by every business man.

Urges All to Contribute.

"Ask every Chicago business man, large or small, to contribute to our fund," Mr. Ames urged the workers. "If these business men do not contribute they are lying down on the job."

Mr. Knox said that the present campaign was timed exactly right.

"Now is the time to get our house in order for a swift advance on all fronts," he said. "A year or two ago it would have been too early and a year hence it would be too late. We soon will have the kind of government under which business can go forward—or we are going to have a kind of government under which there will be no need for an association of commerce."

Mr. Koehler said Chicago appeared to him to be like an automobile company that had failed to bring out a new model for six or seven years. We now have a new model, he said.

Mr. Meigs said the stronger the Association of Commerce is made the better it will be for Chicago business.

Mr. Thomason said that in the past Chicago moved forward by never failing to take advantage of its opportunities. If it fails by as much as one dollar to reach its present objective its progressive program will not meet the full success expected.

Monopoly Quiz Shifts Fire to Building Trade

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 27.—The administration today began its drive on the construction industry with the opening of monopoly committee hearings on this field and announcement of an anti-trust campaign against trade associations.

Isador Lubin, commissioner of labor statistics and one of the New Deal planners, dominating the monopoly investigation, opened the hearings on construction with a general indictment of the construction industry as "the worst laggard in the march of American business toward recovery."

He said that had the construction industry done its part, employment in the durable goods industries would have exceeded the peak of 1929.

Charges Lag in Building.

Lubin asserted that recovery in the durable goods industries in terms of employment and value equaled the 1929 peak in 1937, but that the construction industry did not keep pace. This resulted, he said, in a great unfilled demand for better houses.

Joseph J. O'Connell, special counsel for the joint monopoly committee in its investigation of the construction industry, outlined the purpose of the current series of hearings. He indicated that the New Dealers felt that housing would be a good avenue for steering the individual savings, in banks and elsewhere, which the planners are attacking as no longer a virtue.

The recent hearings on savings, he said, made it appear "that housing offers one of the most fertile if not the most fertile field for possible utilization of these accumulations of individual savings through the expansion of private enterprise operated for profit."

Pave Way for Projects.

The hearings are also expected to build up justification of the government's participation in housing construction and prepare the way for expansion of the public housing enterprises, in line with increased spending and lending by the New Deal administration, if it has its way.

In the opening attack of the New Deal on private construction, Lubin said that the industry will have produce 200,000 more houses than it did last year to maintain American housing standards at their present level.

He estimated that construction of 200,000 additional houses would create full time employment for more than 500,000 workers, and at a cost of $3,000 [illegible]h would require 1½ billion board feet of lumb[illegible], 1 billion 600 thousand bricks, 6 million barrels of cement, half a million tons of steel, 33,000 tons of copper, and 6 million gallons of paint.

SMITH, DAWSON TO TELL SENATE OF HOUSING PLAN

Carlton A. Smith and Allen H. Dawson, who operate the real estate company of Smith & Dawson at 1 North La Salle street, left for Washington. D. C. yesterday in answer to subpenas from the senate committee considering amendments to the housing act of 1937.

The partners intend to tell the committee today about a town—Prospect Heights—they are developing two miles north of Mount Prospect. Smith and Dawson said they will recommend their program for adoption on a national scale.

Since the fall of 1936, Smith said, 116 families have moved into Prospect Heights, with 50 more homes under construction or contract.

Substantial savings to purchasers are claimed under the partners' plan, which eliminates the usually expensive sales organization. They do their own selling and their own contracting.

Smith and Dawson were selected as representatives of Illinois builders and contractors by T. T. Hildebrandt, a committee investigator who made a tour of the country. Thirty other firms were picked from other states.

GEN. TIRE MAKES RUBBER CLUTCH OF NEW DESIGN

Akron, O., June 27.—(AP)—A new type of rubber clutch was announced today by the General Tire & Rubber company. In it narrow vanes of rubber squirm into serpentine form and cling to steel with twice the friction coefficient of asbestos or other conventional clutch linings, the company said.

The device already has been operated successfully on marine engines and oil well rigs. A 40 inch clutch is the largest made so far. Invention of the device was credited to Thomas L. Fawick of Akron, O.

CITY'S SKYLINE PUSHED DOWN BY HIGH TAXES

Demolition of Tall Structures Forced.

BY AL CHASE.

High taxes are lowering Chicago's skyline. Inability of property owners to meet the constantly rising tax load is bringing about a steadily increasing business for wreckers. One by one old time structures, many of them internationally known, are being torn down to save taxes.

Parking lots and "taxpayers" [low buildings built with the idea of making enough from rentals to pay taxes] are the principal uses loop properties are being put to when the wreckers get through.

In outlying sections thousands of small buildings have been and are being razed and the land left unused by owners who found their income too small to pay taxes and their buildings too old to warrant rebuilding. Demolition was the only solution to their problem.

Capitol Building One Instance.

Chicago's most conspicuous case of skyline lowering is the demolition of the twenty story Capitol building at State and Randolph streets and its proposed replacement with a two story taxpayer. The original building, costing $2,000,000, and famous for years as the world's tallest and largest office building, was known as the Masonic Temple.

Its demolition will be completed today, one day ahead of schedule, wrecking company officials announced.

Operating expenses and high taxes, coupled with a prospective cost of $100,000 for caissons to replace the present floating foundations threatened by subway construction if the original building were left standing, caused the owners to decide to wreck it and replace it.

Taxpayers Prove Savers.

It has been proved repeatedly that a low, modern taxpayer also is a tax saver as compared with a tall, obsolete structure.

Leo Varty, of Varty & Co., a former president of the Chicago Real Estate board, yesterday told what had been accomplished at the southeast corner of Dearborn and Washington streets. Five years have elapsed since the eight story old time structure was razed and a modern two story taxpayer built.

After operating expenses were paid in the old building, there was not enough left to pay the ever increasing taxes, Varty said. The owners decided to wreck it and replace with a two story taxpayer.

Tells Five Year Results.

"At the end of five years we find that the so-called taxpayer not only pays all general taxes and operating expenses but a 10 per cent annual depreciation charge and 5 per cent on newly invested capital, with a substantial margin in addition," Varty said. "The building is 100 per cent occupied."

Farther south in the downtown area wreckers are tearing down two large buildings—both fairly modern and in their day considered fine structures—because earnings are not sufficient to meet tax requirements. These are the eight story and six story buildings at 618-34 Sherman street. They once were owned by the late James A. Patten, grain operator, and now are the property of his son, John Patten. It is planned to use the areas for parking lots.

Five Stories to Be Removed.

At 115-17 North Wells street the Eugene S. Pike estate land trust is owner of a seven story building. Inability of the upper floors to yield a rental return sufficient to meet operating expenses and mounting taxes caused the owner to decide to slice off the five upper floors. This is being done. The two lower floors will be modernized into a taxpayer.

Outside of the loop depreciation and soaring taxes have been the agencies back of a tremendous demolition campaign waged by discouraged property owners.

Thousands of homes and small business buildings have been torn down—some by wrecking companies and others by the Works Progress Administration.

Although official figures are not available, it is understood that more cubic feet of old structures have been torn down by wreckers than have been erected by builders during the last few years.

Expect Cotton Surplus Will Set New High

Washington, D. C., June 27.—[Special.]—Despite costly New Deal schemes which have failed to eliminate the huge supply, there will be a record breaking surplus of 14,250,000 bales of American cotton throughout the world when the new crop starts moving to market in August, it was estimated today. The government holds 11,300,000 bales of this supply under price pegging loans.

The bureau of agricultural economics, in announcing these figures, estimated that world consumption of American cotton during the marketing year ending Aug. 1 would total 11,250,000 bales, compared with 10,900,000 in the preceding season.

Foreign Surplus Stocks Lower.

Surplus stocks of foreign cotton on Aug. 1 were estimated at 8,000,000 to 8,250,000 bales, against 8,900,000 a year earlier. The fact that world consumers have been using their previously acquired supply of the American product accounts for the slight increase in consumption figures, as exports have been running 41 per cent below the 1938 season and have reached the lowest level in sixty years.

Against the American record, consumption of cotton grown in foreign countries this season was estimated at 16,700,000 bales, the second largest in history and 38 per cent larger than the average amount consumed annually during the 1927-'36 period.

Reasons for Price Advance.

The bureau in commenting on the fact that domestic spot prices had reached the highest figure since August, 1937, said the exceptionally small amount of "free" cotton and "increased prospects for an export subsidy" contributed to the advance. By "free" cotton the bureau meant cotton not pledged as collateral for government loans to farmers.

ARCHITECTS TOLD THEY PLAY ROLE IN ENDING SLUMS

Proper reconstruction of slum areas depends to a great extent on the genius and skill of architects, Paul D. Angell declared last night. Angell is secretary of the Chicago Building Congress, Inc., sponsor of the public service building corporation bills now under consideration at Springfield. He was one of several speakers at the annual meeting of the Illinois Society of Architects.

Elmer C. Jensen, president of the Illinois Society of Architects, presided at a discussion of the architect's place in the reconstruction of Chicago.

Paul Gerhardt Jr., head of the administration ticket, was elected president of the Illinois Society of Architects to succeed Jensen, who has served for five terms. Arthur Woltersdorf and Ralph C. Harris are the new vice presidents. Ralph C. Llewelyn is treasurer and Stanley D. Fairdough is secretary. Herman L. Palmer continues as financial secretary.

Fabricated Structural Steel Orders Rise in May

New York, June 27.—(AP)—The American Institute of Steel Construction today announced orders booked for fabricated structural steel in May totaled 156,207 tons, compared with 117,549 in April. Shipments in the month aggregated 120,453 tons, against 118,228 in April.

LEAHY, ROCK ISLAND VETERAN, RETIRING; 52 YEARS WITH ROAD

William J. Leahy will retire on Saturday as passenger trafic manager of the Rock Island after fifty-two years of continuous service with the road. He is one of the country's most widely known railroad men. Announcement of his retirement was made yesterday by E. M. Durham Jr., chief executive officer.

W. J. Leahy.

Fifty railroad passenger executives from throughout the country will be his hosts at a lunch today at the Union League club.

Leahy started railroading with the Rock Island as a traveling passenger agent at New York City. He advanced through successive promotions to assistant passenger trafic manager in 1920 and on June 1, 1936, was appointed to the post from which he is retiring. He has long been an advocate of low fares to attract business to the railroads.

Leahy was born in Elmira, N. Y., July 25, 1867, and attended school at Buffalo. He resides at 10501 South Hoyne avenue, Beverly Hills. Asked about his plans, Leahy said he has never been able to break 100 at golf and possibly with time on his hands he may be able to do it.

PORT STRIKE IN SAN FRANCISCO IS CALLED OFF

San Francisco, Cal., June 27.—[Special.]—Longshoremen resumed work on six San Francisco docks late today ending a ten day port tieup. The strike was called when the Hawaiian American Line sought to put ten clerks on a monthly salary instead of taking them from hiring halls on seniority. The C. I. O. contended this was an attempt to take control of jobs away from the union.

Wayne L. Morse, who will arbitrate the dispute, toured docks and hiring halls. He told longshoremen problems involved in the dispute could not be settled until they returned to work. Then he put the ten clerks on a preferred status and ordered the longshoremen's union to round up all available men for tonight's work and to have the entire force of port gangs on hand at the dispatching hall at 7 a. m. tomorrow.

Employers were told to place forthwith orders for all necessary gangs and preferred ship clerks were ordered to return to their jobs as they had in the past, without waiting for clearance by the union.

Millers Raise Quotations on Flour 10 Cents Barrel

Yesterday's advance of approximately 1½ cents a bushel in wheat values was followed by an increase of 10 cents a barrel in the quotations on flour, millers announced. The flour boosts are effective in most major milling centers of the nation, including Chicago and New York. The increase was the second in less than a week on flour, reflecting the wheat market's recovery from last week's low points.

HOW To Get Bond Service When You Need It

Small supply of new issues and narrow profit margins now make it impractical for bond distributors to extend personal sales solicitation to more than a small part of the investment market. Thousands of occasional bond buyers—also investors of moderate means—even substantial investors living at a distance from financial centers, are necessarily overlooked.

The simple solution of this problem is for such investors to take the buying initiative—make known their investment requirements—as they do in most other purchases. To facilitate this, we have set up a special service in our Chicago office whereby any bond investor, regardless of location or size of funds, may keep informed—get offerings suited to needs—handle all details most conveniently, either by mail or in person. This service is fully explained in our booklet, "An Open Door to the Bond Market." # TREASURY CUTS ITS PRICE FOR FOREIGN SILVER

Jars World Market by Action.

The United States treasury yesterday lowered the price paid for foreign silver from 43 to 40 cents an ounce, posting the lower quotation less than twenty-four hours after the senate voted to discontinue foreign purchases after July 1.

This action was followed by an immediate slump in silver prices in the world's principal "free" market at London, and, combined with the senate vote, had significant effect throughout the world. This was true especially in Mexico, whose silver mining industry has been supported chiefly by American purchases at artificially high prices. Mexico gets half of its total revenue from the silver industry.

Silver both for immediate and future delivery declined about 1.45 cents an ounce in London to the lowest levels since Sept. 28, 1938. The spot quotation was the equivalent of 39.89 cents and the forward price 39.40 cents.

Handy and Harman Price Cut.

The New York bullion firm of Handy and Harman slashed its price on imported silver for commercial use to 39¾ cents an ounce, from 42¾ cents previously paid.

Securities and commodities showed no important reactions to the silver developments.

Along with the decision to discontinue foreign buying of the metal, the senate coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats had voted to end President Roosevelt's power to devalue further the gold content of the dollar.

In a move to placate silver state legislators, the senate coalition had voted to raise from 64.64 to 77.57 cents an ounce the price paid for domestic silver. The house has yet to pass on the senate's silver action.

Rush of Silver Feared.

The new treasury price of 40 cents an ounce on foreign silver was posted at noon without explanation as to the reasons for the change, but with the announcement that the quotation would remain in effect for twenty-four hours. The treasury feared a rush of silver to America unless the treasury price were put in line with the world price.

Both domestic and foreign silver has been acquired under the silver purchase act of 1934. The treasury is estimated to have acquired $750,000,000 of the metal abroad and more than $250,000,000 at home.

Canada to Be Affected.

The change in United States policy is expected to have significant effect upon the economy of Canada, an important producer of the metal.

Monetary experts watched the action of the foreign exchange market at New York for clews as to what might happen to world currencies. Most of the leading European currencies advanced in terms of the dollar. The Swiss franc showed the widest swing, rising 0.02¾ cent. The British pound sterling advanced 1-16 of a cent and French and Dutch units crept higher.

The New York Federal Reserve bank reported gold imports during the day totaling $17,979,000, of which $8,120,000 came from The Netherlands, $7,098,000 from England, and $2,761,000 from Canada.

Mexico Stops Dollar Deals; Fears a Crisis

MEXICO CITY, June 27.—(AP)—The Bank of Mexico and private banks suspended dealings in foreign exchange today following the American senate's vote to discontinue foreign silver purchases.

The central institution's notice to the other banks came during excited activity in financial circles, where there was uncertainty concerning the effect of the American action on Mexico's major industry—mining—and the future course of the peso.

"The Bank of Mexico has decided to suspend temporarily its participation in foreign exchange to conserve intact its metallic reserve until it is decided if the American government will be able to continue buying foreign silver," said the bank's statement.

Early Dealings Active.

During the morning there was tremendous activity in the exchange during which thousands of pesos were converted into dollars.

There was no indication how long the suspension, first since expropriation of oil industries March 18, 1938, would be in effect. Bankers believed some arrangement would be made in the next few days, but admitted that nothing was certain, particularly since the senate action was not final.

There was hope here some less sweeping arrangements would be worked out in congressional conference committee.

Viewed As Heavy Blow.

Economists generally agreed that discontinuance of foreign silver purchases by the United States would be a disaster to the Mexican mining industry and that it would sharply curtail treasury income from export and production taxes.

Mexico has been shipping about 7,000,000 ounces of silver to the United States monthly at an average of 43 cents an ounce, or about $3,000,000 monthly. The import tax on this is about $200,000, with a production tax in addition.

The Bank of Mexico had been keeping the peso-dollar rate stable for some time by buying dollars at 4.985 pesos and selling at 4.99.

CHICAGO STOCK YARDS FOUNDED 75 YEARS AGO

Seventy-five years ago today there was born an idea that produced the "butcher shop of the world," established in what was then Chicago's back yard.

Members of the Packers Association of the City of Chicago, meeting in the Tremont House, decided on June 28, 1864, that this city should have a consolidated market place. They were dissatisfied with the four existing markets because prices often varied as much as 50 cents.

As a result of that meeting, the Union Stock Yard and Transit company was formed, with the support of the railroads entering the city, and was spread over a square-mile area in what was then the outskirts of Chicago.

The plant, which since has handled 880,000,000 head of livestock worth more than $21,000,000,000, was opened for business on Christmas day, 1865.

Oil Firm Leases Grounds of Illinois Country Club

Duquoin, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—Announcement made here today of the leasing of the Duquoin Elks country club grounds of 82 acres to the Midwest Gas and Oil company of this city for $15 an acre, one of the highest prices yet recorded in this field. The Texas corporation also has been active in this field and their leasings, together with that of the Midwest group, is believed to portend new drilling activity in the Duquoin area at an early date.

HOUSE PUSHES SLUM BILLS TO SECOND READING

Rescued from Snag in Night Action.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—[Special.]—The public service building corporation bills tonight were advanced to second reading in the house after running into a legislative snag which earlier today had threatened to kill them for this session. The bills are designed to make possible the rebuilding and rehabilitation of slum or "blighted" areas with private capital. They were passed by the senate last week by a vote of 35 to 3.

Representative Peters helps push slum clearing bills ahead.

The bills are now in a position to be advanced to the passage stage tomorrow with the possibility that they may be finally voted on by the house before it adjourns next Friday night.

Encounter Hard Sledding.

The slum clearance bills today hit the hardest sledding they have yet encountered since their introduction in both houses three months ago. It was only by calling a special meeting of the revenue committee tonight after the house adjourned that the bills' sponsors were able to get them pushed up to second reading.

Representative Everett R. Peters [R., St. Joseph], chairman of the revenue committee, called the meeting after a lone objector during the afternoon session had opposed moving one of the two bills from first to second reading without detouring it through committee. The fact that twenty-five out of the thirty-five members of the committee attended the meeting was interpreted as indicating the lively interest that has been aroused by the pending legislation.

Committee Urges Passage.

The committee voted to report the bill out with the recommendation that it be passed. The vote was 14 to 6, with five members not voting.

The two bills were on first reading when the house convened this afternoon.

On motion of Representative Harry L. Topping [R., Kankakee] the first of the two bills was advanced from first to second reading without a dissenting vote. When the second bill was called a lone objection by Representative Ernest A. Greene [R., Chicago] forced Speaker Cross to refer it to the revenue committee.

The rules of the house provide that senate bills, after being placed on first reading in the house, must automatically be referred to committee unless the sponsors can obtain unanimous consent to send them directly to second reading—the amendment stage—without detour to committee.

Same as House Bills.

Representative Topping and other members of the house pointed out that the senate bills are identical to similar bills which had previously been introduced in the house by Topping and Representative Edward J. McCabe [D., Chicago].

They argued that reference to com-

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 27.—Stocks closed irregularly higher today after changing course several times. Best prices were posted in the last hour of the session. Earlier there had been a downward trend after a moderately higher opening.

Volume continued small, only 475,460 shares changing hands. Of 653 issues traded, 255 advanced, 218 declined and 180 closed unchanged.

Sentiment in Wall street was reported to be considerably improved by the senate's voiding President Roosevelt's control over the dollar. This development was said to have offset troubling foreign news.

Mining stocks featured trading for a time in response to the senate's passage of a bill boosting the buying price of domestic silver and ending purchases of foreign silver. Sunshine Mining, leading domestic silver producer, jumped 2¼ points to 11¼. International Nickel, Anaconda and Kennecott edged fractionally higher. Stocks of foreign silver companies gave ground. Howe Sound, Big Canadian and Mexican Silver Producer, lost 3⅛. Homestake and McIntyre Porcupine, gold mining leaders, fell a point or so each.

United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, United States Rubber, Montgomery Ward, and General Electric, among other industrial issues, came in for better support in the late trading. The gains ranged from fractions to about a point.

Carriers displayed a firm undertone. Power and light shares came on with the industrials and many showed fractional advances. Aircraft issues closed mixed in a narrow range. Oil and food stocks closed little changed.

Among miscellaneous issues, Celanese corporation advanced 1¼ point on good buying. Electric Autolite turned active and closed 1 point higher. Loft close dunchanged.

New York Bonds.

Losses ran from fractions to a point or more. The so-called high grade issues managed to hold their own, however. Trading was quiet.

Senate action on silver and monetary policy, was evidently a drag on speculative interest, brokers said. Despite the effect of Washington news, the market went to work on the formal marketing of the new Bethlehem Steel offering of $25,000,000 of 3¼ per cent bonds. Starting at 99, it was reported in underwriting circles the bonds soon went to a premium.

United States government loans were neglected, with losses of 9-32ds point offset by gains of 3-32ds.

Chicago Stocks.

The trend of Chicago stock prices was again lower yesterday. Commonwealth Edison, the volume leader, sagged ⅛ point to 29⅜ on a turnover of 1,650 shares. Chicago Flexible Shaft showed the most severe recession, dropping 2¼ points to 71¾.

Trading involved 19,000 shares and one hundred issues. Of these, twenty-seven advanced, fifty-five declined, and eighteen closed unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks closed mostly unchanged yesterday in a fair volume of trading. American National advanced, while Chicago Title and First National declined. Other bid quotations were the same as on Monday.

WHEAT CLIMBS; RAINY WEATHER DELAYS HARVEST

World wheat markets turned upward yesterday after having been on the downgrade for several days. Wet weather in the American southwest was said to have been the main influence.

Wheat prices on the Chicago Board of Trade advanced 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents a bushel. Closing sales were at the top. Liverpool wheat futures were 1¼ to 1⅜ cents higher. Short covering attributed to a Chicago speculator was reported to have been responsible for part of the upturn in the English market.

Trading in corn was dull with futures closing unchanged to ⅛ cent higher. Oats advanced ⅞ to 1⅛ cents. Rye advanced ⅜ to ⅝ cent in sympathy with wheat. Soy beans finished 1⅝ cents lower to ½ cent higher.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Future advances in hog prices occurred yesterday at the Chicago stock yards. Gains of 5 to 10 cents were general in most classes, with the level of prices highest since May 18.

Some other classes of live stock rallied from the preceding day's lows, with lambs leading the upturn. The latter sold actively at strong to 25 cents higher rates.

The tonnage of beef in yesterday's cattle run was heavy again, but demand was sufficiently broad to absorb most offerings of steers and yearlings at fully steady prices. Some were as much as 10 to 15 cents higher.

Commodities

World sugar futures at New York yesterday climbed to all time record high levels for the second successive day. Closing prices were lower than the day's best, but showed gains of 0.01½ to 0.04 cent a pound.

Sharp gains in London raw sugar values, which were the highest since 1930, inspired heavy trade and speculative demand, brokers said. New activity in raw sugar aided domestic futures, which closed unchanged to 0.02 cent higher.

Cocoa contracts established new seasonal lows in the December, March, and May positions under liquidation and hedge selling stimulated by weakness in the Brazilian exchange rate.

In Chicago, meanwhile, the price of No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap was reduced 50 cents a ton on confirmation of a mill purchase of the metal at $13.50 per ton. Heavy melting is now quoted at $13.25 to $13.50 a ton, compared with the usual 50 cent spread.

In other New York staples, advances and declines were about evenly divided. On the upside as trading finished were hides, silk, cottonseed oil, and copper. Lower closings were posted for rubber, coffee, lead, and tin futures. Wool tops finished 0.2 cent lower to 0.2 cent higher.

BUSINESS RISING, TWO FIRMS TELL STOCKHOLDERS

Zenith Radio and Whiting Report on Trend.

Business is getting better, stockholders of two large Chicago companies were told yesterday at annual meetings.

E. F. McDonald Jr.

Eugene F. McDonald Jr., president of the Zenith Radio corporation, said the dollar volume of orders at the company's recent initial sales meeting was two and a half times that of a year ago.

T. S. Hammond, president of the Whiting corporation, said that although the company failed to break even for the fiscal year ended April 30, there has been a marked pickup in business in the last three months.

McDonald, replying to a question after the meeting, said that Zenith is now leading all other companies in the sale of household radio sets and that it hopes to be first in sales of automobile radio sets before the year is over. It has obtained contracts to supply Ford and Nash cars with radios.

Foresees Good Year.

"I do not venture predictions," he commented, "but the initial distributor orders make it look healthy for the coming year."

All of the company's radio sets this year will be without aerial or ground connections, their place being taken by a new wave magnet, he said.

McDonald reiterated previous assertions that the present time is premature for the sale of television sets.

"Television is coming, but it is not here yet," he said. "To film a motion picture play costs at least $1,000 a minute of completed film. So far there has been no adequate way of meeting the expense of a comparable television program. Only about twenty-five television sets have been sold in all New York, and most of these seem to be to executives in the industry itself."

But despite his attitude, he invited stockholders to witness a demonstration of television in the company's laboratories.

Praises Profit Sharing.

McDonald told about the bonus and profit sharing systems of the company and called them successful. He said that twice a year there is a loyalty bonus and a wage bonus which he said stockholders had told him was the best investment the company could make.

Hammond told the stockholders of the Whiting corporation, which makes cranes, foundry equipment, and numerous items used in the capital goods industry, that he believed the company record in not quite "breaking even" was a good one in view of the straits in which the capital goods industry has been. He said he believes conditions now are better than they were a year ago.

15,728 TON IRON ORE CARGO SETS RECORD FOR LAKE VESSELS

Capt. Jos. Matthews on last trip.

Officials of the company said that this is the largest cargo of iron ore ever to be carried on the Great Lakes, and probably the largest cargo of anything ever moved on the lakes. The cargo will exceed by a small margin the load brought in by the same ship last year, which set a record.

The 15,728 tons of ore, which was brought from the Great Northern railway's dock at Superior, Wis., is estimated to be sufficient to feed the company's blast furnaces at the present rate of capacity for three days.

Matthews has been a sailor on the Great Lakes for about fifty years and for twenty-eight successive years he has been a captain of Inland Steel steamers. His home is in Cleveland, O.

High water at the head of the lakes enabled the loading of the record cargo, Inland officials said.

STOCK EXCHANGE VOTES TODAY ON SATURDAY CLOSE

Governors of the New York Stock exchange are expected to decide at a meeting this afternoon whether to close the exchange on Saturdays during July and August. Their action will have an important bearing on whether La Salle street brokerage employés will go on a five day week for the next two months.

Chicago Stock exchange officials said yesterday that a decision must await New York's action, but emphasized that Chicago will not necessarily follow the leadership of the larger exchange.

The question of closing the "Big Board" on Saturdays during the two months was brought to the fore by the recent decision of New York's clearing house banks to close on those days. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York arrived at the same decision yesterday.

Business Bits

Robert S. Brunhouse has been appointed sales manager of the recently created Stewart-Warner electric range division. He will continue to direct electric water heater sales and the national housing and apartment house project divisions.

George J. Mead has resigned as a director and member of the executive committee of United Aircraft corporation. Mead was one of the original founders of Pratt and Whitney company, now the aircraft engine division of United Aircraft.

William Benziger has been appointed a Chicago representative of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company of Fort Wayne, Ind. He will have Chicago as headquarters and will operate under the Besser agency of this city.

Paul H. Davis of Chicago has been elected a director of Line Material company.

Darrell S. Boyd of the legal firm of Bell, Boyd and Marshall, has been elected a director of Personal Loan and Savings Bank.

Senate Approves Jones to Be Loan Unit Chief

Washington, D. C., June 27.—(AP)—The senate today confirmed the nomination of Jesse H. Jones of Texas to be head of the federal lending agency which will be created July 1 under President Roosevelt's government reorganization plan. Jones is chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

WALGREEN WILL BOOST DIVIDEND PAYMENT TO 40c

New Rate Takes Effect in September.

Directors of the Walgreen company, large drug store chain, yesterday voted to increase the company's common dividend rate from 25 to 40 cents a share quarterly. The new rate will not go into effect until next autumn.

Two common dividends were declared. One, at the present rate of 25 cents a share quarterly, will be paid on Aug. 1 to stockholders of record July 10. The second payment, at the new rate of 40 cents a share, will be disbursed September 20 to stockholders of record Aug. 20.

Payment Date Changed.

The payment date on the common shares was also changed by the directors. Future payments will be made on March 20, June 20, Sept. 20, and Dec. 20.

Directors also declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.12½ a share on the 4½ per cent preferred stock, payable Sept. 15 to stockholders of record Aug. 24.

MANUFACTURERS BLAME LABOR ACT FOR AUTO STRIFE

Washington, D. C., June 27.—[Special.]—The Automobile Manufacturers' association today asserted that enactment of the national labor relations act, instead of diminishing labor disputes, was followed by "a period of agitation, unrest and turmoil, without parallel" in the industry's history.

Testifying for the association, which represents all major automobile manufacturers except Ford, William J. Cronin, secretary, told the senate committee on education and labor that peace through collective bargaining could be accomplished only through amending the act.

Merwin K. Hart, president of the New York state economic council, assailed the Wagner act as "in effect a licensing by government of private, unofficial, irresponsible groups, to prey upon workers and upon private enterprise."

BEG YOUR PARDON

A story in THE TRIBUNE for June 22 said that employés of the Chicago, Aurora & Elgin railroad would accept a pay cut of 10 per cent when the monthly gross revenue of the company goes below $5,500. It should have read "when the daily gross revenue goes below $5,500 in any month."

HOUSE ADVANCES SLUM BILLS TO SECOND READING

mittee was unnecessary because the house bills had been previously reported out by the house revenue committee with the recommendation that they be passed. They also pointed out that a subcommittee of the revenue group had held public hearings on the measures here and in Chicago and had approved them. The house bills died last week when members voted to lighten the calendar by killing all house bills on first reading.

Speedy Action Required.

The chief concern of the sponsors of the public service building corporation legislation is the small amount of time remaining before the house finishes its biennial session at the end of this week.

Representatives from colored districts in Chicago have repeatedly fought the legislation since it was introduced several weeks ago. They have asserted that it would tend to restrict the area of colored districts in the city.

Aligned with the colored representatives is John Bowers, a lobbyist for the Chicago Real Estate board, who has been bombarding members of both houses with literature opposing the public service building corporation bills.

Purpose of Bills Outlined.

The pending bills were designed to enable privately financed housing companies to assemble land for necessary sites in obsolete slum areas by setting up such companies as public utilities—similar to railroad, gas and electric concerns—with the privilege of acquiring fractions of their sites by condemnation after most of such sites had been acquired through ordinary purchase methods.

They would be subject to strict regulation by the state housing board and 10 per cent of their dividends would be paid to local housing authorities for construction of low rent housing. The bills have been indorsed by the Chicago plan commission, the National Association of Real Estate Boards, the Chicago Association of Commerce, the Downtown council, as well as by Oscar Rosenthal, head of the Illinois State Housing board and five former presidents of the Chicago Real Estate board.

Topping Speaks for Bills.

The favorable report by the revenue committee tonight was adopted on the motion of Representative Arthur W. Sprague [R., La Grange] after Representative Topping had spoken for the bills.

Representative Charles Jenkins [R., Chicago] made a substitute motion, which, if passed, would have resulted in the bill being reported out with an unfavorable recommendation. It was defeated. Jenkins spoke vehemently against the legislation, declaring that the proposed public service building corporations would "hem in with a ring of steel" the present colored district which he represents on the near south side.

BUTTER FUTURE DROPS TO NEW SIX YEAR LOW

Concentrated hedging sales of butter futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange met with indifferent demand yesterday, and the November contract slipped ¼ cent a pound to 21½ cents, the lowest June price for that delivery in six years.

Traders said heavy major market receipts of fresh butter and the "shaky" condition of wholesale markets inspired selling. Yesterday's receipts locally totaled 1,622,000 pounds.

Chicago cash wholesale prices on top grades remained unchanged at the lowest June levels since 1933, but 90 score quotations declined. New York actuals were reduced ¼ cent a pound.

Egg futures in Chicago remained unchanged, with trading interest at low ebb.

Salesmen.

MEN

We are expanding our operations and our progress calls for a number of new men, 25-50 years of age, of good character and adaptability. This is a permanent opportunity and a good future with a financially strong, old company.

Inasmuch as there is nothing similar to our electric unit, we cannot get men experienced in our system of sales work, so we require ability to learn, as well as diligence and responsibility; no cost of any kind.

If you are selected you will be expected to start at once, attending factory branch school. Commission and bonus arrangement.

Apply Wednesday, 10:30 a. m. sharp.
Windsor Hotel, 4820 W. Chicago-av.
ASK FOR MR. LIND.

Immediate Employment

To fill several vacancies in our organization due to recent promotions, we will hire and train three men in our business. We are a large manufacturing organization with offices in all principal cities. Our product is an electrical device which is new, spectacular, and a positive necessity. Average earning on profit sharing basis of our large organization is over $40.00 per week. Work is most pleasant, demonstrating and installing this electrical necessity.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE OF SALE
STATE OF LOUISIANA COUPON BONDS.
SERIES G.

Sealed bids for the purchase of $500,000 Coupon Bonds, Series G, of the State of Louisiana, will be received by the Board of Liquidation of the State Debt of the State of Louisiana at its office in the State Capitol, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, until 11:00 o'clock a. m., Central Standard Time, on Wednesday, the 19th day of July, 1939.

Said bonds will be dated April 15th, 1939, and will be payable April 15, 1951, of the denomination of $1,000 each, interest payable semi-annually April 15 and October 15.

Bidders are requested to name the rate or rates of interest that said bonds will bear in multiples of one-quarter or one-tenth of one per cent, not to exceed, however, the rate of five per centum per annum. No bid for less than the entire issue will be considered. Different rates may be named and it will not be necessary that all bonds of the issue bear the same rate of interest. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder offering to pay the highest price therefor not less than the par value of the bonds and accrued interest, and naming the interest rate or rates which will result in the least interest cost to the State, the interest cost to the State to be computed by ascertaining the total amount of interest required to be paid during the life of the bonds sold and deducting therefrom the amount of any premium bid.

These bonds will constitute general obligations of the State of Louisiana and are secured by the avails of a special tax of three-quarters of one mill on the dollar of the assessed value of all property subject to taxation in the State of Louisiana, subject to payment of prior charges upon said tax for the payment of principal of and interest on bonded indebtedness of the State secured by and payable out of said tax. All bids must be unconditional. The opinion of Messrs. Thomson, Wood & Hoffman, New York City, approving the validity of these bonds, will be furnished to the purchaser free of charge. All bidders are required to submit a certified check drawn to the order of the Board of Liquidation of the State Debt for the amount of one per cent of the amount of bonds bid for. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. For further information address L. B. Baynard, Secretary, Board of Liquidation of the State Debt, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Dated: Baton Rouge, Louisiana, June 12, 1939.

NOW! A NEW LOANPLAN

Pick your own monthly repayment. Example: $10.07 per month, for 12 months repays everything on a $100 loan.

| CASH LOAN YOU GET | Amount you pay back each month [including all charges] for the following periods: 6 mos. | 12 mos. | 16 mos. | 20 mos. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| $ 20 | $ 3.70 | $ 2.02 | | |
| 50 | 9.40 | 5.03 | | |
| 70 | 12.94 | 7.05 | $ 5.59 | $ 4.73 |
| 100 | 18.48 | 10.07 | 7.98 | 6.74 |
| 125 | 23.05 | 12.54 | 9.94 | 8.38 |
| 150 | 27.58 | 14.97 | 11.84 | 9.97 |
| 200 | 36.60 | 19.78 | 15.60 | 13.11 |
| 250 | 45.47 | 24.48 | 19.25 | 16.13 |
| 300 | 54.28 | 29.08 | 22.81 | 19.06 |

Payments are calculated at Household's rate of 3% per month on the first $100 of balances, 2% per month on balances above $100 to $200, and 1% per month on balances above $200 to $300, which is less than the lawful maximum rate on all loans above $100.

Our Guarantee.

We guarantee the total amount figured by using this table to be the full amount you will pay where payments are made on schedule. You will pay less if you pay ahead of schedule.

Low Building going up to pay taxes
State and Randolph Streets
Keep two floors for taxpaying building
115-117 No. Wells St.
Parking Lot Planned
620-634 So. Sherman Ave.
